make, in the way of communicating with either of the gentlemen herein mentioned, or considering any other course you may advise. But I feel sure I voice the hopes of Liberals everywhere that such a course may be immediately adopted as will avoid conflict with the Grain Growers' Association and at the same time ensure the return to Parliament of a candidate who upon reaching Ottawa will be ready to take his seat on our side of the House.

I am anxious to avoid troubling you with correspondence, but if on receipt of this letter you can conveniently let me know just how matters stand, and what is proposed, I shall be deeply grateful.

Yours very sincerely,

Since dictating the above, I have been talking with the Hon. Mr. McNab. He is of the opinion that Mr. Motherwell would make the best run and might be induced to accept the nomination. I, of course, am completely in the dark as to what is best. This letter is intended only as evidencing a desire for what may be best.
