THE CANADIAN DRUG CO., LTD.

New Brunswick and the Imperial Institute.

To the Editor of The Telegraph:

Sir,—You have several times very kindly offered to publish anything which would be of public interest in connection with the work of bringing this province into prominence in Great Britain, in which I am now engaged on behalf of the New Brunswick government.

Taking advantage of this offer I wish through your columns to call the attention of the people of New Brunswick, and especially of the producers, to a subject which I have already mentioned several times in the press.

In the Daily Telegraph of July 17, and in the Gazette of the 26th in letters bearing on the work in question, I called attention, among other matters, to the New Brunswick exhibit in the Canadian section of the Imperial Institute, which the government has already begun to collect.

As the New Brunswick section in the Imperial Institute is perhaps the best situated in the Canadian section, being practically at the gateway of the whole division, and as the other Canadian provinces are getting together, it might be pardoned if the shows, which I wish to have the most of all the provincial exhibits, if this is our ambition in the matter, and a most praiseworthy one it would be, are lacking in a possible rival.

These are two maritime provinces, and these two maritime provinces have a tremendously greater variety of resources than any other portion of the Dominion. There is only one condition necessary to the success of the New Brunswick exhibit in the great Imperial Institute, and that is that the exhibitors should be given the opportunity to exhibit their products in a sufficiently direct interest in the matter to furnish specimens of their manufactures, or, for that matter, of their independent exhibits.

The exhibitors cannot be expected to furnish more than the exhibit of natural products, and it must depend upon the exhibitors to make the exhibit as a whole thoroughly representative. Of course, it is not as if there were no direct advantage to the exhibitors in the name of the firm or individual is attached conspicuously to each exhibit, which thus attracts the attention of the exhibitors.

For the benefit of the exhibitors, let me give a very short description of this institution and the functions which it was originally designed to serve, and more adequately being carried more and more adequately into effect.

In the beautiful and fashionable residential section of London, known as the South Kensington, near such celebrated public buildings as the Royal Albert Hall and the South Kensington Museum, and the British Museum, are now being erected and overshadowing them all in its grandeur stands the magnificent stone structure known as the Imperial Institute, one of the most imposing buildings in England, or, for that matter, in the world.

This beautiful edifice, the result of a mulk of no less than five years' work, is a most profound interest that practical Englishman, his royal highness, the Prince of Wales, has been built in five years, but already may be said to have done much toward practically assisting to knit more firmly than ever together the two Great Britain and her colonies.

There are four departments of the Imperial Institute which have a direct effect upon us.

1st. The Institute is a great imperial museum where every variety of product from every part of the empire is produced. These include not only the natural but also the manufactured products.

2nd. A division which is growing constantly in importance is the commercial intelligence department which deals with all inquiries relative to the various products exhibited, and puts in communication in communication with the producers in the colonies themselves. This service is carried on free of all cost to the exhibitor.

3rd. There is an analytical department, where any new product discovered in the empire is analyzed, its commercial capabilities determined and reported on to the exhibitor.

4th. There is a series of lectures given constantly relating to the different colonies, and illustrated with lantern slides, and in this department that in March last I gave the first of the series given in Great Britain relative to New Brunswick.

I am afraid I should need to give a great deal more space to the many interesting things that should go to make up the New Brunswick exhibit. The whole thing is summed up in saying that there should be a specimen of every product, either natural or manufactured, and that the natural products should be given the same service in the province before being sent to the exhibitor.

Now, however, this same department, where any new product discovered in the empire is analyzed, its commercial capabilities determined and reported on to the exhibitor.

TELEGRAMS FROM PEKIN

ARE NEARLY A WEEK OLD.

London, Aug. 29.—3.40 a. m.—That the inevitable delay in forwarding telegrams from the Chinese capital still continues is illustrated by the fact that the latest despatch from Pekin, the telegram of the special correspondent of the Associated Press, describing the search for Boxers in the Imperial park, is dated no later than Aug. 21.

There is no confirmation from any source of the report that a movement northward to clear the country and to insure free communication with Taku is in progress. In most cases, the government is unable to deal with Pekin itself, and the Japanese and Russians being at variance as to whether the imperial palaces should be destroyed.

There is no further news of the alleged detention of Li Hung Chang by the admirals. Probabilities increase that all the members of the imperial household have gotten safely to Shanghai, and that the houses of foreigners were riddled with shells, burned or blown up. An attempt was made to mine the Taku river, but this was not successful.

The St. Pierre report of a defeat suffered by the allies at Pekin is everywhere credited. The Chinese legation in St. Petersburg has received news that peace negotiations have already begun.

The Pekin correspondent of the Daily News in a despatch dated Aug. 17, asserts that the British minister, Mr. Drummond, is doing the honors of the city, and that the British minister, Mr. Drummond, is doing the honors of the city, and that the British minister, Mr. Drummond, is doing the honors of the city.

The United States willing to treat with Earl Li—Germany Objects.

Washington, Aug. 29.—After the cabinet meeting today it was announced that the government was in a waiting attitude regarding the Chinese situation, and that the government was in a waiting attitude regarding the Chinese situation, and that the government was in a waiting attitude regarding the Chinese situation.

The powers, however, seem slow to do anything. Several replies have been received to the instructions sent to American ambassadors and ministers last week asking them to sound the alarm to their governments to accept the sufficiency of Li Hung Chang's credentials, and to advise it as to whether they would accept the sufficiency of his credentials.

The United States Will Try to Prevent Partitioning of the Empire.

Washington, Aug. 29.—Several communications to Washington, the United States officials in China today, and being detained in most cases, the government was unable to deal with Pekin itself, and the Japanese and Russians being at variance as to whether the imperial palaces should be destroyed.

Marine Corps is suffering from typhoid fever and cannot be moved.

A large batch of refugees are due here tomorrow. The American Signal Service Corps, cooperating with that of the British, has completed the telegraph line from Taku to Pekin.

Captain John T. Myers, or "Jack" Myers, as he is familiarly known, who, according to a despatch received at the navy department in Washington from Admiral Kempff, July 5, was assigned to command the legion defenders at Pekin, was born in Germany and was appointed from the state of Georgia, entering the Marine Corps in September, 1887. He is the reputed author of the famous address, "The Hoop of the Kaiser," which involved Captain (Coughlin in some difficulty. He was attached to the flagship Baltimore and was afterward assigned to duty with the marines on board the battleship Oregon.
