Conversion Not Easy. While senators were thus engaged in the first open discussion of the approaching battle in concress over the chief executive's desire for reversal of the Panama policy, the president was himself engaged with leaders of the house of representatives who are opposed to repudiating the declaration the party platform. He discussed aderwood and Representative Kit-hh of North Carolina, but so far as could be learned did not convert them to his view that the provision granting tolls to American vessels violates Hay-Pauncefote treaty and em thing wrong in electoral corruption "When I see the word 'scandal' in the headlines of a newspaper," continued Mr. Burnham, "I lay aside the paper and take a nap."

The people of Canada, the West they want it. I am going to sleep." Judge Doherty, minister of fustice thought Mr. Murnham was too pessimistic, but at the same time feared that the Deminion Election Act, by its very severit defeated its own purpose. It put in the same category innoce t acts with those which were inherently corrupt. Bribery, he submitted, should be prevented, and also personation, which was a growing evil in our large with those which was a growing evil in our large with those which were inherently corrupted in the past had not. The problem was full of difficulties and it was of other forms of corruption flourishments and the past had not. The problem was full of difficulties and it was of other forms of corruption flourishments and the past had not. The problem was full of difficulties and it was of other forms of corruption flourishments.

He did not favor cumpolsory voting, but thought it might be wise to require every voter to attend and register at the polling subdivision on election. He had nothing to say respect-ing Mr. Maclean's suggestion that by elections be brought on automatically as in the Province of Ontario. In con-clusion, he promised that the govern-ment would have a committee appointed along the lines suggested by Mr.

Mr. Boyce (West Algoma) questioned the sincerity of the member for Halifax and thought it was a case of Saian reproving sin for the Liberals to preach against electoral corrup-

Sir Wilfrid Laurier ventured to doubt if the Conservatives were in a position to cast the first stone. As for himself, he was ready to admit that his own party was not free from sin. Severely Defeats Justice.

This observation being greeted with ironical cheers and laughter from the government benches. Sir Wilfrid progovernment benches. tested that the subject in hand should be addressed in acandid and non-par-tisan way. He was inclined to think with Judge Doherty that the Elections Act was unduly severe in some respects. A young friend of his returned Peterboro member observed, were sick and tired of scandal talk. They were in the position of the man awakened by his wife for the fiftieth time with damnable practices had been resorted to the successful candidate prevented the news that burglars were in the all investigation and punishment by house. The man, according to Mr. simply resigning his seat. He opposed Mr. Maclean's suggestion that election day be made a public holiday as tending to promote public disorder.

Trials a Farce. Mr. Borden, in adjourning the de-bate, said the committee might ac-complish something, altho similar commight be said in favor of making all conveyance of voters to the polis. The great need for reform, in his opinion, would be in the trial of election cases would be in the trial of election cases and he was inclined to agree with Sir Wilfrid Laurier that election protests and election trials, had become little better than a farce. They were too expensive and the delays were intolerable. Sawing-off election protests was a great evil which the appointment of a great evil, which the appointment of a public prosecutor might largely do away with. The house could rest as-sured that before the next ejection the government would endeavor to improve he Elections Act and provide cheaper and more summary procedure in controverted election cases.

Beaches League Standing.

The Beaches League is rapidly getting lown to their finals. Tuesday night, by he unexpected defeat of the Don Rowing Club by Aura, Lee, the senior champion ship went to the Kew Beach Club. In the western intermediate series, Maitlands and Broadviews are tied for the honors, while in the eastern section Yorks and Eastern Stars are tied. Cox Yorks and Eastern Stars are tied. Cox-wells have two more games, one with each of them, however, and if they win both they will the up this group also. Riverdales and Broadviews are the only juniors to have a clear lead in any group, three teams being tied in one group for the honors, while in the other the next game will either decide it or tie it up dgain. The juveniles are still batching away and a win one way or the other may shift things around a lot. The standings:

conductive to the appearance of de-mons, who would certainly bring dis-aster to the honorable sword. The particular treatment of the steel used for the manufacture of Asiatic swords had not a little to do with the reputation for the latter, for the damascening or "watering" of choice Per-sian and Indian arms gives a most attractive appearance to the work. Much the same thing was in evidence in the making of "Damascus" gun barrels.
until it was discovered that fluid steel was preferable for the latter, at least from the manufacturer's point of view. In the case of sword steel the "watered" effect is produced by a process of crystallization so that when the metal is forged out, a more or less re-
