After a few remarks by the chairan, Mr. Scott was introduced as the first speaker. He told of the marvellous opment in Canada during the past en years, which had resulted in many itizens, especially those in the west, nassing much wealth. He was coninced after a study of economics that peculation meant that somebody got ething for nothing. He saw in single tax a cure for speculation. He was pleased to be informed that many unicipalities in British Columbia had introduced advanced legislation, which would ultimately be adopted elsewhere

Dr. Eaggleston, the next speaker, dehad been a liberal education. There was move and admonishing them to con-tine on "the right path."

Mr. Fels was then introduced by the chairman as "a preacher of the gospel of economic salvation through single tax." He said he had been not only surof the single tax idea, He had not anticipated finding the people so well informed on the principles enunciated by formed on the principles enunciated by Henry George, and British Columbia In addition to his speed he is right was to be congratulated on being well there with the sphere, and possesses to the fore in the movement for re-form.
