The city council held its regular meeting yesterday afternoon, starting at 4 o'clock. The innovation worked well, the arrival of the supper hour having a marked tendency to hustle business and check talk. A respectable quantity of both was crowded into two hours and a half, as a perusal of the report will show. All the members were present.

THOSE POLLING BOOTHS AGAIN. Mr. Edward Burns, of 558 Grey C. McCann, claiming $5 for the use of his house as a polling booth on election day. Mr. McCann stated that Mr. Burns had received a certificate refused to pay the claim, and said he could only allow $4. Unless the fuil claim would be placed in court. Ald. Carrothers moved the communication be filed.

Ald. O'Meara moved that it be referred to No. 1 committee to ascertain if the council was liable for $5.

Ald. Carrothers objected, and said 40 others would put in their claims if this was done.

The letter was filed, on a division. WILL BACK THE ENGINEER. City Engineer Graydon wrote inclosing a copy of the time table which he had asked the Street Railway Company to adopt. He asked the council to confirm his action. It was moved and carried that the engineer's action be approved and the company notified. WANT $16,000.

support of the board of tion petition for $16,000 worth of debentures for school purposes, a deputation comprising Trustees English, Bayly, Macpherson, Johnston and others appeared. Dr. English spoke for the board, and pointed out that if the addition to the Collegiate Institute was not built it would cost $2,000 for extra class rooms. It was also desirable to pay off the $1,500 mortgage on the Queen's avenue kindergarten, which was paying 7 per cent. Unless a new school was built in the North End, St. George's school would have to be enlarged. The sum of $1,500 for a janitor's cottage on the Collegiate Institute grounds, was also necessary. The janitor should live on the site, as it was now made a rendezvous by loafers, who committed nuisances there.

Mr. Bayly dwelt on the growth and importance of the Collegiate Institute, pointing out that there were 494 pupils and 9 teachers in 1887, and 1.016 pupils and 22 teachers at present. Of these, 540 pupils were in the first form and 218 in the second. They could see from this that these two forms were overcrowded. Unless this was remedied the government grant would be lessened. A school in the north end of No. 2 ward was recommended in 1894 by the school board, and a site was purchased for it. He had a list of 52 pupils who would attend the new school as soon as it was opened. Mr. Bayly also urged the conversion of the $1,500 mortgage on the Queen's avenue kindergarten, which bore 7 per cent interest, into debentures. Ald. Taylor said the trouble was that the fifth form was not taught in the graded schools. Mr. Bayly said the London Collegiate Institute was the banner institute of the province, and it was the intenkeep it in that position.

Ald. Carrothers moved that bylaws be taken up, and all other business skipped. The mayor asked if the employers and the union printers had arrived at any agreement.

Ald. Carrothers said a motion was passed at the last meeting, not to adopt the label. There was now nothing left to vote on. Ald. McCallum did not see the object of asking the employers and their men to come together, if the council had no intention of adopting the

Ald. Greenlees, referring to Ald. Winnett's motion, said that all offices had a right to send in tenders, whether union offices or not, and the motion would not help matters. Ald. Winnett said the city council of Toronto had passed a bylaw adopting the label, but the city solicitor said it was ultra vires of the council. Ald. McPhillips corroborated this, and said the council had been wasting time talking about the label. Ald. McCallum-What is the use of taking the Toronto city solicitor's opinion when we have a city solicitor of our own? Ald. Winnett's motion was defeated,

A Notice of Motion to Dismiss | There was some very hot cross-firing over this between Ald. Cooper on the one side and 'Ald. Douglass and Taylor on the other. The mayor repeatedly called for order. The clause recommending that Fireman George Taylor, who was injured be appointed cartaker of No. 3 fire hall was discussed. Ald. McCallum and Ald. Stevely thought Mr. Taylor would be more useful at the Central fire hall, where a caretaker was more needed. Besides, Mr. Taylor was not in a condition to mount a wagon as fast as the others, especially at night. The clause, however, was carried.

THOSE STREET NAMES. When Ald. Douglass, in connection with the board of works report, read the list of new street names there was a good dead of laughing and chaffing. Ald. Cooper and Ald. Carrothers declared that Cooper street and Carrothers avenue had been so-called by request of the ladies.

Ald. Jolly moved that the matter be laid over. He said it was perfectly ridiculous and was apparently meant as a joke. It was making a laughing stock of the council. People were agitated about it. Ald. Taylor said he had been "humbugged" on the street about it. It was not common sense. Ald. Douglass defended the repor and said the aldermen, if they wished other names, should have supplied

It was on the mayor's own motion that tenders were called for and opened by the sewerage committee. Yet he stands there and says it was me, and me only, that done the whole thing. Ald. Douglass-So it was. Ald. Cooper-I say it's untrue. If the chairman of last year's committee had been there it would have been done long ago, but because I was there I had opposition thrown at me the whole time. Ald. O'Meara said Ald. Cooper was

HEALTH AND ENERGY ASSURED. HAPPY MARRIAGE, GOOD TEMPER, LONG LIFE.

In all the world to-day—in all the history of the world—no doctor nor institution has treated and restored so many men as has the famed ERIE MEDICAL CO. of Buffalo, N. Y. This is due to the fact that the company controls some inventions and discoveries which have no equal in the whole realm of medical science.

So much deception has been practiced in advertising that this grand old company now for the first time makes this startling offer:—

They will send their costly and magically effective appliance and a whole month's course of restorative remedies, positively on trial without expense to any honest and reliable man!

A Bevy of Graceful Skaters

Skimming Fleetly Over the Ice is a Pleasing Picture Which, Alas! Has a Reverse Side.

Thousands of cases of hasty consumption are traceable directly to impredences connected with this sport. The youth of both sexes skate until their strength is exhausted, their blood over-heated, and perspiration oozes from every pore. In this condition they sit down to rest, or settles on the weakest part, the larynx, the pharynx, the bronchial tubes, or their ramifications in the lungs; and soon a cough appears. If I dared mention names and localities, I could give you the name of a very prominent Canadian family in L- who lost three beautiful daughters in three successive years from hasty consumption. All three girls were fine skaters, remarkable for their beauty and gentle character; but they brought upon themselves this dreadful cloud from sheer imprudence. For three successive years the church of the West Canadian hamlet was draped in mourning, for the family was prominent in official circles. These beautiful girls could have been saved, if treated in time. The first step, when chill is felt, is to equalize the circulation, restore heat and open the pores by a hot mustard foot-bath. The next is to administer a medicine combining healing, tonic and expectorant powers, to soothe and tone up the inflamed air passages and stop the source of the cough. Shiloh's Cough and Consumption Cure is such a medicine. Try it faithfully, and if two-thirds of a bottle does not help you, return it to your druggist and get your money back. Messrs. S. C. Wells & Co., Le Roy, N. Y .:
