THE WORST METHOD.

The Prohibitionist Witness, one of our most clear headed contemporaries, in commenting on the liquor question says:—

"Among Temperance reformers of the very highest standing and of the widest view, the conviction is that the worst way of dealing with the liquor traffic is letting it altogether alone. Prohibit as far as you can; move on steadily toward the goal of total and absolute prohibition."

The Witness also quotes with approval the following:—

"We believe then, first of all, in absolute prohibition; and when and where it is not practicable, owing to the state of public sentiment, we believe in a restriction of the traffic, which we regard as the 'high license' system combined with 'local option.' If we cannot get the two together, let us get one of them, then we believe in taking that. If we can get neither, then we believe in taking anything that is at all remedial as against the liquor traffic; rather than leave the traffic without any restraint, in an unwholesome and unprofitable condition, to the detriment of the community."

This is our wisdom as the best way of dealing with the liquor question, so far as legal measures are concerned. All of these measures are intended to be remedial. They differ in degree, but not in kind or purpose. It is not true that any license system fosters or promotes the liquor traffic, or increases the drinking habit of the people. Just the reverse is true, and is designed to be true. Prohibition is a better remedy than the best license system when and where it can be applied; but when and where it cannot be applied it is no remedy at all. Any system that does anything else, even though it be partially restrictive, does not seem to us to be good practical wisdom."

This is sound, common sense, and meets our own opinion on this important subject exactly. If we can obtain prohibition, pure and simple, or to any appreciable extent by all means let us have it; but we have not got it in this county except in name, that is certain. Why, it is not difficult to understand, first, public sentiment does not appear to be educated sufficiently, secondly, while there is a demand, somebody will take the risk of the supply, the profits of the liquor business being ample to compensate for two or three fines, and as fast as dealers are driven from the business others take their place; thirdly, there appears to be a serious difficulty in properly enforcing the law. In Bridgetown liquor has been sold during the past winter in as fully, if not more, unrestricted manner than for years, and at the present time. Even young lads not sixteen years of age have been seen intoxicated, and the most confirmed drunkards evidently have no difficulty in obtaining unlimited supplies. Liquor has also been carried through the streets, with scarcely an attempt at concealment. The question therefore, is, if it would not be better to try what the effect of a heavy direct tax on liquor sellers in the shape of a high license, hedged by proper conditions, would be, than to persist in all sorts of tax-payers would have something to offset the annual charges on the County incurred through expenses caused by the traffic.

—In another column may be found a notice of the Teachers' Association. Judging from the annual reports which we have received for publication since the inception of this convention in the county, united and continuous effort for the promotion of the teaching profession, have been among the chief characteristics of the more advanced grades of teachers, and many of the lower have attended the annual meetings of this Association, and participated in the mutual benefits arising from reading of papers, illustrative lessons, and the practical discussion of subjects relative to the teachers' requirements.

While very many have availed themselves of the opportunity have been given, a few have stood aloof,—the older ones, still clinging tenaciously to the old beaten track, asserting, practically, that improvement in method is unnecessary, and that a stereotyped system would suffice; the younger prefer to experiment on the immortal mind rather than make a little sacrifice for improvement.

Teachers are aware that a "Course of Study" has been adopted by the Council of Public Instruction. From the Inspector's report for this district we find, except in a few of the schools, the lessons on nature are not receiving the attention which their importance demands, from the fact that many teachers are not qualified to give these lessons in a satisfactory manner.

We are of the opinion that that part of the course of study should be particularly emphasized at the ensuing Association; and, as illustrative lessons will be taught by experienced Normal trained teachers, we hope that all of those to whom reference is made in the report referred to will be prepared to receive such suggestions as will enable them to return to their respective schools, and, at least, make a commencement in this department of instruction.

School Examination.

The semi-annual examinations of the three departments of the Bridgetown School were held on Friday last. Although the day was somewhat unfavorable, there was quite a respectable number of visitors present to witness the interesting exercises.

The exercises connected with the preliminary department, under Miss Eaton's charge, were examined in the early part of the forenoon. Much satisfaction seemed to be felt by visitors at the appearance and progress of these juvenile classes. Miss Eaton has evidently been laboring very faithfully and successfully in instructing her pupils, and the rate-payers of the section have great reason to congratulate themselves in having been able to establish a third department so highly advantageous to the whole school, and requiring so little additional expenditure of money.

Miss Brown's classes were also examined during the forenoon. This department has made remarkable progress under the judicious management of its present preceptor. The reading exercises were more than ordinarily excellent; and the recitations were rendered in a manner which showed how carefully the children had been trained in the principles of elocution.

Much regret is felt at the fact that Miss B. has intimated her intention of discontinuing her labors as a teacher at the close of the present term. She will bear with her the good will and esteem not only of her pupils but also of the whole community.

The advanced department, under Mr. Brown's care, was examined in the afternoon. In the reading exercises, the pupils showed creditable proficiency, not only in correct pronunciation and modulation of the voice, but also in ability to enter into the spirit of the authors, whose productions they were reading, so as to awaken in the hearers those emotions which are designed to be aroused by the poet, the essayist, or the orator.

R. V. W. H. Watson conducted the examination of the two capital forces that are part of the programme of the Entertainment to be given in Victoria Hall, this evening by well-known amateurs. A pleasant evening will be enjoyed by all who attend.

—The State of Georgia was visited by another terrible cyclone on the 5th inst. The destruction to property was immense, and a number of persons were killed. People who are for a statement should emigrate to these lively regions.

Notice EXTRAORDINARY.—For the next thirty days there will be music in the air, and J. E. Sangster is determined to help make it as gaily as possible accordingly. Everything in his line is marked down 20 per cent. so as to meet the hard times. Now is your time to buy, if you have any.

—Our thanks are due Messrs Jas. E. DeWolfe & Co., of Kentville, N. S., for a package of the fine garden seeds sold by them. Any of our friends who desire seeds would do well to communicate with this firm. They pay special attention to the business and use every endeavor to have their seeds fresh and true to name. Write for a catalogue.

PERSONAL.—Mr. H. Rugglesson of T. D. Ruggles Esq. Q. C. of this town, who has been for some years in the law office of the late Mr. Rugglesson, returned home last week to resume his studies in his father's office.

—The Bridgetown Cricket Club was organized on Thursday last week and of the following:—

Pres. Walter Chipman; Vice President John Clarke; Treas. Rich. Shipley; Sec. Arch. Troop.

Meeting adjourned until next Friday evening at 7.30 p.m. when a larger attendance is expected.

—A young man, named Boylan, a resident of Kentville, N. S., committed suicide by shooting himself just so to mark the paper, that it could be identified, in which case the ballot should be rejected. But if the mark made indicates no design of coupling with the law, but on the contrary a clear intent not to mark with a cross as the law directs, as for instance by making a straight line or circle, then such non-compliance with the law renders the ballot null.

—The Daniel Steinmann disaster, while no doubt in a great measure due to the bad judgment of the Captain, still reflects in a most serious manner upon the Marine and Fisheries Department of the Dominion, in the neglect to provide proper life saving apparatus on Samba Island. Evidence of the residents clearly shows that had there been such appliances, the vessel could have been warned away in time to avert the terrible tragedy. The captain of the steamer states that he could not hear the fog whistle. If this be the case it is time we went on the island that would be effective.

Local and Other Matter.

—The Annapolis County Temperance League will hold its next meeting in Bridgetown, on Wednesday, April 30th. A full attendance is requested.

—Services will be held in the Presbyterian Church, next Sunday at 11 a.m. and 3 p.m.

—Small quantities of fresh fish are coming in from the Bay shore. Herring and codfish were in the market yesterday.

—A brief memoir of the late Hon. James William Johnston, First Judge in Equity in Nova Scotia, by W. A. Calnek, is shortly to be issued. See list.

—About two thousand persons were married by license in New Brunswick last year, and the fees received by the Government amounted to over six thousand dollars.

—The Liverpool Advance says: A child has been born in a family by the name of O'Leary, in the upper part of the town, without eyes, having only stumps to mark the places where the eyes should be.

—J. E. Locke, Licentiate, has commenced his labors with the Lower Granville Baptist Church. He is a young man of great promise, lately a student at Acadia College, Wolfville.

PROPERTY CHANGES.—Mr. J. A. Marshall of this town has sold his farm to Mr. Wainford Dodge, also of this town. Mr. Marshall intends removing to the States.

—The present month thus far has been signalized by very wet and overcast weather. Rain, however, during the past week, has been quite warm, and the grass is coming forward rapidly.

—The Local Government has placed on the estimates for the ensuing year $300 for the Ferry service between Greenwich and Annapolis.

—We have received a catalogue of Mr. James H. Aitken's florist and seedsmen, of the Willow Park Nursery, Halifax. He offers a large and excellent collection of seeds and plants for sale. See his ad. in another column.

—The attention of the ladies is called to the excellent assortment of Basket and Dagwood articles for Summer Sacques now open for inspection at the Blue Store.

—Dead Shot and "Sarah's Young Man" are the titles of the two capital forces that are part of the programme of the Entertainment to be given in Victoria Hall, this evening by well-known amateurs. A pleasant evening will be enjoyed by all who attend.

—We are not going to buy our eggs from J. W. Beckwith just now, he pays much for them, and of course sells them accordingly. Up to the time of going to press he is paying 18 cents. Too much for hen fruit.

—The State of Georgia was visited by another terrible cyclone on the 5th inst. The destruction to property was immense, and a number of persons were killed. People who are for a statement should emigrate to these lively regions.

Notice EXTRAORDINARY.—For the next thirty days there will be music in the air, and J. E. Sangster is determined to help make it as gaily as possible accordingly. Everything in his line is marked down 20 per cent. so as to meet the hard times. Now is your time to buy, if you have any.

—The Daniel Steinmann disaster, while no doubt in a great measure due to the bad judgment of the Captain, still reflects in a most serious manner upon the Marine and Fisheries Department of the Dominion, in the neglect to provide proper life saving apparatus on Samba Island. Evidence of the residents clearly shows that had there been such appliances, the vessel could have been warned away in time to avert the terrible tragedy. The captain of the steamer states that he could not hear the fog whistle. If this be the case it is time we went on the island that would be effective.
