GOD SAVE THE KING.

To-day is the anniversary of the birth of His Majesty Edward VII., and his devoted and loyal subjects in the Dominions over the Seas heartily unite in praying, "God Save Our King."

"THOU SHALT NOT STEAL."

The problem arising from the aggrandizement of wealth may be briefly stated thus: To find and mark the place in the accumulation of wealth where a man ceases to collect money fairly earned by service to society and keeps on collecting morally unearned money to use in giving him improper power over society. But to find and mark that place requires a moral and spiritual growth among the people. Perhaps a thousand or ten thousand men in America might find and mark the deadline now, but until the great mass of the population learn "Thou shalt not steal" in some other manner than by rote, until they make the commandment as much a part of their lives as they make the commandment against murder, they will not have the moral sense to find the place where a man's accumulation of wealth must stop, nor the moral fervor to stop it. The pyramid of government may not stand upon its apex now any better than it could 10,000 years ago. Until men cease to wrong one another in small private transactions, they cannot in justice demand as rights the suppression of similar large public transactions by their government. The public rights of the masses are circumscribed by the private wrong upheld by the masses.—Atlantic Monthly.

A GAME PROTECTIVE ASSOCIATION IN KENT.

That there is considerable necessity for certain amendments in the Game Laws is universally conceded by every sportsman interested in the protection of our game. There may be some honest differences of opinion as to the exact nature of the changes required, but that there is room for improvement no one questions.

The Planet would suggest the formation of a Game Protective Association in Kent County for the purpose of considering these and other matters. We would like to see a representative meeting of the sportsmen called with a view to formulating such suggestions as would be decided upon and laying them before the Government for consideration. The Government would appreciate suggestions from such an authoritative and competent source and would be ready to give them full consideration. Game Warden Wigle, one of the best and most efficient officials engaged in the duty of administering the game laws, would, we are assured, be pleased to assist the work of such an Association to the greatest extent possible.

We commend the suggestion for an early calling of a meeting for organization to all those interested in the preservation and protection of our game.

GETTING AT THE FACTS.

The census taker rapped at the door of the little farmhouse and opened his long book. A plump girl of about eighteen came to the door, and blinked at him stupidly.

"How many people live here?" he began.
"Nobody lives here. We are only staying through the hop season."
"How many of you are there here?"
"I'm here. Father's in the woodshed, and Bill is—"
"See here, my girl, I want to know how many inmates there are in this house. How many people slept here last night?"
"Nobody slept here, sir. I had the toothache dreadful and my little brother had the stomachache, and the new hand that's helping us got sunburned so on his back that he has blisters the size of eggs; and we all took on so that nobody slept a wink all night long."—Youths' Companion.

BREATHE HEALING BAL-SAMS

Hymel, the Medicated-Air Catarrh Cure, Endorsed by Physicians.

No one should confound Hymel with the patent medicines that are advertised to cure catarrh. It is as superior to them all as the diamond is more valuable than cheap glass. Their composition is secret, but Hymel gives its formula to all reputable physicians.
Its base is the famous eucalyptus oil, well known for its antiseptic qualities. This is combined with aromatic and healing gums and balsams, making a pure liquid which, when used in the Hymel pocket inhaler, fills the air you breathe with germ killing, disease destroying and healing powers that restore health to every part of the throat, nose and lungs.

Hymel is endorsed by physicians generally. Many of them use it themselves to break up a cold and prevent pneumonia. It is the only natural and rational way of curing catarrh.

Would it be a common sense treatment to try and cure a corn by stomach dosing? Is it not just as foolish to try and cure catarrh of the head and throat by swallowing tablets or liquids? The only natural way to treat this disease and all diseases of the respiratory organs is to breathe Hymel.

If you cannot obtain Hymel of your dealer, it will be forwarded by mail, postage paid, on receipt of price. Write to-day for consultation blank that will enable you to services of our medical department without charge. The R. T. Booth Company, Hymel Building, Ithaca, N. Y.

For a Boy's Room.

Mission furniture is in good taste. A brown or medium tint for the wall paper makes an attractive background for pictures. The floor could be painted brown, and with this it would be effective to have a light yellow ceiling and yellow curtains. It would be pretty also to have the woodwork stained a light brown. Have the rugs or floor covering brown, says the Washington Star. Other accessories to its complete furnishing are two straight back chairs, two comfortable armchairs, a screen, which may be of burlap. A firm table is a necessity. Low bookcases should be placed in the room, and if not enough books to fill them the collection of a library should be commenced. A plant or two are pretty, as is also a settle with a few cushions. If there is a fireplace in the room it may be made attractive. One large picture may be hung over it, and any picture must be chosen with excellent taste and individuality, and care must be exercised not to crowd pictures into a room, as it ruins the entire effect.

Don't Fidget.

Don't fidget. This is one of the cardinal points of etiquette. If inclined to be restless, girls should never admit that they are nervous. Avoid rocking chairs when you are entertaining or being entertained. Keep your feet still and never call attention to them by crossing your knees and thrusting your foot forward. Hobbies belong exclusively to the male sex and a girl need never be at a loss to know what to do with her hands and feet. Don't play with the tassels of a shade, a table cover or an ornament lying close to your hand. When at table, learn never to touch anything until you are served and the meal has fairly begun.

It's a dead town that boasts of its cemetery.

The Gentle Kidney Cure.

Don't think that Bu-Ju is not effective because it does not "tear things loose." The man, who talks most, does least. Kidney remedies that purge—and over-stimulate the kidneys—upset the stomach, are going to do you mighty little good.

Bu-Ju

THE GENTLE KIDNEY CURE goes about curing you gently, mildly, correctly. You never know you are taking medicine except that you begin to get better and keep on getting better. Bu-Ju heals inflammation in the kidneys—takes away that sharp pain in the back and the dull ache through the hips—stops excessive urination—and enables the diseased portions of the kidneys to heal and strengthen.

HERB. W. EDWARDS INJURED.

Herb W. Edwards, of Des Moines, Iowa, got a fall on an icy walk last winter, spraining his wrist and knee. "The next day," he says, "they were so sore and stiff I was afraid I would never be able to get on my feet. I tried to get on my feet, but I rubbed them with a few applications of Pain Balm and after a few days I felt that this bottle of Pain Balm saved me several days' time, to say nothing of the suffering. This liniment is for sale by all druggists."

A very interesting address was given by the President, Mrs. Forbes, of Jeannette's Creek. In the evening Rev. J. M. Nicol, B. A., pastor of Knox church, Wallaceburg, was in the chair and welcomed the visitors. Rev. Mr. Lindsay, of Dresden, delegate for the Presbytery, gave some very interesting remarks. Dr. Smith, of Comber, a returned missionary of India and China, was present. He is a very clever and pleasing speaker, and his remarks on the mission fields, where he had labored, were very instructive and interesting, and the society were more than pleased to have Dr. Smith with them. ## BUBBLES.

What dear delight
It is to sit
And dream at night
You've made a hit.
You see success
Within your grip
And rather guess
She's yours this trip.

Up chimney leaps
The crackling flame;
The soft heat creeps
Into your frame;
You softly purr
(Your joys augment),
Nor move nor stir,
In deep content.

Across your sight
A golden stream
Of dollars bright
Illumes your dream
For you no more
The blighting cold;
It flees before
Your stream of gold.

You see your name
In letters writ
With pen of flame—
Bang! goes a door;
You wake dead broke,
A dream once more
Gone up in smoke.

T All He Needed.

"I'll give you three wishes," said the kind fairy, suddenly appearing to the man.
"All right," said the man. "My first will be for $1,000,000."
"It is yours," said the fairy. "Now for the other two."
"Oh, never mind about them," said the man resignedly. "I'll see to the rest myself."

A Visitation.

Now come the fall elections.
Some states have 'em.
And some, more favored by Providence,
Miss 'em.
It is a good misadventure.
Once in two years is enough
To try to convince the dear ones
And your mother-in-law
That you are crazy.
States that used to have 'em
Once a year
As regularly as ague
In a swamp country
Have cut 'em out
And survive the operation
Very nicely.
This idea of saving the country
Too often
Is all wrong.
If the country appreciated being saved,
But it doesn't.

It is totally inadequate to the labor.
About all a man gets out of it
Is a cheap cigar
That you are crazy.
States that used to have 'em
Once a year
As regularly as ague
In a swamp country
Have cut 'em out
And survive the operation
Very nicely.
This idea of saving the country
Too often
Is all wrong.
If the country appreciated being saved,
But it doesn't.

Gratitude is the thing you feel when you hope that some more of the same

Pride is an expensive thing to have,

Our own errors in judgment are usually about as many as are the downright meannesses of the people we know.

YOUR FINGERS.

Some Facts About Their Tips and a Couple of Tricks.

Press the finger tips of one hand forcibly against those of the other hand and open and shut the hands slightly. Shut your eyes and do this several times, and the feeling will be such that you can easily believe you are holding coins between the finger tips.

Spread the fingers of each hand, holding them far apart, and shake the hands swiftly, freely and forcibly from the wrist for several seconds. The air currents between the fingers will give a sensation as if the hands were full of cotton or some woolly substance.

Look closely at the inside of the fingers near the tips. You will see furrows running in curved lines. They appear like mere lines, but if you look at them through a magnifying glass you will see they are really slight furrows, or rub chalk or powder over them, and they will be outlined in white.

It is said that no two persons have these markings exactly alike, and also that the markings remain the same through life in each individual. You may test this by taking a print of your own. Spread some ink thinly over a piece of glass or paper; when the ink is nearly dry press the fingers on it lightly and then on a piece of clean white paper. A few trials will give you some very good prints. By taking these prints every year you may find out for yourself whether these lines remain unchanged.

Students Must Have High Ideals.

Whatever the student's bent, whatever his ultimate intention in the way of practice may be, the same simple rules will hold good. He must be earnest in his desire to learn, and he must never be contented with partially understanding. He must be methodical, working according to a plan and ready to sacrifice his personal pleasures and comforts to carry out that plan. And he must keep before him a high ideal of his professional duties, ever remembering that his mission is to prevent disease and heal the sick. He has joined an altruistic profession one where the rewards are often incommensurate altogether with the labors, but one where his power of doing good, if thoroughly and intelligently exerted, will be greater than it would be in any other walk of life.—The Lancet.

COMMON ERRORS IN SPEECH

Who does not make errors in every day speech? As a matter of fact it is very unusual to find any person whose use of the English language is absolutely correct. The following are examples of some very frequent errors or faulty expressions often heard:

"Let you and I go"—should be "you and me."

"I am as good as her"—should be "as she."

"You are younger than me"—should be "than I."

"Come to dinner with John and I"—should be "John and me."

"Between you and I"—should be "you and me."

"Where are you going? Who? Me?"—should be "Who? I?"

"Who do you see?"—should be "whom."

"If I was her"—should be "If I were she."

"Was it him?"—should be "Was it he?"

"Who was it by?"—should be "whom."

These examples of "Faulty Diction" are so common that many people look upon the proper form as being the incorrect one, and Thos. H. Russell, L. L. B., editor-in-chief of Webster's Imperial Dictionary, has done the public a great service in having written the new book, entitled "Diction, or Errors in the Use of the English Language and How to Correct Them," which the publishers have, by printing it on thin Bible paper, succeeded in getting into what may be called Vest-Pocket size.

Illustrating the comprehensive treatment that has been given the subject by the author, there are 1,017 headings treated in the book, under some of which "plurals" for instance—over fifty errors that are not at all unusual are to be found illustrated and corrected.

It is rarely one's good fortune to become possessed of so valuable a book, and especially one so compact and of as much general interest. It is handsomely bound in embossed Russia leather and will be sent postpaid on receipt of 50c. to any address by Geo. W. Ogilvie & Co., Publishers, 169 E. Randolph Street, Chicago, Ill. They also publish the same book in cloth binding and will send a copy of it in that style on receipt of 25c.
