LAST DAY OF THE FAIR AT SEASIDE

Today being the last half holiday for many employees, and also for the kiddies from school, a record attendance is expected at the Patriotic Fair, which will close tonight at Seaside Park.

Many improvements in lighting effects were noticeable last evening and the whole affair was conducted with a swing and dash that promises fun and enjoyment for the big crowds today.

Well-known business men on the pike, exploiting the attractions, were on hand again yesterday afternoon getting their new business down to a science, and the midway of today will be better managed and operated even than before.

Tonight the final prize winners will be announced for the following:

$10 gold piece, donated by Hon. J. B. M. Baxter.
$5 gold piece, from Commissioner Potts.
$5 cheque, Toledo Scale Co.
Ham from J. R. Hopkins.
Canoe from C. F. Tilton.
Cane (value $10), from J. W. Long.
2 boxes biscuits from Hamm Bros.
Cane (value $8), from J. R. Richards.
Half barrel "Purity" Flour from Kane & McDonald.
Patriotic picture from J. M. Roche & Co., Ltd.

The gold wrist watch, contributed by Ferguson & Page, was won by Andrew Gregory on a punch board, and as this prize drew a great deal of attention and

The Man In The Street

All aboard for Seaside!

What was said by almost everybody going to the fair: "Wouldn't it be great if the cars were running across the bridge now?"

Of course there were some who expressed themselves somewhat differently but they're the same people who use naughty words with regard to no night work being done in street or railway construction.

Blank Comment

"Silence is golden" the editor of the Standard probably murmured to himself as he paused for editorial comment, and then happened to spy the report of the Manitoba Royal Commission.

The editorial page was about as enlightening on this subject for Standard readers, as it was when the election was held in that province a few weeks ago.

Blind Justice

After the row over the efforts of a lady to raise money for the Belgians by selling clothes lines may we expect other similar displays of the public conscience? Will they take the next tag will they raid the patriotic fair for conducting gambling devices?

And the poor Belgians do not even get the $7 profit on the clothes lines because a by-law was overlooked!

Why Not Kill a Few More?

The Americans must feel neglected. Germany has not killed one of her citizens for several days.

But, since the United States has accepted the German apology so pleasantly, may not any murderer expect a pardon if he is willing to say that he did not mean to do it?

Boring for An Alibi

The Clarke government shows about as much originality in its attempts to conceal its Valley Railway policy as does the man who shews clothes before going home to his wife.

Even the government must find the borings a bore by this time.

The Way of the Transgressor

A commercial traveler who returned to St. John yesterday from Nova Scotia after a trip through the "horse country," tells of an embarrassing situation in which a speaker at a recruiting rally recently found himself. He had been concerned in some of the skits and bone purchases which have placed the Kentville district on the map, and his name was familiar not only to his neighbors but in other parts as well.

The honor of serving the colors was ably set forth. He used language fluent and forceful, became eloquent upon the duty of patriotic Canadians, and stirred his audience to an outbreak of applause. Taking advantage of the appreciative response, he poured a small glass of water for himself, and then paused a second for emphasis. He again struck an attitude and was about to resume his speech.

From the rear of the hall a hoarse voice shouted: "Whoa." The expression had a familiar sound. It caused the speaker to hesitate and in his stammering from another part of the hall was heard: "Glad-dap, glad-dap." The memory of Roy was horses sold for Canadian soldiers in the present crisis was too much and the orator closed his remarks abruptly and resumed his seat.

CONSTRUCTION CORPS AWAY TO FRANCE

The news that they are packing up preparatory to leaving for France is contained in a letter from Roy Cougle of the Canadian Overseas Railway Construction Corps to his wife in Fairville. He says:

"We were out to the range today and had a jolly time. We were there from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., quite a day of it. I received the tobacco you sent, and you don't know how I enjoyed it. There are seventy of us who have to go to church today, and if we don't, we go to the clinic; so I guess I'll go. By the time you get this letter we will be in France, as we expect to leave on Sunday. There are only five of us in the unit but now, and we are working packing up the stuff to take with us. I am quite well and enjoying camp life fine."

HALF HOLIDAY EVENTS

With ideal weather conditions prevailing and attractions of all kinds booked for the half holiday, the measure of expectations of pleasure seekers should be more than realized this afternoon. Aquatic sports, baseball games and fairs make up an interesting programme.

The R. K. Y. C. cruising race on the Kennebecasis river will undoubtedly attract many lovers of yacht racing. A large number of boats have entered and the race is under arbitrary handicap rules, the rivalry should be keen and the event an interesting one to watch.

The St. John Power Boat Club intend holding a speed motor boat race at Inlandtown. Several fast boats have entered and the event should attract a large number of people who enjoy that particular pastime. The race is for the Bullock Cup.

On the East End league grounds another interesting triple header will be played. As the result will determine the winner of the championship race the games should be exceptionally interesting and keenly contested.

Then there are the picture houses and the Opera House with good attractions.

A patriotic garden party will be held at the Grafton Institute, King street east, this afternoon and evening in aid of the Red Cross fund.

For those who wish to spend the day in the country and at the same time witness one of their favorite sports, a baseball—an opportunity will be afforded them as the boys from Riverdale Club will meet the Courtenays, of the Fairville League, at Grand Bay.

POLICE COURT.

In the police court this morning one man, arrested on a drunkenness charge, was fined $5 or two months in jail.

funeral will take place on Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from his late residence.

MAJOR FRANK MAGEE'S MEN LEFT ST. JOHN JUST A YEAR AGO TODAY

In marked contrast to their retreat of the present stage of the war, the Russians about this time a year ago were making their wonderful steam-roller advance into the enemy's country. A dispatch to the Times a year ago today told of their going steadily along and, besides taking new territory, capturing 100 guns and many German prisoners.

British marines were landed at Ostend about a year ago to defend the channel resort against German approaches.

The enemy however succeeded in piercing the Allies left flank, with a superior force. The Allies were fighting desperately to block the march of the enemy upon Paris for that was the ideal cherished by the Kaiser and his troops.

Locally the last goodbyes were being said by units of the 25th Battalion, under Major Magee, and numbering 254 men, marched to the station a year ago tonight, and entrained for Valenciennes in their midst were many who have since won honor and made sacrifices for the honor of king and country, well to serving the many complimentary words said of them on departure.

THIS FAMILY IS WELL DOING ITS SHARE IN WAR

Two Sons in 26th. Another in Munitions Work and Father Three Times Disappointed That He Was Not Accepted

A letter has been received from Lance Corporal George F. Glass by his mother, Mrs. James Glass, of 118 Spar Cove Road, from England, where he is in the ranks of the 26th Battalion. Another brother, Walter, is also serving with the 26th, while a third, James, is in a big munitions plant in England. He would be with the colors were it not that his skill as a workman makes him valuable at home.

James Glass, of St. John, the father of these three lads, has three times sought to join the volunteers, twice with the 26th and once with the 5th, and has been keenly disappointed because of being refused for medical reasons. Mrs. Glass, herself, has made her sacrifices most willingly, and said yesterday that her only regret was that there were not greater opportunities for women to serve.

The letter from her son was in part as follows:—"Last week we had an inspection by Bonar Law and Major General Hughes. I got the best soaking from the heavy rain that ever I have had. We marched about three miles to the inspection grounds and had been there about a quarter of an hour when the rain began to fall, and as we had no shelter or greatcoats everyone was wet through within half an hour. If you had seen us, you would have laughed. I took my coat and trousers two days to dry out."

We are having plenty of work now. We went on manoeuvres yesterday morning, returned at five in the afternoon, and were called out at ten that night. About twelve o'clock we received orders to lay out blankets and sleep in a couple of hours as we had to start operations at 2:30 in the morning. Well, I had just turned in when someone said "Look at the Zeppelins!" and sure enough, there was one over Dover about eight miles away, with four searchlights bearing on it, and many shells bursting about it. We watched for about ten minutes, and then it got out of range. Nobody seemed to take any more notice of it, so I turned over and went to sleep.

The papers next day said that the Zeppelins had been damaged by British aviators, but escaped to Ostend where it was wrecked. It did quite a lot of damage around Dover, killing one and injuring about fifteen persons.

Mrs. Glass, besides the members of her own family in the war, has several cousins with the colors.

HON. WM. PUGSLEY MARRIED TODAY

Weds Miss Gertrude MacDonald—Ceremony in Trinity Church, Boston

A Boston dispatch says:—The marriage of Hon. Wm. Pugsley, M. P., for St. John, N. B., and ex-minister of public works in the cabinet of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, to Miss Gertrude MacDonald, only daughter of the late Rev. Geo. W. MacDonald of St. John, N. B., was quietly celebrated at noon today in Trinity church, Boston. Among those present at the ceremony were Wm. G. Pugsley and John A. Pugsley, sons of the groom, and Mrs. Wm. G. Pugsley, Rev. Geo. W. MacDonald, brother of the bride, and Mrs. Wm. R. Dupee and her son, and Mr. and Mrs. John Newell of Boston, near relatives of the bride.

Mr. and Mrs. Pugsley left for New York immediately after the ceremony and it is expected that from there they will proceed to the Canadian west for a few weeks trip.

School Days Again

The teacher is lifting her arm to ring the bell that will call the children back to school.

And that means mother must begin to get ready.

The clothes must be gone over, the books must be got ready and a thousand and one things done.

Mother has so many things thrust at her that she is almost at a loss where to turn.

And right here she finds the advertising in The Telegraph and Times, the most helpful friend.
