Maddock, Esq., "Brightside," Guelph.

WATCHING FOR FAULTS.

'When I was a boy,' said an old man, 'I was very often idle, and used to play during lessons with other boys as idle as myself. One day we were fairly caught by the master.' "Boys," he said, "you must not be idle—you must attend closely to your books. The first of you who sees another boy idle will please come and tell me."

"Ah," I thought to myself, "there is Joe Simmons, that I don't like; I'll watch him, if I see him look off his book I'll tell."

"It was not long until I saw Joe look off his book, and went up at once to tell the master."

"Indeed," said he, "how did you know he was idle?"

"I saw him," said I.

"You did? and were your eyes on your book when you saw him?"

"I was caught, and the other boys laughed, and I never watched for idle boys again."

If we watch over our own conduct, and try to keep it right, and always do our own duty, we will not have time to watch for faults or idleness in others.

EASY VICTIMS.

A Large Percentage of Members in the Commons Suffer from Catarrh—The Hope of Fifty Found in Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Powder—They tell Their Own Story of Successful Recovery Through this Remedy.

Mr. W. H. Bennett, Member for East Simcoe, and Forty-nine others of the House of Commons, have, over their own signatures, told of the good effects of Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Powder. What the remedy has done for these Parliamentarians it is doing for thousands of others in public and private life the Dominion over. With cold in the head it gives immediate relief inside of half an hour, and a little perseverance quickly rids the head of all trouble. It is easy and pleasant to use, and produces no hurtful after-effects.

THE SMILE OF GREETING.

Why do we not always smile whenever we meet the eye of a fellow-being? That is the true recognition which ought to pass from soul to soul constantly. Little children in simple communities, do this involuntarily, unconsciously. The honest-hearted German peasant does it. It is like magical sunlight all through that simple land, the perpetual greeting on the right hand and the left between strangers as they pass by each other, never without a smile.

HOW HE WAS CAUGHT.

He looked so happy, this smooth-coated bay horse, rolling and running about the great meadow. Somebody had forgotten to fasten him in the stable, and he, like a boy tired of school, decided he would please himself now that he had the opportunity. In a moment after discovering that his halter was loose he was out of doors and running and jumping about the meadow. His owner discovered that his horse was out of the stable and ran out to get him. He called and called. The horse would stop and listen, shake his head, throw up his heels, and run to the further corner of the meadow, saying plainly, "No, no! I know how to have a good time!" The owner was in despair. Some one said, "Try a pan of oats." The oats were brought, and the horse immediately came toward them. He looked suspicious, but the owner shook the pan of oats—that was a delicious sound to the horse's ears, and he came closer. They did look as if they would taste very good. He took a step still nearer, put his nose in the pan, and then, before he knew how to explain it, he was in the stable, with the halter securely tied. When he thought it over, he could not explain it. It was the oats that caught him.

THE OLD KAISER'S VISIT.

A pleasant story is told of old Kaiser Wilhelm, who at the age of eighty-five, paid a visit to a large orphan asylum and school at Ems. After listening with much interest to the recitation of several of the classes, he called to him a bright flaxen-haired little girl of five or six years, and, lifting her into his lap, said to her:

"Now, my little fraulein, let me see how well you have been taught. To what kingdom does this belong?" and taking out of his pocket an orange, he held it up to her.

The little girl looking up in his face, replied, "To the vegetable kingdom."

"Very good, my little fraulein; and now to what kingdom does this belong?" and he drew out of his pocket a gold piece and placed it on top of the orange.

The little girl replied, "To the mineral kingdom."

"Better and better," he said, "Now look at me, and say to what kingdom I belong."

The little girl hesitated long, as if perplexed as to what answer she should give. Was the Emperor an animal? Then she looked up into his face with a frightened look, and, as if she were evading the question, replied: "To the kingdom of heaven."

The unexpected answer brought tears to the German Emperor's eyes.

"Yes, yes, my little fraulein," said he; "I trust I do belong to God's kingdom. And you think it time I was there, do you not? Well the day is not very distant."

HER OWN WAY.

Ada was a little girl who liked her own way, and sometimes forgot that her mamma must know better than she did.

One day she had been dressed to go down into the drawing-room. It was very hot, but she was nice and cool in her white frock. The windows opened on to the lawn, and beyond that was a field where the hay was being made.

'By-and-by,' said Ada's mamma, 'you shall go and help toss it about; it is too hot now.'

Just then she was called away, and Ada went to the window and watched the men at work.

'How nice it must be out there!' sighed Ada. 'I don't believe its hot at all. I'll go and try, just for a minute. I'm sure it will not hurt me.'

Once in the field it was not likely she would come back. Oh no! for when once we turn aside from doing what is right, it is easy to go on and hard to return.

When mamma came back into the room again she was sorry to see Ada in the hay field.

There was no more haymaking for Ada that night. She had taken cold after getting very hot in the field, and so had to stay in bed two or three days.

'Oh, mamma!' cried Ada, 'I'll never want my own way again, for it does not make me happy.'

'No, my child,' replied mamma, 'it does not. I'm glad you've found it out, and we will ask God to help you not to forget it.'

AWFUL HEART DISEASE.

Death Charmed away Under the Spell of Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart—More Wonderful than a Fairy Tale is the Story of Mrs. Roadhouse, of Willscroft, Ont.

Where disease has affected the heart the remedy to be applied must be speedy in its effects, or all may be lost. Mrs. Roadhouse, of Willscroft, Ont. says: "Cold sweat would stand out in great beads upon my face, because of the intense suffering from heart disease. I often felt that the death struggle was at hand. No medicine gave me help until I used Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart. In thirty minutes the severe pain was removed, and after taking little more than one bottle the trouble had vanished. I know nothing of it to-day."

—Mark the man or woman who seeks and sees something good in everybody; there goes a magnificent soul.

WONDERFUL.

Piles Cured in 3 to 6 Nights—Itching, Burning Skin Diseases Relieved in one day.

Dr. Agnew's Ointment will cure all cases of itching piles in from three to six nights. One application brings comfort. For blind and bleeding piles it is peerless. Also cures tetter, salt rheum, eczema, barber's itch and all eruptions of the skin. Relieves in a day. 35 cents.

—We find an example of liberal giving among the Christians of Ceylon, which is commendable, and really put to shame our giving. Four methods of giving are practised: First, the tithes of their earnings; second, the setting apart by each of a tree, the products of which is for benevolent purposes; third, an offering of labor; fourth, a handful of rice for every day's meal. Truly they know the blessedness of giving.'

—It is almost presumptuous to think you can do nothing as to think you can do everything.

—We know the great cures by Hood's Sarsaparilla are genuine because the people themselves write about them.
