Local Happenings

Mr. T. B. Taylor is recovering from a recent illness. His health is improving and he is expected to return to his duties in the near future.

Christmas Tree under the auspices of St. Andrew's United church in the Lyceum Theatre on Saturday evening, December 23rd. The tree was decorated with lights and tinsel and the church choir sang carols.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Taylor and family spent the holiday with relatives in Watford.

Cards and dancing in the Army and Air Force club on Friday evening, November 13th. The evening was enjoyed by all present.

Ray Morningstar has sold his farm at Wick Village garage and service station to James Brush, who is now in possession.

Special cut in prices of hats at Miss Minelly's, Friday and Saturday, Nov. 13th and 14th, at and below cost.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Dunham and family, and Mrs. C. E. Purdy and daughter, Betty, of Toronto, spent Thanksgiving with Mrs. Tye.

Mr. and Mrs. Wes. Willoughby and daughters, Dorothy and Alma, spent Thanksgiving with Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Willoughby, Port Huron.

Word received on Monday from our local deer hunters indicate their usual good luck in the Northern wilds. Ray Morningstar downed two the first day and Ben Cowan one.

And now for municipal nominations, two weeks from Monday (November 30th). The political pot is already simmering. Perhaps it will boil over this year, after so many acclamations in recent years.

Municipal nominations will be held in the Music Hall on Monday evening, Nov. 30th, to fill the offices of Reeve and four Councillors, three members of the Board of Education and one member of the Public Utilities Commission.

Miss Florence Lovell accompanied by her friend, Miss Mary Sibley, of Alma College, spent the holiday at her home here. Miss Sibley is a missionary's daughter, born in China, where her parents have been stationed for over twenty years.

An Organ Recital and Concert will be held in St. Andrew's church, on Wednesday, Nov. 25th. The artists will include the quartette from St. Andrew's church, London, including Mrs. Eric Graham, who prior to her marriage was soprano soloist with this organization. The program will be given in detail in next issue.

Marked progress is being made in the construction of J. W. McConkey's new store. The structure is assuming a pleasing appearance, and when completed will set apart as one of the finest buildings on the street. The bricklayers have been held up for a few days by wet weather, but are completing their work in record time.

As there is a small bevy of quail in our neighborhood this fall, would it be asking too much of our sportsmen to let them live? They are, of course, protected by law, but will know how little that will save them from the unscrupulous gunman. We should feed and protect them as best we can, as to see them and hear their calls next summer would be ample reward.

Complaints have been voiced on the street during the past week or so that the time clock regulating the street lights should be advanced, as at present the streets lights are turned on nearly a half hour after darkness. Upon inquiry, the Utilities Commission points out that the present condition is only temporary and is certainly not due to negligence. At present our daily peak load period is between five and six o'clock in the evening, due to the large number of electric ranges adding to the regular load at this hour. As the entire month's service must be paid on the basis of the highest demand for current at any one time during that month, the Commission has been endeavoring to keep down our power bills in this way until, in the course of a few weeks, our peak period will change to some other hour.

Cards and Dancing in the Army, next Friday evening, November 20th.

The Women's Guild and the ladies of Trinity church congregation spent a social afternoon in the basement of the church on Monday, Nov. 2nd, in honor of Mrs. E. D. Swift, who has moved to London. Mrs. W. J. Howden, president of the Guild, presided, and Rev. J. H. Hosford, M.A., B.D., gave a short and forceful address in which he traced the history of the Guild in Watford from its organization, when Mrs. Swift had been one of the first members. She had always been an active member ever since and had taken her full share of responsibility. The society would miss her, the church would miss her and each department would be the poorer for her absence. Mrs. McGillicuddy then read a congratulatory address which stressed the friendly disposition of Mrs. Swift, she emphasized her willingness to help with her talent in art and her skill in developing artistic possibilities everywhere. Mrs. T. A. Adams presented Mrs. Swift with a bouquet of yellow chrysanthemums and the refreshment committee closed the afternoon with the serving of tea.

Congregational Church Marks 86th Year

The 86th anniversary of Pilgrim church, formerly Congregational, was celebrated with special services on Sunday last, when, despite the stormy weather, there were good congregations at both morning and evening services. The pastor, Rev. T. DeCoursey Rayner, preached. In the morning his topic was "Our Saviour's Coronation," and taking as his text the words of Rev. 19:14, "And on his head were many crowns."

For the evening service, the congregations of St. Andrew's United church and Erie street United church withdrew their regular services, and the two pastors, Rev. H. V. Workman of St. Andrew's, and Rev. S. J. Thompson of Erie street church, assisted in the anniversary service, the church being crowded to capacity.

Rev. T. DeCoursey Rayner delivered a very interesting and inspiring sermon on "The Angel of the Covenant," taking as his text the words of Heb. 13:8, "Jesus Christ is the same yesterday and today, yea and for ever."

Special music was rendered by an augmented choir at both services, with Miss Estelle Craig at the piano. W. G. Connolly, reeve of the village, was the soloist at the evening service, rendering two selections in excellent voice: "Let Us Have Peace," by Ernest Hall, and "The Prayer Perfect," by Ervine Stenson.

COMMUNITY SERVICE IN LYCEUM

Thanksgiving is Observed With Appropriate Addresses and Music

The fifth annual community Thanksgiving and Armistice day service was held in the Lyceum theatre on Monday morning, under the joint auspices of the municipal council, and the churches of the village. There was a good attendance. Reeve W. G. Connolly presided. Prayers were offered by Rev. H. V. Workman of St. Andrew's United church, and Rev. J. H. Hosford, M.A., B.D., rector of Trinity church. The Thanksgiving Psalms were read by Rev. F. J. Rutherford of Brooke United church circuit, and B. Wilson of Gospel Tabernacle, and the Scripture lesson was read by Rev. T. DeCoursey Rayner, of Pilgrim church.

The address was delivered by Rev. S. J. Thompson, pastor of Erie street United church, who paid an eloquent tribute to those who made the supreme sacrifice in the great war. He rang out a clarion call to a deeper thankfulness to Almighty God for His many blessings. Rev. S. Quinn gave the benediction, and Rev. Rayner was pianist. An offering was taken, which will be handed to the Watford Horticultural Society for the maintenance of the memorial flower bed in Federal Square.

Autumnal Weddings

Taylor-Stanford

A pretty wedding took place Thursday afternoon, October 29th, at the Gospel Tabernacle, Brantford, when Eva Madeline, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Stanford, and James Kitchener Taylor, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Swift, of Watford, were united in the bonds of holy matrimony by Rev. E. G. Doner. The church was prettily decorated with mums and aspidistras. The bride was daintily gowned in honeydew crepe, with Gloria Swanson hat and wore a corsage bouquet of sunset roses. Miss Isabelle Jarvis sang very sweetly "O Perfect Love," with Mrs. C. Gardner presiding at the organ. Immediately after the signing of the register the bride and groom returned to the altar where the host of friends who waited throughout gathered to extend congratulations and bestow affectionate farewells. At 3.30 a taxi whisked them away to the C.N.R. station where confetti poured like rain, thence on to the home of the bridegroom's mother at Watford, for a brief honeymoon, before they go to Walkerville to reside. The great variety of beautiful gifts received testify to the high esteem in which they are held by a host of friends.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. S. of Knox church, Warwick, held their Thanksgiving service in the church on Friday evening, Nov. 6th, 1925. There was a good attendance. Mrs. Aiken presided and after the usual opening exercises a good program was provided. Miss Wade of London gave a sketch of missionary work in foreign lands and how people at home could help by service at home, earnest prayer and money.

The Rev. Jennings of Warwick gave a splendid talk on missionary work, its foundation and principles of it and emphasized how necessary it was and why every body should be so interested in it. Mrs. Wills sang two solos and four little girls gave a chorus. The Thankoffering was $69.00. The ladies served refreshments and a social hour was spent.

The Rev. A. E. Hannanson, minister without charge, has accepted a hearty call to Arkona Knox church, Warwick, and West Adelaide Presbyterian church. The call was approved by Sarnia Presbytery last week, and arrangements made for the induction of Rev. Mr. Hannanson into the new charge, which will take place this Friday afternoon, Nov. 13th, at Knox church, Warwick, at 2.30 o'clock. The moderator, the Rev. J. J. Monds, Petrolia, presiding, and induct; the Rev. J. R. Hemphill of Strathroy, will preach the sermon; the Rev. A. J. Sinclair of Alvinston, will give the charge to the congregation, and the Rev. Dr. J. J. Patterson, dean of Lambton Presbytery, Sarnia, will give the charge to the minister. The call was signed by 151 communicants and adherents.
