

“It is something to be a missionary. The morning stars sang together, and all the sons of God shouted for joy, when they saw the field which the first missionary was to fill. The great and terrible God, before Whom angels veil their faces, had an only Son, and He was sent to the habitable parts of the earth as a missionary physician. It is something to be a follower, however feeble, in the wake of the Great Teacher and only model Missionary that ever appeared among men; and now that He is Head over all things, King of Kings and Lord of Lords, what commission is equal to that which the missionary holds from Him? May we venture to invite young men of education, when laying down the plan of their lives, to take a glance at that of missionary? We will magnify the office.”—David Livingstone.
