and Love as gathered from the Epistle to the Philippians," and presents many useful hints for sermons.

(1) The Sunday at Home, (2) The Leisure Hour, (3) Boy's Own and Girl's Own Paper, etc. London: Religious Trac: Society.

"Sunrise in Japan," by Katharine Tristram; "Mashonaland," as described by the Bishop (Dr. Gaul); nd the "Death of Bede," are among the attractions in the Sunday at Home; and "A Glimpse of American Schools," "Notes on the Zoo," "The New South Africa," characterize the Leisure Hour, interspersed with stories and lighter literature, well and tastefully illustrated.

(1) Germania, (2) L'Etudiant. These are excellently arranged periodicals for instruction in German on the one hand, and French on the other. A study of these periodicals each month will repay anyone who wishes to keep apace with the times in his German and French.

The Missionary Review of the World. New York: Funk & Wagnalls Company. $2.50 a year.

Up-to-date, readable, undenominational, such is the style of this monthly visitor. "The War in Madagascar," "The Suffering Armenians," "Recent Progress in Central Africa," and many other articles, make up the June number.
