DISCREDIT VIEWS ON
NATIONAL UNIONDisposition on Part of Local Leaders—Cannot See
Strength of Case.

A disposition upon the part of local leaders to discredit the views upon a national labor movement expressed by a correspondent in yesterday's World was noticeable around the Labor Temple. Labor men generally viewed as significant the fact that the correspondent was a former assistant recording secretary of a local which has since broken with the International movement.

Representative labor officials in discussing the matter expressed themselves as unable to appreciate the strength of the case which malcontents are endeavoring to prepare against the American Federation of Labor. It is a movement, they state, which in no manner discourages patriots upon the part of the Canadian workmen or savor of annexation propaganda. It is solely, they state, a movement for the protection of the worker which has been built up by 40 years patient endeavor and is enabled, by virtue of a strong reserve fund, to afford exceptional financial backing. The international movement, further, they point out, affords the worker a chance of escape should a slump effect his own country, as no discrimination is permitted to be shown Canadian union cards in the United States.

The audit of the books left by the preceding electrical workers is approaching completion and it is expected that a report will be presented tomorrow evening to the section of the local which remains with the A.F.L. In connection with the recent entrance of twelve into the offices of the union, the officials believe that they escaped the loss of valuable papers by having them in the custody of the auditors, as the marauders showed by their disregard of some $15 in cash that money was not their objective.

The international convention of the Iron Molders and Structural Steel Workers' Union, which has been concluded in Cleveland, has left the matter of raising of the per capita tax from 50 cents to one dollar per member to a referendum vote of the affiliated locals. Delegates to the convention reported that trade conditions, as they affected their craft were excellent both through the United States and Canada.

The international convention of the Brotherhood of Teamsters, Chauffeurs, Stablemen and Helpers, is in session during the present week at Cleveland, Ohio. The organization reported a past year with a balance of $115,531, and a membership totaling well over the hundred thousand mark.

Dan Brophy, Canadian vice-president of the Iron Molders and Structural Steel Workers' Union, was in town recently and visited the Toronto local of the union.

Reports received from local delegates to the International Machine Union convention in Rochester, N.Y., state that the body has declared itself as definitely favoring the American Federation of Labor and has expelled one delegate who was found to have One Big Union affiliations.

The conference is at present considering a suggestion that the constitution be altered so that each of the various trades composing the union will be under the direct supervision of a vice-president.

Yesterday's development in the strike of local roofers was the attendance at a meeting of the joint industrial council of representatives from the Builders' Exchange, who submitted a proposition for the acceptance of the men. Secretary John Doggett will present the proposal to the men at a meeting at ten o'clock this morning in the Labor Temple.

As a Woman Thinketh

BY HELEN ROWLAND.

THE GIRL WHO CANNOT DREAM

I look into your face—and wonder!
Oh, laughing, straight-browed, clear-sighted, undaunted, wholesome
Daughter of Today,
Going into life, open-eyed!
With strong, sure feet and steady hand—
Knowing all its glories and its pitfalls, its pettiness, and possibilities—
Knowing more of life's realities, than I do!
I look into your face—and wonder! If they are wide, who robbed you of your foolish girlish dreams, and brushed the star-dust from your misty eyes,
That you might look at FACTS—and "see life straight!"
I wonder!
What would I take, today, as fair exchange,
For those young years of faith in Santa Claus—those starry Christmas
Eves, when high heart beating,
I watched for him thru frosted window-panes—and glimpsed him, in my visions, fleeing down the path?
And for my faith in fairies
When, in long, gold, drowsy afternoons, I CAUGHT them dancing in the dappled leaves amid the tree-tops?
For those long, sweet years, when I waited for the coming of Prince Charming.
With visions far too dazzling to "come true."
And for all my other blind illusions—
My faith that all mothers are perfect, and have hearts of angels,
That all fathers are wise, omniscient, and kind,
All artists, geniuses,
All poems, born of the poet's inspiration—not from his struggles to buy buns, and baby-shoes!
My faith that LOVE is every woman's portion,
And that gold and fame lie at the end of every rainbow dream, and every high endeavor.
That somewhere, somehow, some day, I shall find
The Perfect Man,
The Perfect Life—and happiness!
And, that, when all these visions have been followed to the end,
Somewhere, across the Great Divide,
There IS a Heaven!
Oh, clear-eyed, sane-hearted, undazzled Modern Girl,
I look at you, in envy—yet, I wonder,
If you, with all your wisdom and philosophy and worldly knowledge of Life's mysteries and problems as they are,
Have anything for which I would exchange one Golden Dream—
One foolish young illusion—
If you have anything, for which I'd care to barter that radiance of the soul,
That multi-colored prism, thru which only girlhood looks at life—
My young IMAGINATION!
Oh, Daughter of Today, in all your wisdom,
I bow before you—yet, sigh for you, a little,
And wonder what they have left you, in all the world,
TO DREAM about!

man. After the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Ames held a reception, after which the newly-married couple left for a wedding trip in the United States.

FIND GUARD GUILTY
OF HANDLING LETTER

Kingston, Oct. 5.—(Special.)—Magistrate Farrell found Joseph L. Seabrook, a guard at the Portsmouth Penitentiary, guilty of having "unlawfully endeavored to carry out from Harry E. Alter, a convict in the penitentiary, an unrecanted letter." The prisoner was remanded a day for sentence. Alter was the principal witness against the accused, stating that he had given him a letter he had written to his brother, asking him to send $20 to Guard Seabrook. The arrangements were that the two were to go "fifty-fifty" on whatever came in the letter.

WINNIPEG LABOR MEETING IN NATURE OF CHALLENGE

Ottawa, Oct. 5.—"Something in the nature of a challenge," is how Mr. Tom Moore, president of the Trades and Labor Congress, who yesterday returned from Indianapolis and Windsor, referred to the decision of the congress to hold the next convention in Winnipeg.

BUILDS CHURCH BY HIMSELF.

Mr. F. S. Johnson, a building contractor and a councillor of Southend-on-Sea, has undertaken to lay every brick and stone of the new church to be built in Pall Mall, Leigh-on-Sea. His earnest wish is to complete the building by his own labors. The main stone work has already been completed, the only assistance he receives being two boys who carry the blocks to him up the scaffolding. The church is of the Gothic English type, and the blocks used are made of concrete with a rough facing to make them resemble hewn stone. In two months he laid 4,000 blocks, or the equivalent of 50,000 bricks. Round the windows and doors are small red bricks, 3,000 of which he has laid. In a day of ten hours he laid concrete blocks which were equal to 3,500 bricks.

VERA.
There are comparatively few Russian names in vogue in this country, when is the exception to the general rule, which excludes such popular Slavic appellatives as Tatiana and Anastasia. Vera, indeed, is not purely Russian, since it appears in Spanish nomenclature, but in both languages, it bears the same significance: that of "faith."
It is one of the twelve Slavic names which appear in the "Monument of Faith," a sort of devotional prayer book applied to each of the years of the Russian calendar. For that reason Vera has always been an exceptionally popular name as a Russian feminine name.
It is doubtful, however, if her derivation is responsible for her vogue here. Possibly she is the result of the early Spanish influence in the American colonies, or again, it may be that the shortness and euphony of the name is the explanation for its adoption and practical Americanization.
Amber is Vera's talismanic stone. It has power to make her invulnerable in undertakings, where bodily and mental health are required. It is said to ward off disease and to bring good fortune when worn by a traveler. Monday is Vera's lucky day and 3 her lucky number.

ASK INQUIRY INTO TRAINING COURSE

War Veterans Complain That Results Are Not Satisfactory.

Apparently the general consensus of opinion among representative bodies of ex-service men is in agreement with the proposal of an inquiry into the results of the various courses of vocational training. Many of the former members of the administrative staff of the D.S.C.R. are said to have been laid off, girls remaining in their places. It is also alleged that hundreds of men trained as telegraphers, sign writers, electricians or skilled mechanics have found themselves unable to remain in employment for lack of proper and sufficient technical training. It is stated that the number of ex-service men placed in this predicament is at least 30 per cent. of all those who took vocational courses.

Interviews with the leaders of the ex-service men's organization in Ontario yesterday afternoon show that there is a general feeling among ex-service men that the system of vocational training followed in the past has not by any means fulfilled the requirements of these men. The World interviewed prominent men both in the district and the provincial commands of the G.W.V.A., and they expressed the opinion that while the vocational courses had in many instances served to re-establish the ex-service man in a measure, he was still up against the brick wall of competition with men who had been apprenticed to their trades for at least two years. They pointed out that the system of vocational training did not cover for each man a period of more than eight months, and that six months was the limit in the majority of cases. This, they contended, was sufficient perhaps in vocational training for the civil services, or for courses in short-hand and stenography, but was hardly short of the time required for is always fresh and fragrant. For that reason it yields more cups to the pound than ordinary teas.

Such vocations as mechanics, machine work of any kind, electrical work, carpentry or kindred occupations, where much dexterity was necessarily coupled with brain work.

Some Keen Criticism.
Officials of the G.A.U.V., in their comments, went a few steps further in their estimate of the situation. J. F. Marsh, general organizer for Ontario, and J. Harry Flynn, Dominion organizer (Mr. Marsh spoke for him by proxy, as he is in Rochester presenting a charter), stated that not only was the time allotted insufficient, but that in many cases the conditions under which the vocational training was administered called for strong criticism, for which reason an investigation into the results of the system would be welcomed by every man who had taken a course. Mr. Marsh stated that he would be able to cite instances in which ex-service men were sent to factories ostensibly to undertake vocational training, but really only to pick out useful odds and ends out of heaps of iron and other junk. This in many cases entirely unfitted ex-service men to undertake work in those occupations for which they were supposed to have been vocationally trained.

G.A.U.V. CLINIC.

Fifteen pensioners attended yesterday's clinic at the G.A.U.V. special clinic held at the clinic chambers, 22 East Gerrard street. Dr. J. R. Robinson is in charge of the clinic, which is open between the hours of 11 and 1 every Tuesday and Thursday. This is a clinic for those pensioners who are not satisfied with the findings of the board of pension commissioners.

TWO BONUS PROPOSALS WILL BE DISCUSSED

Flynn and Howe Will Debate Issue at Massey Hall.

One of the most notable meetings yet held by ex-service men in Toronto is to be held in Massey Hall on Sunday afternoon, October 17, when both J. Harry Flynn of the G.A.U.V. and W. Howe of the G.W.V.A. will dwell upon the two proposed plans of re-establishment that of the G.A.U.V. and that of the G.W.V.A. In his address Mr. Howe will present his argument for bonus based upon pure business principles, championing the cause of bonus at the rate of a dollar a day according to length of service, and Mr. Flynn will deal with the G.A.U.V. request for a straight bonus of from $1,000 to $2,000, according to place and length of service. This bonus to be granted only on application made thru the proper authorities, the representative bodies of ex-service men.

Mr. Marsh said to The World yesterday afternoon that both Mr. Howe and Mr. Flynn would be guided by the vote of that mass meeting as to the plan they would adopt for the future, showing that in any case both the G.W.V.A. and the G.A.U.V. would from that moment fight the battle of re-establishment as one man, with forces undivided.

LOSES A FINGER.

Hamilton, Oct. 5.—While working at the Dominion Steel Foundries last night, Edward Beecher, 13 Robert street, sustained injuries which necessitated the amputation of a finger on his right hand.

LOSS OF CONROY

MUCH REGRETTED

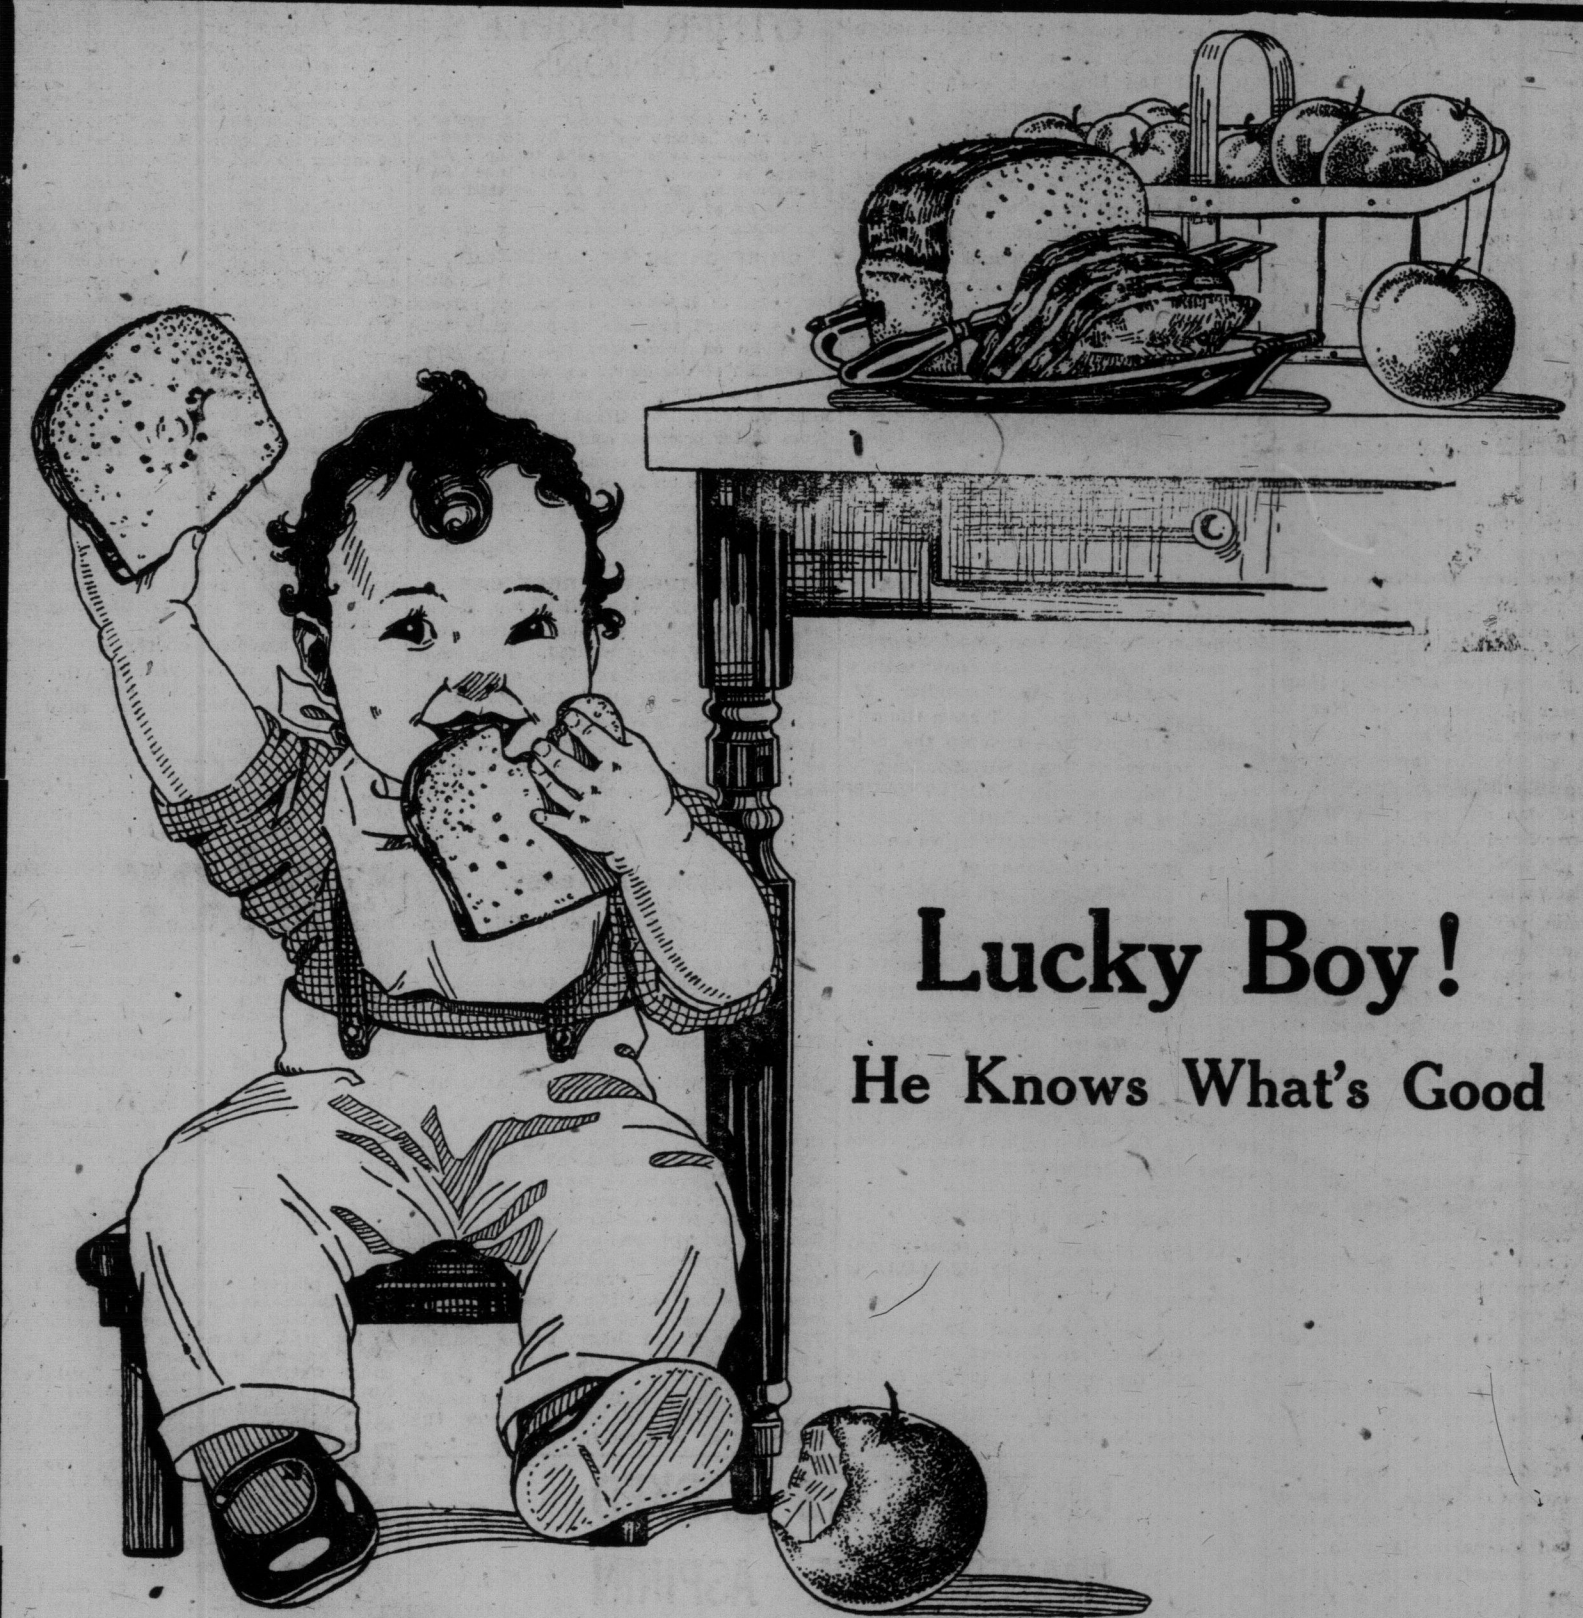

Former District Secretary of G.W.V.A. Well Qualified for Duties

On behalf of his association, J. F. Marsh, general organizer for the G.A.U.V. in Ontario, expressed to The World the deep sense of loss which all returned men's associations would feel at the recent resignation of the district secretary of the G.W.V.A., J. V. Conroy. "The ex-service men have lost in the resignation of this friend a man whose slogan was always that of unity and comradeship," said Mr. Marsh, "and we believe it will be difficult for his association to replace him."

Sergeant-Major J. V. Conroy, who is a profound linguist, is the descendant of a soldier who served under Wellington in the Peninsular wars. He is the son of a veteran of the Crimean war. His family has been known in Orange and Masonic circles. He initiated the idea of enrolling the V.C. veterans in Toronto during the "Ex" year. Also he was the first ex-service man to organize large demonstrations of ex-service men in the city. He has terminated considerable service since he joined the navy in 1881 with H.M.S. Temeraire. He has been with the G.A.U.V. and wears Khedive and other medals. He was also the first man to make representations on behalf of the unemployed ex-service men while finally resulted in the formation of the repatriation league, composed of representative business organizations in the city. Not only has he been a naval officer, but he has also traveled with the merchant marine of Britain, and has visited practically every well known port in the world.

RECORD O. T. A. FINE.

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., Oct. 5.—The most severe sentence yet given here under the O.T.A. was that passed in police court against Andrew Cheterbrook on a charge of keeping liquor in a public place. He was sentenced to spend three months in jail and to pay a fine of $1,500. Cheterbrook has previous convictions against him.
