170,30

black employees Annual cost employees Annual company least the series of the company benefitting to company Canada, we are unable to calculate the total cost or the cost by racial groups.) Transportation: Do black employees live at some distance for the workplace? Indicate transport arrangements provided by company to alleviate difficulties facing those employees who obliged to commute daily some distance to the workplace and include any transport arrangements intended, for example, the shale Black employees and their families in remote areas to obtain medical services, attend school and to be reunited frequently and regularly. A transportation assistance programme is available to all locally-engaged staff. It covers the excess transportation expenses for Embassy employees living in remote areas over above the cost of a monthly bus pass from Pretoria's white suburbs. Other benefits provided to black employees, e.g., assistance the education of their families; providing advice and assist on legal and other problems these employees may encounter withe authorities over their movement from one place to anothe their choice of residence and their employment; leisure facilities. Please describe. An education assistance programme does exist. (See attached page 14a).	ence from led by the seand ole, to reas to ited
(As these are global plans administered from Canada, we are unable to calculate the total cost or the cost by racial groups.) Transportation: Do black employees live at some distance for the workplace? Indicate transport arrangements provided by company to alleviate difficulties facing those employees who obliged to commute daily some distance to the workplace and include any transport arrangements intended, for example, to enable Black employees and their families in remote areas to obtain medical services, attend school and to be reunited frequently and regularly. A transportation assistance programme is available to all locally-engaged staff. It covers the excess transportation expenses for Embassy employees living in remote areas over above the cost of a monthly bus pass from Pretoria's white suburbs. Other henefits provided to black employees, e.g., assistance the education of their families; providing advice and assist on legal and other problems these employees may encounter with authorities over their movement from one place to anothe their choice of residence and their employment; leisure facilities. Flease describe. An education assistance programme does exist. (See attached page 14a).	ence from led by the seand ole, to reas to ited
Canada, we are unable to calculate the total cost or the cost by racial groups.) Transportation: Do black employees live at some distance for the workplace? Indicate transport arrangements provided by company to alleviate difficulties facing those employees who obliged to commute daily some distance to the workplace and include any transport arrangements intended, for example, to enable Black employees and their families in remote areas to obtain medical services, attend school and to be reunited frequently and regularly. A transportation assistance programme is available to all locally-engaged staff. It covers the excess transportation expenses for Embassy employees living in remote areas over above the cost of a monthly bus pass from Pretoria's white suburbs. Other benefits provided to black employees, e.g., assistance the education of their families; providing advice and assist on legal and other problems these employees may encounter withe authorities over their movement from one place to another their choice of residence and their employment; leisure facilities. Flease describe. An education assistance programme does exist. (See attached page 14a).	nce from led by the ses who are and ole, to reas to ited
Canada, we are unable to calculate the total cost or the cost by racial groups.) Transportation: Do black employees live at some distance fithe workplace? Indicate transport arrangements provided by company to alleviate difficulties facing those employees which obliged to commute daily some distance to the workplace and include any transport arrangements intended, for example, to enable Black employees and their families in remote areas to obtain medical services, attend school and to be reunited frequently and regularly. A transportation assistance programme is available to all locally-engaged staff. It covers the excess transportation expenses for Embassy employees living in remote areas over above the cost of a monthly bus pass from Pretoria's white suburbs. Other benefits provided to black employees, e.g., assistance the education of their families; providing advice and assist on legal and other problems these employees may encounter with the authorities over their movement from one place to another their choice of residence and their employment; leisure facilities. Please describe. An education assistance programme does exist. (See attached page 14a).	ded by the ses who are and ole, to reas to ited
Canada, we are unable to calculate the total cost or the cost by racial groups.) Transportation: Do black employees live at some distance fithe workplace? Indicate transport arrangements provided by company to alleviate difficulties facing those employees which obliged to commute daily some distance to the workplace and include any transport arrangements intended, for example, to enable Black employees and their families in remote areas to obtain medical services, attend school and to be reunited frequently and regularly. A transportation assistance programme is available to all locally-engaged staff. It covers the excess transportation expenses for Embassy employees living in remote areas over above the cost of a monthly bus pass from Pretoria's white suburbs. Other benefits provided to black employees, e.g., assistance the education of their families; providing advice and assist on legal and other problems these employees may encounter with the authorities over their movement from one place to another their choice of residence and their employment; leisure facilities. Please describe. An education assistance programme does exist. (See attached page 14a).	ded by the ses who are and ole, to reas to ited
Transportation: Do black employees live at some distance for the workplace? Indicate transport arrangements provided by company to alleviate difficulties facing those employees who obliged to commute daily some distance to the workplace and include any transport arrangements intended, for example, to enable Black employees and their families in remote areas to obtain medical services, attend school and to be reunited frequently and regularly. A transportation assistance programme is available to all locally-engaged staff. It covers the excess transportation expenses for Embassy employees living in remote areas over above the cost of a monthly bus pass from Pretoria's white suburbs. Other benefits provided to black, employees, e.g., assistance the education of their families; providing advice and assist on legal and other problems these employees may encounter with authorities over their movement from one place to another their choice of residence and their employment; leisure facilities. Please describe. An education assistance programme does exist. (See attached page 14a).	ded by the ses who are and ole, to reas to ited
the workplace? Indicate transport arrangements provided by company to alleviate difficulties facing those employees who obliged to commute daily some distance to the workplace and include any transport arrangements intended, for example, to enable Black employees and their families in remote areas to chtain medical services, attend school and to be reunited frequently and regularly. A transportation assistance programme is available to all locally-engaged staff. It covers the excess transportation expenses for Embassy employees living in remote areas over above the cost of a monthly bus pass from Pretoria's white suburbs. Other benefits provided to black, employees, e.g., assistance the education of their families; providing advice and assist on legal and other problems these employees may encounter withe authorities over their movement from one place to another their choice of residence and their employment; leisure facilities. Please describe. An education assistance programme does exist. (See attached page 14a).	ded by the ses who are and ole, to reas to ited locally-engaged staff. It covers the excess transportation expenses for Embassy employees living in remote areas over above the cost of a monthly bus pass from Pretoria's white suburbs. Other benefits provided to black, employees, e.g., assistance the education of their families; providing advice and assist on legal and other problems these employees may encounter withe authorities over their movement from one place to another their choice of residence and their employment; leisure facilities. Please describe. An education assistance programme does exist. (See attached page 14a).	rtation s over an expenses for Embassy employees living in remote areas over above the cost of a monthly bus pass from Pretoria's white suburbs. Other benefits provided to black employees, e.g., assistance the education of their families; providing advice and assist on legal and other problems these employees may encounter withe authorities over their movement from one place to another their choice of residence and their employment; leisure facilities. Please describe. An education assistance programme does exist. (See attached page 14a).	s over an above the cost of a monthly bus pass from Pretoria's white suburbs. Other benefits provided to black employees, e.g., assistance the education of their families; providing advice and assist on legal and other problems these employees may encounter withe authorities over their movement from one place to another their choice of residence and their employment; leisure facilities. Please describe. An education assistance programme does exist. (See attached page 14a).
Other benefits provided to black employees, e.g., assistance the education of their families; providing advice and assist on legal and other problems these employees may encounter withe authorities over their movement from one place to another their choice of residence and their employment; leisure facilities. Please describe. An education assistance programme does exist. (See attached page 14a).	white:
Other benefits provided to black employees, e.g., assistance the education of their families; providing advice and assist on legal and other problems these employees may encounter withe authorities over their movement from one place to another their choice of residence and their employment; leisure facilities. Please describe. An education assistance programme does exist. (See attached page 14a).
Other benefits provided to black employees, e.g., assistance the education of their families; providing advice and assist on legal and other problems these employees may encounter withe authorities over their movement from one place to another their choice of residence and their employment; leisure facilities. Please describe. An education assistance programme does exist. (See attached page 14a).
Other benefits provided to black employees, e.g., assistance the education of their families; providing advice and assist on legal and other problems these employees may encounter withe authorities over their movement from one place to another their choice of residence and their employment; leisure facilities. Please describe. An education assistance programme does exist. (See attached page 14a).
(See attached page 14a).	assistance with another,