

Only Medicine That Did Any Good

After Suffering Torments For Years, This Lady Found Happy Relief in "Fruit-a-tives".

Frankville, Ont., June 17th, 1908. "I have received most wonderful benefit from taking 'Fruit-a-tives.' I suffered for years from headaches and pain in the back, and I consulted doctors and took every remedy obtainable without any relief. Then I began taking 'Fruit-a-tives' and this was the only medicine that ever did me any real good. I took several boxes altogether, and now I am entirely well of all my dreadful headaches and backaches.

MRS. FRANK EATON

I take "Fruit-a-tives" occasionally still, but I am quite cured of a trouble that was said to be incurable. I give this testimony voluntarily, in order that others who suffer as I suffered may try this wonderful medicine and be cured."

(Signed) MRS. FRANK EATON. "Fruit-a-tives" are sold by all dealers at 50c a box, 6 for $2.50 or trial box, 25c or sent post-paid on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

HYPNOTIZED GIRL

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Nov. 20.—Because several girls at Vassar College put one of their number under the influence of hypnotism and were unable to awaken her, the president of the college has forbidden any more practices of hypnotics at this famous girls' school.

Several of the vassar students who have manifested great interest in Eclecty, agreed to test the strength of their wills, as pitted against the mind of another young woman.

Gathered in a room, half a dozen of girls decided that the next person who entered the room should be their subject. Presently a girl entered. She was told to seat herself in a chair in the centre of the room, and the battery of metal power was turned upon her. The subject soon began to act queerly. Several of the girls in turn directed the subject to sing different songs and perform other queer stunts.

After about an hour an effort was made to arouse her, but this failed, despite continued attempts. Instead, the girl kept on singing, and finally the pupils called in a member of the faculty. It was then found that as all the girls had helped to place her in a trance all of them would be compelled to release her at one time, and the girls, acting in unison, succeeded in bringing their subject to her senses.

In the meantime the young woman exhibited symptoms of hysteria, and for a time one of the dormitories was alive with excitement.

A severe snowstorm swept Upper Canada last week delaying one of the C. P. R. trains five hours.

FRILLS FOR THE FAIR.

Bronze Ties No Longer Fashionable. Lace Yoke Adjustment. Bronze ties have evidently had their day, so those contemplating buying late summer footwear must select some other kind of leather. High boots in bronze are still considered fashionable, but their high price makes them prohibitive except to wealthy purchasers. Bronze slippers for evening wear are correct. Suede low shoes are always in good taste, and cravenette ties with kid vamps are natty looking. And there is a black suede tie with red heels that is smart worn with certain frocks. The lace yoke in an unlined waist often works up and does not lie smooth, no matter how neatly it has been fitted. To obviate this sew a tab to the lower edge of the yoke, back and front, and pin down to the corset cover with a tiny safety pin. The yoke skirt is the latest style for young girls as well as grownups. The skirt illustrated is simple and youthful in its lines and is adapted to a great many different materials. The plain, unbroken panels at front and back give long and becoming lines, while the yoke at the sides, with the plaited portion below, are arranged to give just the required hip arrangement.

FADS FOR THE FALL.

Draped Overskirts to Figures Prominently in Fall Fashions. Draped overskirts and festooned sashes are to be modish this fall. For evening wear draped skirts are almost exclusively shown, but for general use the fashion is not so adaptable. Scarfs and ribbon sashes are added to lingerie frocks to give the desired new effect. Sometimes a sash is brought around the waist to the front and then taken back, suggestive of panniers, and knotted at the left side or in the back. Only a tall, slender girl could stand such a decoration, and an artistic arrangement is necessary to success even when the figure is slender. Shawl drapery is in vogue, and a wonderful white embroidered crape shawl was used recently as a draped tunic over a white messaline princess gown. Bands of gold net embroidered in black and gold trimmed the gown on the low decollete, on the small puffed sleeves and formed a loose moyen age girdle which hung outside of the shawl tunic. This girl's coat, which gives a suggestion of the Norfolk idea, is one of the latest and smartest of the fall styles. The coat in the cut is of serge, with a collar of satin. It is a good model for a separate coat or for use with a skirt of the serge.

Minard's Liniment Co., Ltd. Gentlemen.—Last winter I received great benefit from the use of MINARD'S LINIMENT in a severe attack of LaGrippe, and I have frequently proved it to be very effective in cases of inflammation.

The troublesome question between the United States and Canada regarding lake and river boundaries fishing are amicably settled, and the covenant of peace is signed. This will tend to the advantage of both sides. Heretofore the Americans often made raids on the fish on the Canadian side, and the Canadians took their turn at raiding American coves and creeks. Henceforth both are to be careful to keep within their own limits.

elbow to wrist. The neck finish is a round Dutch collar of white lawn and a little lace.

School days are almost here, and appropriate dresses are sure to be needed. The dress pictured is smart, yet simple, and can be made from many materials. Blue cashmere with bands of blue and white silk and yoke of lace makes the gown illustrated, but of course it would not do for school wear. Checked materials and plaids are good fabrics for these costumes.

MODISH MATTERS.

New and Attractive Ways of Using Coronation Braid.

For quick effects few kinds of handiwork equal embroidery with coronation braid. It is simple in method, the materials are inexpensive, and there is no intricate stitching. While coronation braid has been in favor for several seasons, it holds its own with surprising tenacity. There are several new kinds of this braid, and in buying

It is well to tell what kind of material it is to be used upon.

In choosing a coronation braid design for a blouse get a floral effect and one that is stamped for connecting lines of eyelet work, such as is used in madra embroidery.

The frock seen in the cut is made of cashmere with trimmings of silk bands and soutache. This material is serviceable, but serge and checked effects are attractive. There are various ways of altering the trimming scheme, and the sleeves can be both short or long.
