The first congress of the laymen's movement for foreign missions, which for five days has held 4000 delegates in close unity of thought and purpose was brought to a close by an inspiring meeting in Massey Hall last night. The big auditorium was filled to the limit of its seating capacity, several hundred ladies being included.

The proceedings were triumphant in tone and confident predictions of the speakers that the crusade would gain yearly in strength were enthusiastically applauded. Rev. Dr. O'Meara of Wy-cliffe College led the devotions.

It was stated after the meeting that $4500 a year for three years had been subscribed toward the office of a permanent secretary. The amount required is $6000, but the leaders of the movement are assured that there will be little difficulty in securing the balance of $1500 a year. ance of $1500 a year.
Mr. Rowell Declines.

The declination of N. W. Rowell, K. C., who has presided as chairman thru-out the congress to accept the leader-ship of the national movement until the policy has been carried out was manifestly a disappointment to the audience, which had shown much enthusiasm when J. Campbell White, founder of the whole movement, sugfounder of the whole inovement, suggested the appointment.

Mr. Rowell said he would deem it a great honor to be associated with Sir Andrew Fraser and Silas McBee, editor of "The Churchman," New York, in a visit to Australia to plant the movement there, as proposed by Mr. White, but that he required time for consideration. As to the larger question, he could only answer that he had his chosen profession. He was thankful that he had been permitted to take his chosen profession. Until End of Month-Likely To Be Businesslike.

LONDON, April 4.—The cabinet is conciliatory than they were in the pre-vious instance, and may become peace-makers within the cabinet.

The budget is likely to be put off until the end of the month, so that a compromise can be effected. This may be easier than hilarious Tory critics be easier than hilarious Tory critics imagine. The deficiency which must be met in the next financial year will probably be about £13,400,000. A reduction in the sinking fund service, an increase in license charges and a rearrangement of the income tax may cut this down below £3,000,000, and the remnant can be provided for without evolutionary proposals.

It is assumed by the Tories that David Lloyd-George will insist upon making his first budget as noteworthy as the famous Harcourt "dead hand" budget, or H. H. Asquith's old age pension scheme, but they forget that he will have a better chance of distinguishing himself another year, when the improvement in trade may justify more elastic estimates of revenue than more elastic estimates of revenue than are now possible. Taxation of land values cannot bring in revenues for the next year, when there is no system of valuations. If this measure be proposed it will be an indication that the prime minister cannot keep the cabinet Alex. Warwick, a brass finisher, was together and is bent upon riding for a

LONGBOAT WAS DRIVEN UNTIL HIS LEGS BENT

NEW YORK, April 4 .- (Special) .-Running with remarkable speed and showing wonderful stamina and unquestioned courage, Henri St. Yves of France proved himself the greatest long distance runner of the day by winning the Marathon Derby of $10,000 over the full distance of 26 miles 385 yards, at the Polo Grounds yesterday, in the fast time of 2 hours 40 minutes

Marathon distance, besides setting new intermediate marks for every distance above 13 miles. A grave doubt exists as to the course being properly measured in the Rye to New York race, and for that reason the time yesterday will be accepted as a record by those interested in the sport. It was the more remarkable in view of the fact that the turf track, while in fair condition, was soggy and slow on account of the recent rain. Over a fast track it is likely that the little Frenchman would have established figures that might stand for years to come.

After St. Yves had won and walked away surrounded by his friends, and Dorando had finished with a burst of speed that showed his excellent condition and proved he was beaten on his merits, the crowd swarmed down from the stand and fairly overran the few. merits, the crowd swarmed down from Prof. Millukoff, leader of the Constitute stand and fairly overran the track tutional Democrats, who opened the Maining laps. Germany Achieves Triumph That Has Cast a Chill Over the Nations of Europe.

LONDON, April 4.-(N.Y. Sun Cable) It is now definitely known, despite emi-official denials from Berlin, that Germany delivered a distinct ultimatum to Russia on March 25 summoning her to recognize Austria's annexation of Bosnia and Herzegovina forthwith or else military operations would begin against her immediately.

The German ambassador informed Foreign Minister Izvolsky that if Russia refused to take the step required Germany would consider the refusal an act of hostility to her Austrian ally and that German troops would at once cross the frontier. The ambas-sador further intimated that Germany had mobilized a great force on the Polish frontier in preparation for the Izvolsky asked for sufficient time to consult the western powers. This was refused. Izvolsky thereupon summoned an emergency meeting of the im-perial council and within twenty-four hours it was decided to yield com-pletely to Germany's demands. Thus by a single stroke Germany made peace for the moment in the Balkans and also changed the whole face of European politics.

It is necessary to recall here an important bit of history. When the first German emperor was dying he sumnoned his grandson, the present kai-er, to advise him on the foreign policy of the empire. He charged him above all else never to quarrel with Russia. Friendly relations with that empire, he declared, were essential to the wel-fare of Germany. Bismarck was of the same mind, and such has been the fundamental policy of Germany until

These traditions have now abandoned and Germany has co ly usurped Russia's role as the champfon of the Slavs and all the other elements in the Balkans.

No one can pretend that Germany's first aggressive use of her great power toward achieving her ambition to semantal achieving her ambition and selection of Europe makes cure the hegemony of Europe makes for peace beyond the moment. We have before us the first move in the cam-paign of retaliation which it has been foreshadowed many times in these de-spatches the kaiser would make against King Edward's league of peace. Germany's high-handed settlement of the Balkan questions has completely clarified the European situation in an important sense. Germany has com-pletely solidified, as nothing else could have done, what will henceforth be the have done, what will henceforth be the putative alliance against her of Russia, Great Britain and France. Hatred of Germany to-day is as deep and permanent in Russia as in France. This will prove no small element in the greater crisis toward which the frantic struggle in war preparations is driving the European world.

Russia is only momentarily weak.

"Yet's Longboat was induced by threats and promises to keep at it until his copper-colored skin took on an ashen, hue and his legs actually bent under him. Hayes ran under instructions that kept him well behind the pacemakers from the beginning of the race. In fact he dropped back so rapidly and proceeded so methodically that his friends could not understand what he was trying to do. Toward the end of the grueling struggle Hayes began to run at a faster pace and with so much strength that for a time it looked as if he might overhaul Dorando.

"But just when Dorando appeared to blow up he came back to life suddenly and by fast traveling he drew away and made Hayes' stern chase fruiters. Maloney's performance was a bitter disappointment. He had been touted as a world-beater and his remarkable time in the Rye Marathon was used as an argument that he would show his heels to the others. But Maloney, more heavily built than his competitors, was no doubt bothered by the soggy track and when he finished.

Jt is this feature of her ultimatum that has most startled England. It is this which leads the ablest statesmen in language of gravest foreboding. The Spectator, in closing an alarmist leading and equipment of ships to the utmost Germany will take action against will be desired by the soggy track and when he finished.
