THE NATIONAL EXHIBITION.

In the earlier days of the Toronto Annual Exhibition it is not probable that it occurred to those who then concerned themselves with its fortunes that it was going to become. Occupied with the business immediately on hand and working with an eye to present results they were unconsciously building better than they knew and laying a sure foundation for its later expansion into a really national institution with important bearings on the industrial, commercial and social side of public life. Experience shows that natural is better and healthier than forced growth and fortunately for Toronto and for Canada circumstances and the ordinary progress of events united in creating out of a local fair an exhibition at once the pioneer of its class and an object of admiration and emulation even to our southern neighbors, who were inclined to look on Canada for leading much as the pundits of Jerusalem regarded Nazareth.

Progress is the law of life and each succeeding year has seen the Toronto National Exhibition steadily moving forward and onward along all its many and varied lines of activity. This notable characteristic has been due materially to the continuity of its management and the energy and enterprise which have marked each of its leading departments. The executive committees by setting themselves assiduously to their own proper work and devoting themselves to its achievement and to the provision of all that would increase public interest have really been co-operating in the most efficient manner to the general success of the undertaking as a whole. Now, the national exhibition is a microcosm of Canadian life, valuable in the old it gives to industrial and commercial development, to the great agricultural interests of the country, to the popularization of the arts and sciences and to the satisfaction of the play spirit instinctive in healthy human nature.

These are large benefits of national quite as much as provincial or civic advantage. But in its social aspect the national exhibition is also of conspicuous service. During the ten days of its existence Toronto is not only a national but an international centre. Its fame has gone abroad through the North American continent and is reaching out beyond the seas. Barbados has a permanent exhibition committee which last month despatched a large collection of samples of the products of the islands. Increasing notice is also being taken of Toronto's National Exhibition in the British press and the time bids fair to come when its fame will be thoroughly established as presenting a yearly epitome of Canadian progressive conditions and activities. Toronto has every reason to be proud of the point already reached and to recognize the invaluable services rendered by the citizens and officials who are charged with its management and direction.

THE SOLDIERS OF PEACE.

What happened last week at Springfield, the capital of the prosperous and advanced state of Illinois, showed how brutal and cowardly the souls of men can be. It would have been discouraging, were there not daily other incidents to place man's nature on a jollier plane.

For instance, at London, Ontario, when three men went to their death in following their line of duty. Of course, they did not voluntarily seek the fate that was to be, but they KNEW that danger lurked in the charred timbers hidden in smoke-fog for did not the preceding chief die as a wall crashed outward? and was not a comrade only a few short months ago brought out dead from a cellar, a victim of suffocating fumes?—and they braved it because it was their business to risk life for the safety of others and for the protection of property.

And it's only a few nights since a Toronto fireman, roused from his cot, carried a block or so on a swaying hose wagon, in a few moments was transferred from the land of dreams to crawl into a building dense with smoke and to carry out a woman fallen unconscious; and his heart failed him not.

Peace hath her victories, her herpes and her sacrifices none less renowned than those of war, but the rewards are small and the appreciation sometimes nil. London will mourn for Chief Clark and the men who perished with him, but they had the spirit of true firemen all and perhaps with Macaulay one might repeat:

"To every man upon this earth death cometh, soon or late;

"And how can man die better—"

IMPERIAL INTERFERENCE WITH STATE POLICY.

Certain tendencies visible among the extreme section of the British Ministerial Party are apparently being allowed to affect prejudicially the attitude of the imperial government in its dealings with the weaker self-governing states of the empire. The most recent example of this unfortunate inclination is afforded by the dispute between the imperial authorities and the Natal Government over the native chief Dinizulu. This potentate has been under suspicion for some considerable time of being implicated in capital offences against the good order and security of the state, and was some time ago placed under arrest. Pending his trial, payment of the "salary" contracted to be paid him by the Natal Government and guaranteed by the imperial government was withheld.

This action on the part of the Natal Government in suspending the chief's salary was debated in the end of last month in the house of commons, and was censured by the leaders of both the imperial political parties, and the imperial government has further intimated its intention of itself paying the salary. This had the effect of stopping the suit for its recovery raised by Dinizulu against the Natal authorities and prevented the grounds on which the latter relied from receiving judicial consideration. Sharp resentment has thus been aroused in Natal and complaint is made that the attitude of the imperial government has weakened the hand of the Natal Government in dealing with what it holds to be an emergency of exceptional urgency and danger.

Apart from the merits of the Dinizulu dispute, regarding which Canadians are not properly able to judge, the difference between the imperial and Natal Governments raises points of vital importance to all the self-governing states of the empire. Natal and the other South African communities are confronted with the native problem and are charged with the immediate responsibility attaching to administration on the spot. Looked at in this light the present position in South Africa is undoubtedly one of extreme delicacy and difficulty, and one too where the view of the local government must differ from that of the imperial government, thousands of miles distant and influenced by a home opinion, which, however well-intentioned, cannot be well-informed.

In speaking to the subject matter of the debate, Mr. Hamar Greenwood, the Canadian representative for York City, was practically alone in the imperial house of commons in urging that the Natal Government should be supported, not weakened, by the imperial government. Incidentally too, he remarked that the treatment accorded to Natal would never have been extended to ward a more powerful dominion. The incident will certainly strengthen the movement for the unification of South Africa. Only a strong central government can accept the sole burden of administering native affairs and thus avoid the evident risks inseparable from the present divided responsibility.

WESTERN CONTINGENT COME TO O. R. A. MEET

Riflemen From West Want to Carry Away Trophy—Standing of Corps.

A large contingent from Winnipeg and points west will arrive in this city a few days for the purpose of taking part in the Ontario Rifle Association matches and as one of the members said in a letter to a member of The World staff, to see how many votes will be needed to raise The World shooting trophy. "That cup is going west with us," this enthusiastic rifleman says in his letter. It remains for the corps of this city and their supporters to say whether this cup is going to travel or not, and there is no time like the present for getting busy.

All who are following the competition will note the increases made daily, the Q.O.R. having jumped 5000 and the Grand totals about 1300 votes Tuesday.

The standing up to 5 o'clock last night was:

TO HONOR IRISH M.P.'S.

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—John E. Redmond, chairman of the Irish parliamentary party, and Joseph Devlin, M.P., are expected to arrive in this city from Ireland about Sept. 16, and a reception has already been arranged for them by a committee of the United Irish League of America. It will take place in the Hoffman House immediately after their arrival.

RAILROAD EMPLOYEES TO UNDERGO EXAMINATION

Protective Measure Adopted by Conference of Officials Making Test Compulsory on N.Y.C.

PAULSMITH, N. Y., Aug. 19.—Of far-reaching importance is a protective measure adopted here to-night by a conference of railroad officials, which makes it compulsory for all railroad employees engaged in the operation of trains on the New York Central lines to undergo a physical examination and to have their eyes tested. This ruling affects the men in the service to-day as well as those who may be candidates for positions.

Railroad presidents, vice-presidents, general managers, superintendents and surgeons from many roads are in conference here to consider the various phases of the employers' liability law. The measure adopted is the first step of importance that has been taken. The examinations will be prepared by a committee composed of the assistant general managers, chief surgeons and the representatives of the legal departments of the New York Central lines east and west of Buffalo, including the Boston and Albany, the Rutland, the Michigan Central, the Chicago, Indiana and Southern, the Lake Erie and Western, the Dunkirk, Allegheny Valley and Pittsburgh and the Lake Shore and Indian Harbor Belt Lines.

The conference concluded with an announcement that freight rates and wages will not be discussed until after election.

MINISTER KILLS HIMSELF.

Rev. James D. Phelps, Treasurer Syracuse University.

UTICA, N.Y., Aug. 19.—Rev. James D. Phelps of Syracuse shot himself in his room in the Wurz Hotel on North Genesee-street, this city, some time during the night, and he was found this morning hanging out of his bedroom window.

Rev. Mr. Phelps went to the hotel yesterday morning and secured a room in the third story. He was not seen again during the day or evening, and it is supposed that he killed himself about 2 o'clock this morning.

He left a note that was written on the paper which had been used to wrap the revolver and left only the hands of the shooting himself that he did not wish to live any longer.

Rev. Mr. Phelps was the treasurer of the Syracuse University, and he had been connected in the past with the Northern Christian Advocate.

He had been ill for some time, and was for some time at a private sanitarium. The bullet was fired into his stomach, and there is no mark or wound upon his body.

DR. CARMAN APPEALS.

Calls on Canadian Methodists to Build New Church at Fernald.

Rev. Dr. Carman, as general superintendent of the Methodist general conference, yesterday issued a special appeal to the Methodists of Canada on behalf of the Methodist pastor and congregation at Fernald.

Dr. Carman says that the Rev. W. Lashley Hall lost everything in the fire that destroyed both the church and the parsonage, and left only the bare site. The trustees have a balance of $2200 towards their rebuilding fund. Dr. Carman asks for $16,000 for the pastor and the building fund.

TORONTO HAD BETTER WAIT.

Simple Process For Purifying Water Now Being Performed.

PITTSBURG, Aug. 19.—Experiments being made at the new $10,000 plant at the homoplastic filter here are expected to result in a simple and practical method of purifying water.

The plant is for the manufacture of ozone, which it is believed will destroy all organic matter and kill all kinds of bacteria.

"There will be no patenting of the process," said Mr. F. W. Koots, superintendent of the hospital, "and whatever good we may accomplish will be given to the world. I believe that by this system any city can supply pure water with all organic matter and bacteria removed."

FATAL FALL.

DUBLIN, Aug. 19.—T. H. Ennis, assistant manager of the Irish Free Press, was thrown from a jumping car and killed instantly.

Excelsior Roller Ring Reopens Saturday Night.

The roller skating rink of Toronto will be delighted with the fact that the highly prized inside the old favorite Excelsior Roller Ring will be reopened Saturday night.

A large staff of painters, electricians and drapers have been busy beautifying the interior, and the appearance of the rink speaks well for their work.

A general surprise is in store for the large patronage secured by the Excelsior, and nothing up to date has equaled the extensive renovations and beautiful decorations which are to be presented.

The usual large crowds will be in attendance, commencing Saturday night, so be on hand early, and tell your friends.

Toronto Exhibition.

The C.P.R. will sell return tickets to Toronto from all Ontario stations at one-way fare, Saturday, Aug. 29, to Sunday, Sept. 1, inclusive, and from many stations return tickets at less than one-way fare on special excursion days, dates of which agents will furnish. Special through trains and through car service are arranged. Full information is given in the C.P.R. official program, a free copy of which will be mailed upon request by C. B. Foster, district passenger agent. Tickets or will be supplied by nearest ticket agent.

POLITICAL INTELLIGENCE

"Taking one consideration with another," a good guess is that the federal general elections will be held during the last ten days of October, or less than ten weeks off. If this is near the thing, dissolution of the present parliament will not be announced for nearly another month.

The St. John Globe (Liberal) says it is reasonable to assume that there will not be an election before the middle of October, while The Weekly Sun (Independent) says the program mapped out for Sir Wilfrid Laurier entails a September-October campaign and polling day late in October or early in November. This would give time for the first session of the new parliament in November.

Discussing the Saskatchewan result The Hamilton Herald (Independent) says the election was called upon to decide between principle and interest, and interest won the day. "Mr. Haultain appealed to them to stand by the principle of provincial rights—to support him in his efforts to secure complete provincial control of the province's public lands and his educational system," says the Herald. "But they turned him out the door. The government would not go on with the construction of the Hudson Bay Railway. Evidently many of the electors believed that they were to have sympathy with Mr. Haultain's provincial rights principles; but they want it built as soon as possible, and they want it built at the least possible expense to themselves."

The Ottawa Citizen (Conservative) remarks that "the view of the manner in which the provinces have been going 'conservative,' it was important to 'feel out' the Northwest provinces were not so well known. It was known that as Ontario gave Whitney 68 majority, 'this would point to the probability that an almost solid Ontario might be secured for the Conservatives, and that the ultimate result would depend on the votes of the smaller provinces.' The Tweddle revelations in New Brunswick, the strong Conservative sentiment in Manitoba and the Japanese question in British Columbia are damaging Liberal chances in those provinces, and Mr. Haultain's signs point to a considerable change. So that, these factors being considered, it was necessary for Sir Wilfrid Laurier to make a bold move, and to sweep the Saskatchewan machinery was the seed grain sown; a large influx of immigrants, a large federal influence, along with big campaign funds and a Liberal leader. 'Under these conditions,' remarks The Citizen, 'it was hoped that Premier Scott would make a showing that would demonstrate to the faint-hearted and the camp followers that notwithstanding the debate in New Brunswick and the all but annihilated Liberal party in Ontario, sentiment for Sir Wilfrid Laurier was strong in the west. Looked at in this light, and considering the forces that were at work to produce a spectacular display of Liberal sentiment, the result in Saskatchewan on Friday was a fiasco.'"

As to the reports of frauds in Saskatchewan The Winnipeg Tribune (Independent) comments as follows: "What are termed 'political trials' in Canada have become largely a farce. The judges could tell the tale better than the press. They know how things are mixed, how mistakes and lawyers get together, arrange saw-offs, put up their little public bluffs and all the rest of it. The public is comparatively innocent. The judge sees or hears very little of the whole work of the machines and the 'machinists' who live on their wits, and the party blinders of the electorate."

"In a more chivalrous age ballot box stuffers would be taken out and summarily shot, and the politicians who hire them, instead of serving terms in prison, would be hanged."

The standing of the parties in the Saskatchewan Legislature is now: Liberals 26; Conservatives 14.

In view of the nomination of J. G. O'Connell to the labor party to contest South Toronto for the federal house, it is not expected that the Liberals will put a man in the field. This is the opinion expressed by several prominent Liberals yesterday.

North Lanark Liberals will convene at Almonte on the 26th.

Hon. G. P. Graham and M. J. Butcher, chief engineer of canals, will make a tour of the Trent Canal this week. Mr. Graham will be accompanied by a public reception in Peterborough on Thursday evening, and will leave on Friday for Fenelon Falls, leaving there Saturday morning for Orillia.

parliament, would, at the least, be serving terms in penitentiaries."

Alex. Johnston's paper, The Sydney (C. B.) Record, returns to the subject of Hon. G. E. Foster and likens the case of that statesman to that of Hon. H. Emmerson.

The Conservative party on the occasion referred to (the Emmerson affair) took the view that Mr. Emmerson should not remain a member of the government. The Liberal party and the prime minister took the same view—at least until such time as he had demonstrated the falsity of the allegations against him."

The Record says that no man aspiring to leadership or prominence in the party ranks will appear on the same platform with Mr. Foster. Last year it was rumored that Mr. Foster would accompany Mr. Borden on his tour, but The Montreal Star protested and Foster was left behind, traveling alone thru Nova Scotia a few days later. Commenting on the absence of Mr. Foster from Mr. Borden's platform during the tour soon to begin The Record says in bold type: "Neither Mr. Borden nor any of the recognized leaders of the party would dare appear on the same platform with Mr. Foster."

A despatch from Ottawa says: "It is expected that R. L. Borden will run in Carleton County and Halifax at the coming elections. Carleton County Conservatives are relying upon his doing so."

The Ottawa Citizen again has it that F. J. B. Caron, who declined re-nomination in Ottawa because he was irrefracted by a horde of office-seekers, will be made a Minister in the cabinet. Dr. Paquet (Conservative) won in 1904 by 157. Also, that Thomas Cote, the well known newspaper man of La Presse, who has acted as secretary for several government commissions, is also going into federal politics. He will run in Rimouski, where Dr. Paquet's sitting member, will be appointed to a local position in the gift of the government.

Col. Tudhope, M.P. for Norfolk, who will not be a candidate in the coming election, was in the city yesterday in company with Alex. McCall of Simcoe, who is the most talked of man in connection with the candidature.

South Waterloo Conservatives will meet at Galt on the 26th to nominate a candidate for the house of commons. It is expected that the sitting member, George A. Clare, will be re-nominated, his health having greatly improved in the past year.

Four other conventions will be held on the same day: East Kent at Dresden; Ottawa City; South Oxford at Hensall; F. R. K. M.P. will attend the Hensall meeting.

Edith P. D. McArthur or John McGregor will probably be the man to contest Glenora in the Conservative party. The convention will be held at Alexandria on the 27th inst. Mr. Schell, the sitting Liberal member, will not, it is said, run again.
