

MESSAGE FROM THE COMMISSIONER GENERAL OF THE CANADA PAVILION

*Commissioner General of the Canada Pavilion
Luc Lavoie*

It is with pride and enthusiasm that I undertake my duties as Commissioner General of the Canada Pavilion at Expo '92. I also have a sense of humility in connection with this project, considering so much work has already been accomplished. One marvels at the creativity of architect Bing Thom and is dazzled by the avant-garde technology and images created in IMAX format by the National Film Board of Canada. With the architecture and film as solid attractions for the Canada Pavilion, its success is guaranteed.

Guaranteed, because Expo '92 will be the focal point for the world in 1992, particularly for Europe at the dawn of the creation of the largest free market area in the world. The millions of individuals who will visit Expo '92 will discover a Canada which is modern and resolutely turned towards the future. It's now or never to demonstrate our capacities in advanced technologies and aerospace. We must reinforce our links with the European Community and show the whole world that our country, by its grandeur and cultural richness, is certainly a place well worth visiting.

In collaboration with the whole Canada Pavilion team, I dedicate my energies, heart and talent to the success of this project.

I know I can count on your support in making the Canadian participation at Expo '92 an undeniable success worthy of our commitment.

Luc Lavoie - Commissioner General of the Canada Pavilion

Canada at Expo '92 is published periodically by International Expositions Division (BKE), External Affairs and International Trade Canada (EAITC).

The project team preparing the Canada Pavilion for Expo '92 consists of personnel from EAITC and the Canadian Government's Expositions and Audio-Visual Services.

For further information, please contact International Expositions Division (BKE), External Affairs and International Trade Canada, 125 Sussex Drive, Ottawa K1A 0G2.

Luc Lavoie — Commissioner General of the Canada Pavilion

Daniel Marchand — Director, International Expositions Division

Natalie Lavigne — Communications Coordinator for the Canada Pavilion

CANADA - Tel.: (613) 993-5745
Fax: (613) 993-4604

SPAIN - Tel.: 011-34-5-446-1993
Fax: 011-34-5-446-2948