HAMILTON MINISTERS CONDEMN UPPER CLASSES

Strong Words by Rector of Christ Church Dathedral-Temperance Sermons.

HAMILTON, Dec. 20.—Rev. Canon Abbôtt, rector of Christ Church Cathedral, to-day severely criticized the so-ciety people of Hamilton. "Many of those who live in the south and southwestern part of the city," he said, "consider themselves impregnable. They are the class despised by Christ. They do not know and will not take the trouble to find out the condition of things in the northern part of the city. There the humbler class live. It is everybody's duty to consider the black part of the life of the city." The man who did nothing for his fellowmen was worse than ones who did wrong. The canon, when he made these observations, was preaching to the seven Masonic lodges of the city, who at-

Preaching at the temperance meeting in Association Hall, Rev. Richard Whiting, pastor of Centenary Church, also spoke in condemnation of the upthis city," he said, "do ten times more harm than the saloon." He spoke in favor of a reduction of licenses and the he did not think the hotel people were entitled to compensation, he would be willing to pay anything to get them

Rev. R. H. Bell, pastor of the Charlton-avenue Methodist Church, also preached on the subject of temperance. He favored total prohibition. He argued that a hotel keeper had no more right to have a liquor license than a ector, spoke last night to a crowded fouse at the People's service in the Grand on the growth and development of the drama as an educator and gave a most charming Christmas recitation. The music had the Christmas ring and was very fine. Kathryn Chattoe-Morton sang the "Gift" and "Sleep Sweetly. Child of Bethlehem." with expression and feeling, displaying her fine contraito voice, which has been compared to that of Chara Butt, the famous Linglish contraito. "The Star of Bethlehem." sung by Mr. Charles Swaffield, displayed a tenor voice of much promwise. Mr. Herbert Manly's selection, "The New Born King," was well rendered, and showed his rich baritone voice. Both these gentlemen are pupils of Mrs. Morton.

The subject of the pictorial sermon was the birth and childhood of Jesus, flustrated by the finest painted slides and moving pictures. Mr. Wilkinson said that success was assured so far as the Bairns' banquet was concerned, but he was afraid half of the poor children would get no gift, as it was a bigger undertaking than he had anticipated. A DISCOURAGING OUTLOOK.

N. Y. American: Joseph French Johnson, dean of the New York University's School of Commerce and Finance and professor of economics in the University of Pennsylvania, coolly adjusts his spectacles to his statistical tables and tells us that the cost of living—which has risen 44 per cent. in the past nine years—is going to keep on going up for nine years more. He says that in 1918 we shall see the average prices of the necessaries of life advanced to 80 per cent. above the rates guoted in 1907.

Surely cannot be that the good ladies and the chief morality inspector are not unwilling that the selling of liquor to boys, and the making of juvenile est of "temperance" agitation.

Then there are the police commission—ers. They must have occurred to them that if 2000 boys were drunk some persons must have sold them the liquor. Why gated? Why did they not require the morality inspector to do his duty? Or about the 2000?

The plain truth seems to be that those who are managing the reduction campaign and editing its literature are guilty of a rashness and inaccuracy of statement that is most discovered the solution of the world.

TRYING TO MISLEAD.

Reductionist Literature Not in Accordance With the Facts.

In a leaflet which is being circulated in furtherance of the reduction campaign, the statement is made that 2000 boys under the age of twenty were convicted of drunkenness last year. The statement purports to be made on the authority of the Women's Christian Temperance Union.

The Globe credits Inspector Archibald with stating that if forty licenses be per classes. "The rich men's clubs of cut off "it would mean forty less places of temptation for the boys."

A prominent feature of the reduction it appear that license reduction has as its greatest object the "saving of the boys." "The bar or the boy" is one of the catch phrases.

That all this is uncandid and dishonest must be apparent to anyone who will reflect that for a hotelkeeper to sell even a single glass of liquor to a boy is a violation of the License Act, punishable by fine, and that a continuation of the offence will result in loss of his license.

.That there is danger of hotelkeepers unwittingly breaking the law, because of the difficulty of knowing the age of young men verging on twenty-one, no one knows better than they. Some of them have even advocated that the law be changed so as to forbid boys under legal age frequenting, or even entering, barrooms. Perhaps the W.C.T.U. and the leaders of the "temperance" move-ment will explain why this proposal never had their support.

able to sit in the council again untulare-elected by the unions which they represent.

Petitions are being circulated already asking for the reduction of sentences of the young men sent down for period of drunkenness last year, it might be interesting to enquire where the good women of the W.C.T.U. got their information. They certainly did not get it from the official records of the young men sent down for period of the young men sent down for period of drunkenness last year, it might be interesting to enquire where the good women of the W.C.T.U. got their information.
