The Liberal party's claim that Canada's prospectivy was due to their efforts was siky. (Applause.) Prospectivy was universal, and was due in no measure to the present administration. As the one who headed the list asking Messrs. Clarke and Osier to rum, the chairman considered it quite fitting to say a word in their favor. He considered they were the right sort of men, and their election would do honor to the electors of West Toronto. [Applause.]

E. F. H. Cross was the first speaker. He had just returned from South Wellington, where Messrs. Osier and Chirke shad addressed a public misering on Thursday night, and taken their audience alike by their eloquence and commanding address.

The Globe yesterday republished from The Catholic Register a long editorial, wherein The Register again calls The World "an ultra-Protestant sheet," and denies the fact that the Solicitor-General, who is half-owner of The Register, has any connection, whether financial or political, with nection, whether financial or political, with it. This swapping of false denials and falser denunciations between the two organs is indulged in of necessity to hide and cover up if possible the suence of Solicitor General Fitzpatrick himself, of his agent, Walter Boland, and of Senator-prospective "Plunk" McGann, the three persons who know, but dare not openly deny, the liberal intrigue by which Catholic aspirants for Parliamentary honors in Toronto were "turned down" and the Catholic press of Ontario, with two exceptions, purchased an diveries as partisan organs.

Look at the facts! The World has already shown by documentary evidence that Mr. Peter Ryan, the strongest Catholic Liberal in Toronto, was "turned down" by Postmaster-General Mulock and Solicitor-General Fitzpatrick, and Mr. Rowell put up in his stead. The World now adds with certain knowledge that a personal letter from Premier Laurier played a prominent part in the political ostracism of Mr. Ryan. But what are the facts to-day? McGaun, the business partner of Solicitor-General Fitzpatrick in The Catholic Register deal, has gone into St. Matthew's Ward with promises in the name of Postmaster-General Mulock, to tell Mr. Ryan's friends that they should not take it to heart, but vote for Rowell and the rewards.

McGann is working for the Senatorship, and Mr. Fitzpatrick is only concerned in keeping stronger men than himself out of lately a strong Conservative and prominent member of the Albany Club—has not far to look to see the handwriting on the wall. His neighbor across the street is H. H. Cook, who could tell him a great many profitable things anent the promises of Lab-The World knows the game that has been undertaken by the Mulock-Fitzpatrick-Mc-Gann outfit. It knows why Mr, Fitzpatrick, Mr. Boland and McGann are silent about The Catholic Begister deal. A few facts in addition to what has already teen published will help the public to understand the deep philosophy of their silence.

On Nov. 18, 1899, Thomas Mulvey, Walter Boland and Solicitor-General Fitzpatrick met at the Windsor Hotel, Montreal, to decide upon the method of capturing The Catholic Register, which had already been discussed at meetings held in Toronto be-

DR. SPROULE ON CATARRH.

DR. SPROULE, B.A., English Specialist in Catarrh and Chronic Diseases. Twenty years ago Catarrh was comparatively unknown. Now, no age, sex or condition is exempt from it, and no climate or locality is a cure for it. Catarrh is to be more dreaded than all the yellow fever, cholera, smallpox, diphtheria, and all other epidemic diseases—as it is more fatal. It is in the large majority of cases the forerunnen of consumption, and vita; statistics show that deaths from consumption in this country have increased more than 200 per cent. In the has five years, nearly all of these cases having been traced back to catarrh as their starting point, and many physicians now contend that catarrh is only inciplent consumption. I make the treatment of catarrh as pecialty. I do care catarrh. Catarrh has never been cured by nasal douches, washes or sanifs. Catarrh is a disease of the mucous membrane, and is curable only through the blood, and by medicines peculiarly adapted to each particular case. Medicine that will cure one will not cure another.

It has been determined by microscopists that catarrh has as distinct a germ as any of the noted epidemical diseases, and again and again has it been shown that a patient had been treated for some ther disease, when catarrha must be used constitutionally, and it must possess a direct.

A remedy for catarrh must be used constitutionally, and it must possess a direct.

disease, when catarrhal germs have been present.

A remedy for catarrh must be used constitutionally, and it must possess a direct affinity for the mucous membrane, and of being absorbed by the purulent mucous

If you have catarrh, answer the above questions, cut them out of the paper and send them to me, with any other information you may think would help me in forming a diagnosis, and I will answer your letter carefully, explaining your case thoroughly, and tell you what is necessary to do in order to get well.
