

Romania has integrated over the centuries (without always assimilating, which is the equivalent of cultural genocide) all who came and remained to become sons of that land. The cultural ethnocide Mr Pilisi talks about is a false issue to bring into our Canadian lives. It pits us one against the other by means of ancient elements of conflicts that 1,000 years of history have not been able to settle. Instead, let us together condemn the absence of liberty in Romania and in all other countries under Communist rule. Let us condemn the personality cult, the regimenting of intellectuals who are given no other choice but jail or exile, the censorship, the Berlin Wall and the totalitarianism. But for pity's sake let us, Romanians and Hungarians, unite against the common aggressor, the Soviet Union of ancient and modern Tsars.
