Manfrs. and Pro. "St. Augustine Wine."Synopsis of Canadian North-West*HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS.

ANY even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section of 160 acres, more or less.

Application for entry must be made in person by the applicant at a Dominion Lands Agency or Sub-agency for the district in which the land is situated. Entry by proxy may however be made at any Agency on certain conditions by the father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of an intending homesteader.

The homesteader is required to perform the homestead duties under one of the following plans:

- (1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year for three years.
- (2) A homesteader may, if he so desires, perform the required residence duties by living on farming land owned solely by him, not less than eighty (80) acres in extent, in the vicinity of his homestead. Joint ownership in land will not meet this requirement.
- (3) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of a homesteader has permanent residence on farming land owned solely by him, not less than eighty (80) acres in extent, in the vicinity of the homestead, or upon a homestead entered for by him in the vicinity, such homesteader may perform his own residence duties by living with the father (or mother).
- (4) The term "vicinity" in the two preceding paragraphs is defined as meaning not more than nine miles in a direct line, exclusive of the width of road allowances crossed in the measurement.
- (5) A homesteader intending to perform his residence duties in accordance with the above while living with parents or on farming land owned by himself must notify the Agent for the district of such intention.

Six months' notice in writing must be given to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa of intention to apply for patent.

The "Old Church," as it is familiarly called, of Chelsea, is one of the most interesting in London. Some parts of it date back to the fourteenth century. It was here that Henry VIII. married Jane Seymour. It was here Sir Thomas Moore sang, and here, too, he "confessed" and received the Communion on the morning of his trial at Lambeth. Among the monuments in the church are those in memory of Jane Dudley, Duchess of Northumberland, also her husband and son, and of Lady Jane Grey, all beheaded on Tower Hill. Other relics include a set of chained books, including a beautifully illustrated "Vinegar" Bible.

A sacred building diverted from its original purpose and again restored to its proper use is the noble chancel of the Parish Church of Atherstone, for which an appeal is being made towards its reparation. This chancel, formerly the chantry of the old Austin Friars, was built in the reign of Richard II., and it was here that Henry, Earl of Richmond, on his way to Bosworth Field, eight miles away, partook of the Sacrament and craved the blessing of Holy Church on his enterprise, which resulted in the overthrow of Crookbacked Richard. At the dissolution of the monasteries the chancel was used as a grammar school, but through the exertions of the late vicar it was acquired and restored to its religious uses.

There has lately been placed in the Parish Church of Streatham (St. Leonard's) a handsome oak tablet, the gift of an anonymous donor, on which are carved the names of all the rectors from 1313 to the present time. The name of Richard de Brampton is the first which appears in the Episcopal registers of Winchester, but there may have been a Parish Church here at an earlier date, as it recorded in Domesday Book that Streatham had a "chapel." As in most other English parishes, the spiritual chief of the Anglican Church played no conspicuous part in history, and the names best known are those of Benjamin Hoadley (1710), afterwards Bishop of Bangor, Hereford, Salisbury, and Winchester, the cause of "the Bangorian Controversy"; Herbert Hill (1810), the be-
