that the Boers had been sighted seven miles out. A squadron of the 18th Hussars, under command of Major Laming, rode out, and the advanced officers pairol, under Lieut. Cape, on reaching the brow of a hill beyond Hattingspruit Station, discovered a strong advance party of the Boers. The Hussars retired on the main body, which in the meantime had been well handled, by being moved under cover and made ready to open fire had the Boers continued their advance. The wily enemy were not to be drawn on. In fact, having met men who were their equals, if not their superiors, in swift tactical movements, they, after delivering their fire, hesitated, apparently staggered at their poor success with the rifle, and, perceiving that the Hussars had manoeuvred out of range, they turned quickly and retired. The faiting light alone prevented the Hussars from following up their advantage, and, the enemy falling to make a further advance, the Hussars returned to camp.

Boers Going Home.

It is understood that before to-day's battle several Boers had left their commandoes and gone home to their farms, and many others are now likely to follow.

The movement of the commandoes in the Utrecht district are somewhat mysterious. It is supposed that they have some idea of getting around between this place and Ladysmith. Retired to Old Position.

Many Boers are reported to be falling back on their old position. They are been raising a series of fortifications between Sandspruit and Bennhauser, their object being to contest the grand advance of the Imperial troops. Near Sandspruit tamp they have a laager, with several pieces of artillery, and another behind volksrust. There are guns at Mount Pogwani, overlooking Laing's Nek, and Ingog feights are fortified, and earthworks have been thrown up and guns left jat various places on the way south.

THERE WERE 6000 BOERS.

A Later Account of the British Tells How the Boers Were Put to Flight.

Advance of Infantry.

At half-past 7 Gen. Symons ordered a general advance of the Infantry brigade, which he himself accompanied.

The Dublin Fusiliers were well in tront, with the King's Royal Riffes upon the right and the Leciester Regiment on the left. These men advanced smartly, taking ad vantage of every bit of cover—tactics in which they had been exercised for weeks past.

Men Who Fought in India.

The London press regards this as a well-deserved compliment, the papers pointing out that not only have the reservists responded splendidly, but a large majority of those who have reported are medically fit for service. In several cases the outgoing regiments contain a preponderance of reserves, most of them in the prime of manhood, and men who have fought in India and in Egypt.

force of 6000 Boers, led by Commandant Gen. Joubert, has been defeated severely by a force under Gen. Symons, and the enemy at this moment are in full retreat. Nobody in the camp save Gen. Symons and his staff were aware that the Boers intended to attack this morning, and that he would get within three miles of this position before making his presence known to all concerned. It was known, however, that the enemy were advancing still further south and it was seen that unusual precautions had been taken to guard against a surprise during the night.

Opened Fire at Dawn.

"Just after dawn the Boer artillery opened fire from Glencoe Hill. The range was ill-judged and the quality of the ammunition bad. During two hours and a half scarcely a half dozen shells burst within our lines. Our gunners, on the contrary, made excellent practice, which soon began to tell upon the enemy.

At half past 7 Gen. Symons ordered a general advance of the infantry brigade, which he himself accompanied.

The Dublin Fusiliers were well in tront, with the King's Royal Riffes upon the right and the Leelester Regiment on the left.

WHAT THE BRITISH PLAN IS.

"The advance was covered by a terrific fire from our three batteries, and several Boer guns were silenced before the Fusiliers began to climb the hills. By the time the Fusiliers and Royal Rifles got within a thousand yards, the Boer batteries had been completely silenced, our own guns having pounded them at 2500 yards range with crushing effect.

"The Boers meantime were keeping up a heavy rifie fire, which thinned our ranks considerably.

Boers Were on the Run.

"By 9 o'clock the Fusiliers and Royal Rifles had swarmed over the hill, and the Boers were on the run.

"Meantime the 18th Hussars and all the colonial mounted infantry and the Leicestershire Regiment had been moved north and east, thus practically cutting off the Boer main line of refreat, and the enemy, caught between two fires, lost heavily.

"At this moment fighting is still going on, but the defeat of the enemy is already complete and crushing, and it looks as though few would escape.

"Our losses were probably 300 killed or wounded, and that of the Boers thrice as many."

DBILIZATION IS COMPLETE.

There Are to Be Five Federal States With a Bominion Parlian ment at Cape Town.

London, Oct. 20.—It is reported that Great Britain's immense military preparations against two insignificant republics are view-ed with consideration curlosity in some of the European capitals, notably Parls and St. Petersburg. Notes have been exchanged on the subject, and it is even hinted in un-official quarters that enquiries will be addressed to the British Government as to the contemplated absorption of the two republies by the British Empire.

The Press Association to-night aunounces with an air of authority that the Government's plan is to terminate the war in the speedless manner possible after the forts at Pretoria and Johannesburg have been razed, and then to promulgate by order of the Queen-in-Council a new constitution for a group of five federal states—Cape Colony, the Transvall, Natal, the Crown to nominate its own lieutenant-governor and to have Local Legisla more than 90 per cent. of the reservists have rejoined the colors. This is considered eminently satisfactory. The speed at which the army corps has been gotten together has excited the admiration of the German headquarters staff, and they have sent a semi-official message of congratulation through the British military attache at Berlin to the service.

The London press regards this as a well-deserved compliment, the papers pointing out that not only have the reservists responded splendidly, but a large majority of those who have reported are medically. Good-Bye to Scots Guards.

More Troops Leave England. Southampton, Oct. 20.—The transport Yorkshire, carrying the first troops of the special army corps, cast off this afternoon at 20 minutes past 2, the other transports following at intervals. The public were excluded from the docks during the embarkation: but immense throngs gathered outside, cheering and singing and bidding farewell to their friends as the trains passed in.

Despatches Are Conflicting - He Was Shot Through the Thigh

was wounded in the stomach, and that Gen. Gates has assumed command.

Later.—There is reason to fear that the wound received by Sir William Symons will prove fatal.

A still later despatch says Gen. Symons was severely but not dangerously wounded. He was shot through the thigh, but no bones were broken. The general is cheerful.

General Symons' Careeer,

General Sir William Penn Symons,
K. C. B., was born in Hatt, Cornwall, on July 17, 1843. He entered the army in 1863, was made a colonel in 1887;
served against Galekas 1877-78; Zulu war, 1879 (for which he received medal and clasp); was with the Burmese expedition in 1885-89; became brigadier-general of the Chin field force, for which he received medal and clasp; was in command of the Chin Lushai expedition in 1889-90, for which he was made C. B.; commanded a brigade, Waziristan Field Force, 1894-95

the Tochi Field Force, and the 1st Division of the Tirah Expeditionary Force, 1897-98. Decorated K. C. B. for services with the Tirah Expeditionary Force, General Symons went to South

"The train was partly made up of four trucks of cattle consigned to an army purveyor at Dundee.

"It is reported that one British officer and Mr. Mitchell, Johannesburg Star war correspondent, besides other war correspondents, were captured. The train which preceded the captured train was fired on, but the Boers' attack was not successful. I am informed that there are four trucks of stores at Elandslaagte Station. The place is full of rumors of fighbing, but there is nothing definite. There are said to be 4000 Boers, with a heavy wagon train, encamped near Acton Homes."

London, Oct. 20.—The afternoon papers publish despatches from Portsmouth, pointing to the formation of a new flying squadron.

The British Channel squadron has been ordered to proceed to Gibraltar next Tuesday. It is the aim of the War Office to send no man to South Africa unless he has had at least a year's service. The only serious criticism apparently to be made regarding these thousands destined for the front is that the reserves for the most part are ignorant of the mechanism of the magazine riftes.

Efforts have been made to overcome this and to give the men practice with the Lee-Metford, but the time has been too short were excluded from the docks during the embarkation; but immense throngs gathered outside, cheering and singing and bidding farewell to their friends as the trains to be the scenes of important movements; between the world, beautifully color-daylors from the Crange Free State announce that President Steyn has issued another proclamation calling upon the burghers to a man to take arms and to fight against an unscrupulous west, Toronto.
