The Mississauga News

You can't write Malton on your mail anymore

Malton as a "postal address" since 1820 will soon disappear. The name was chosen by the early settlers who arrived from England and maintained it without trouble until 1968, when the community became part of the town of Mississauga.

Following much confusion since then it was decided Malton was one of the mailing addresses which must go as of Jan. 1. No decision has yet been made on a proposal to introduce the postal zoning system in the town.

BINGO

The Bingo night on Dec. 16 at the Royal Canadian Legion Hall, Branch 528 was well attended. All present were hoping to be the lucky prize winner of a turkey sometime during the course of the evening. The annual event progressed well until all of a sudden the lights went out.

SCHOOLS OPEN

Schools will open their doors again on Monday, January 4. Regular classes will begin at 9 a.m.

MARVIN HEIGHTS

On Dec. 18 a packed gym at the Marvin Heights Public School celebrated Christmas during their last assembly before the holidays. Grade 4 students were in charge of the program and depicted Christmas as it is in Australia, Austria and Holland.

In the last skit the group had principal, Mr. Gordon Lessard, singing, solo no less, before he could open his gift.

The Nativity Scene, Night before Christmas, Frosty the Snowman and Letter-son Christmas were all done by the youngsters with talent and great imagination. The choir under the direction of Mrs. Joyce Chataway sang several numbers in between the scenes. Much credit goes out to the school staff who spent long hours rehearsing and making costumes and de-

Holiday recipe

There's no more seasonal color than red, and there's nothing redder than the chubby, shiny-faced Edam cheese from Holland. Here's an engaging centrepiece for your New Year's entertaining that allows you to eat your cheese and show it.

INGREDIENTS

- 1 imported Holland Edam cheese (1 lb., 14 oz. ball)
- 1/3 cup port wine
- 1/3 cup mayonnaise
- 1/4 cup chopped nuts

Cut a two or three inch diameter slice from top of imported Holland Edam ball; do not remove wax coating from slice or ball. Scoop out the cheese leaving 1/4 inch all around to form shell. Put the scooped out Edam through food chopper using fine blade.

Gradually blend cheese, mayonnaise and remaining ingredients in a mixer at medium speed. (Or place cheese and mayonnaise in blender at high speed until smooth, then gradually add remaining ingredients.) Mixture should be smooth and spreadable.

Stuff the cheese shell with the mixture and cover with top. Place miniature marshmallows on wax coating to make clock numerals; form the hands from strips of large marshmallow.

If you cut the marshmallows in half, the cut side will stick readily to the wax. Place bowl in refrigerator; remove an hour before serving. Surround bowl with crisp crackers and fresh vegetable slices.

Filling variation:

- Imported Holland Edam cheese
- 1/3 cup beer
- 1/3 cup mayonnaise
- 1/2 teaspoon caraway seeds
