MOTHERS REGAIN HEALTH

the New Blood Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Actually Make.

Other should allow nervous weakness the upper hand of her. If she dries up, her work in the body and mind, day spent amid the same surges is enough to cause fretfulness and depression. But there are other ways every mother knows, that tend her nerves run down. A change of diet, a rest, a change of scene, a change of her blood so as to give her a better tone. But rest and a change of scene are often impossible, and it is at all times when women should resort to treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which make new blood, rich elements on which the nerves depend. In this way these pills restore health, increased energy, new vitality, steady nerve. There is a story of a woman who, after five years of nervous prostration, went home to her mother, telling her how miserable she felt, and that Dr. Williams' medicine had not done her. Her mother asked her why she did not take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and as she had not, she bought a box and took it. By the time she had used it, she felt better than she had for years. She had gained her appetite, health and spirits, and she had no doubt that she was helping her mother. She had used three boxes, and she had no doubt that she was helping her mother. She had used three boxes, and she had no doubt that she was helping her mother. She had used three boxes, and she had no doubt that she was helping her mother.

REJOICE

VICTORY IS OURS!

Saturday next, July 19th, is the day set apart by His Majesty King George for all British subjects to celebrate the signing of the Peace terms. The day should be made one long to be remembered by all, especially by the younger generation. Let every building in town be decorated and the day spent in joyous thankfulness, and thus show that we appreciate the blessings of peace and the great sacrifices our young men have made to save us from the terrible Hun, who would certainly have despoiled our homes, devastated the British Isles and probably our own beautiful and prosperous Canada, but for the bravery and heroic sacrifices of our citizen soldiers. We certainly have much to be thankful for and should not neglect to show it. Hang out every flag you can get. Let all rejoice.

IS THE "End of the World" near? This question has perplexed men's minds considerably during the past few years. Does Prophecy indicate that the end of all things is at hand or not? What do the Scriptures say? This question will be discussed in the Congregational Church, Watford, on Sunday evening, by the pastor, the Rev. T. DeCourcy Rayner, in his series of messages on "Prophecy and the Present World Crisis." You are invited to hear this. Bring your Bible with you. The morning topic will be "The Heart of the Heart. No. 4: The Silver Lining."

BIG SHIPMENT of China just received this week. Our order was placed nearly two years ago. This means a big saving for you, as the goods can not be bought today. If you want a new set of China at the old prices come in at once and see them. They will not last long.—P. DODDS & SON.

In a small village in Ireland the mother of a soldier met the village priest, who asked her if she had had bad news. "Sure, I have," she said. "Pat has been killed." "Oh, I am very sorry," said the priest. "Did you receive word from the War Office?" "No," she said. "I received word from Pat himself." The priest looked perplexed, and said, "But how is that?" "Sure," she said, "here is the letter, read it for yourself." The letter said: "Dear Mother, I am now in the Holy Land."

THIS is the happy vacation time when fond mothers will have the uninterupted enjoyment of the society of their offspring for a couple of months in that merry little people will be a source of great comfort. Sliding down the banisters, falling in the cistern, chasing the neighbor's chickens, and coming home from the swimming hole with mud in their cars and holes in their clothes are juvenile recreations, which all well regulated parents recognize and duly appreciate. Yet there are some cruel enough to wish school was in session all the year around.

SERGEANT W. D. LAMB, a Watford war veteran, returned from overseas last week on the Olympic arriving in Watford Saturday afternoon. He enlisted in the 71st Battalion in September, 1915, and the organization of Lambton's 149 was transferred to the signal section and was made Sergt. of it. After the battalion left Watford Sergt. Lamb was transferred to the divisional Signal Company, Ottawa, and became a proficient in that branch. He was twenty-five months in France and Belgium and went into Germany with the army of occupation for a short period, but illness from "flu" caused him to be sent to the hospital for a time.

A YOUNG MAN giving his name as Wm. N. Malone and his wife, who have been in town for about a week, were arraigned before Wm. McLeay, J. P., on Tuesday, charged with vagrancy and having no visible means of support. The man was also charged with attempting to steal Dr. Sawers' auto. He took the car out of the garage near midnight Monday night, but was having trouble in getting it started when he was noticed and the chief informed. When he saw the police posse approach he decamped but was soon run down. The magistrate fined the couple $5 and costs, payable forthwith or ten days in jail. Not having the wherewith to pay, they were taken to Sarnia Tuesday evening by Chief Elliot. They claimed to belong to Sarnia. They had a young baby with them.

A DOMINION-WIDE campaign against the mail-order houses of Toronto and Montreal is now receiving the attention of wholesale and retail merchants and manufacturers and may be officially launched at a convention being promoted for Ottawa in July or August. The idea is for manufacturers and jobbers to put a line of goods on the market that will enable the mail-order octopus and at the same time give sterling values. The big association will keep up an elaborate advertising campaign until the buyers are thoroughly educated on the subject and learn that they are not only getting better goods at lower prices but building up their own town and increasing the value of their town properties and farms.

BRITISH AIRSHIP MAKES SECOND ATLANTIC CROSSING

Pullman, Norfolk, England, July 13.—Great Britain's mammoth trans-Atlantic air pioneer, the dirigible R-34, arrived at the air station here at 6:56 o'clock, Greenwich time, to-day, equipping her round trip from the British Isles and return. The return trip was made in 75 hours. Major Scott, her commander, told the story of the flight as follows:—

"We estimated we would make it in from 70 to 80 hours," he said. "We made it in 75. When we left we had a strong wind behind us and we covered the first 800 miles in about 8 hours. When we circled over New York we could plainly see the crowds on Broadway waving to us as we passed, but we could not hear them because of the noise of the engines."

"South of Newfoundland we encountered head winds and our progress from then on was steady. We travelled at an average height of from 3,000 to 5,000 feet and found much low clouds and fog. Once we saw nothing but fog for 24 hours."

"We struck Ireland at Clifden and made good progress from there, although our steering engine broke on Saturday morning. We started with 4,900 gallons of gasoline and had 1,000 left."

"We are naturally pleased with the trip, all of us, expect important changes in the size and speed of future airships, big ships that will travel 70 to 80 miles an hour and powerful enough to crawl through anything."

BASEBALL

Watford 7—Petrolia 6

The local boys redeemed themselves Wednesday evening in a snappy game with Petrolia. Each team held the other down well until the sixth inning when the score stood 2-0. In the seventh inning Watford brought the score up to the tie. The visitors at this stage of the game started in with a few flourishes to tack on more runs, and managed to squeeze in four in quick succession. Facing a defeat of 6-2 the locals came back strong. Petrolia went a little wild and everything was favorable for raising the score up to 7-6.
