

DEATHS

Mrs. W. W. Willard.
The death of Mrs. William Ward Willard, formerly of Moncton, but for many years a resident of New York, occurred in that city on March 23. Mrs. Willard was formerly Miss Jean Sandall, and was a daughter of the late John and Annie Sandall, formerly of St. John and Moncton. She is survived by her husband and one son, Ward, at home; one brother, W. T. Sandall, of New York, and one sister, Mrs. Charles Morrison, of Everett, Mass.

TWO CHILDREN ADMITTED.
The monthly meeting of the Children's Aid Society was held last night in the Children's Home, 68 Garden street with Mrs. W. B. Tennant, first vice-president, in the chair. The monthly report of the agent Rev. George Scott, showed that since the last meeting two children had been admitted to the home, making a total of 29 now in residence.

WEDDINGS

Hunter-Hall.

In St. Jude's church at 8 o'clock last evening the rector, Rev. J. H. A. Holmes united in marriage Rita May Hall, daughter of Mrs. Fred Gullen, West End, and Guy Hunter, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hunter of St. John. The bride looked very nice in a navy blue traveling suit, with hat to match, with a corsage bouquet of Ophelia roses. After the ceremony a dainty supper was served at the home of the brother of the bride, A. D. Hall. Mr. and Mrs. Hunter will reside at Loch Lomond.

THE CHIEF JUSTICE LOOKS INTO FUTURE

Speaks of Purpose of Vocational Training and What It May Mean.

The following is the concluding portion of Chief Justice McKeown's address on the subject of the vocational school for St. John, delivered last evening before the Canadian Club at the Hotel Dunlop. After reviewing the situation as he here met the Rotary and Gyro Clubs, the Chairman of the School Board said:—
"While we are here today to regard this matter from its most practical side, and to weigh the expenses involved against the effects reasonably to be anticipated in the life of the growing youth of the community, yet there is a far wider vision which opens itself for consideration. I touch upon it, but I failed to touch upon it, even with the brief period at my disposal.
"New discoveries, new methods, new views have totally recast our fundamental idea of the application of the physical powers of nature to our needs, and the uses we may make of them. Hard upon the heels of this reconstruction, must follow corresponding changes in our mental activities, and educational systems must re-align themselves to harmonize therewith.
"The material revolutions of the past are hundred years must reproduce themselves in intellectual disturbances and readjustments, leading to a direct and purposeful resolve to understand these marvels, and to further apply them to the betterment rather than to the destruction of human society. The mental relationship of the pupil must be towards, or in the direction of, the adaptation of the outstanding recently discovered forces of nature to daily life. If civilization is to persist, we cannot afford to lose an inch of the ground which science has won for us. Not only that, but there must be earnest and insistent pressing forward to new discoveries, and towards the uncovering of the powers of nature, which will give mankind a stronger position. The use of many discoveries of the forces of our natural world have added vigour to happiness and well-being of society. Electrically, radio, wireless telegraphy, and man's use of these and other forces, occur readily to one's mind, but because these have been discovered, it must not for a moment be thought that we have exhausted nature's storehouse of gifts. It must be that in other, and I believe in even fuller measure, the treasures as yet concealed in nature's great laboratories will be revealed to the inquiring mind of the investigator. The human mind will be sought. The power of the human intellect was never as strong as it is today, it never had at its disposal as many weapons wherewith to make the great assault, and in the discovery and utilization of nature's secrets is to be found the highway whereupon humanity will advance into a more contented and larger life.
"It is because I believe in the unfailing creative and constructive powers of the human mind, in contact with the already discovered, and to be discovered, great marvels—systems which content themselves with a mental equipment of burdensome and too often useless facts, which must inevitably be jettisoned early in life's voyage, if any port is to be reached. I believe we should bring the mind and eye and hand of the youth of this generation into the very presence of these great revelations, and urge them to think upon these things, and to work out the problems of the future advancement of scientific knowledge, and its application to human affairs. Success will come from such endeavor, and whether it be by way of the patient research, which, by the gift of Saunders wheat, has increased the yield of our grain growing regions by many millions, or in the triumphant isolation of that ingredient given to the world by another Canadian, the use of which has already saved the lives of hundreds of sufferers and has stopped forever the ravage of a dreadful malady, or in some other manifestation of equal, or perhaps greater, value in field yet uncharted—which ever form it may assume it is to the logical and successful evolution of vocational education that these benefits must be ascribed. In its farthest reach, this is the aim, the object, the duty of vocational education. I well, I think, to keep our attention upon these things, for who among us can deny that, from the humble beginnings of our vocational school, if such should be established, there may come men of the future who will take their stand with Professor Saunders and Dr. Baillie, those great Canadians whose benefits to humanity have signalled the first quarter of the present century?"

Brighten Up Your Home

EVERY room needs the brightening touch of Johnson's Polishing Wax. It will rejuvenate your furniture, woodwork, floors and linoleum, and give your home that fine air of immaculate cleanliness. It imparts a beautiful, lustrous polish which will not gather dust and lint—or show finger marks. Johnson's Prepared Wax cleans, polishes, preserves and protects—all in one operation.

JOHNSON'S Paste - Liquid - Powdered POLISHING WAX

The Secret of Beautiful Floors

Beautiful floors are largely a matter of prevention. The great secret is to put them in perfect condition and then keep them so. Doorways, stair-treads and tracks should be polished frequently. This requires but little time and effort if Johnson's Polishing Wax is used occasionally.

A Preserver of Linoleum

Your Linoleum will last longer and look better if you polish it occasionally with Johnson's Prepared Wax. Johnson's Wax prevents cracking and blistering—brings out the pattern and color—protects linoleum from wear and makes cleaning easy. Leading linoleum manufacturers recommend it.

Ideal Polish for Furniture

Johnson's Liquid Wax is a perfect furniture polish. It imparts a hard, dry, oil-less polish which will not finger print or collect dust and lint. It takes all the drudgery from dusting. Protects and preserves the varnish, adding years to its life and beauty. Covers up mars and small surface scratches.

Paste-Liquid-Powdered A Form for Every Use

Johnson's Polishing Wax is conveniently put up in three forms—Paste, Liquid and Powdered.

Use Johnson's Paste Wax for polishing floors of all kinds—wood, tile, marble, composition, linoleum, etc.

Use Johnson's Liquid Wax for polishing your furniture, woodwork, linoleum, leather, shoes and automobile.

Johnson's Powdered Wax makes perfect dancing floors.

PRESENT BOY BASKET FRUIT.

As an appreciation of past services and kindnesses the East End Boys' Club members last night presented a basket of fruit arranged in the club colors in a basket prettily trimmed with the club colors, orange, red and white, to Stanley McLaughlin, who formerly was a member of the leaders' corps and is now a patient in the General Public Hospital. The presentation was made on behalf of all the members by James Melvin, secretary of the club. The gift was received with an expression of grateful thanks for the generosity and kind thought of the boys.

An automobile tourist was travelling through the Northwest, when he met with a slight accident to his machine. In some way he had mislaid his monkey-wrench, so he stopped at a near-by farmhouse where the following conversation took place between him and the Swede farmer:
"Have you a monkey-wrench here?"
"Now, my brother, he got a cattle ranch (ranch) over there, my cousin he got a sheep ranch further down this road, but too cold here for monkey wrench."

$135,000 CASH FOR ORPHANAGE PAID IN

A meeting of the permanent home committee of the Protestant Orphanage board was held in the office of L. P. D. Tilley, the chairman, last night, and H. Usher Miller, treasurer of the building fund appeal, reported that contributions were coming in splendidly under the system of pledges, already $135,000 had been received in cash payments.
Tenders for the work of building the fireproof addition to the Protestant Orphanage Home, Manawagush road, have been called for by Garnet W. Wilson, architect. The addition will be slightly larger than the wing already nearly completed, and will measure 121 feet by 56 feet, being almost a duplicate of the first wing. The capacity of the two structures will be 100 girls and 80 boys, with receiving rooms for new cases and quarters for the staff.

After Macagnol had written "Cavalier, Rustic," he threw it into the fire, from where it was rescued by his wife.

FIVE INITIATED.

Five candidates were initiated at the meeting of Loyalist Temple, No. 12, Egyptian Sisters, held last night in the Temple of Honor Building, Main street. The work was put on by the officers and degree staff of Moulton Temple, No. 13, in an efficient manner. A new altar was used for the first time and was much admired. The altar was made and partly donated by Harry Willis. At the close of the meeting a social hour was enjoyed and refreshments served.

ATTENDANCE ABOVE 92 P. C.

In March there were four departments in the High School that had 98.8 percent attendance record, and no department in the High School had an attendance mark below 92. There were several storms in March as well as much good weather and the record is regarded a very good one.
