PROHIBITION IN CANADA

Hon. P. C. Larkin, High Commissioner of Canada, arrived in England last week and, in an interview published in the Press, he gave his views on the effect of prohibition in Canada. The fact that he is not himself an abstainer gives all the more weight to his testimony to the beneficial results of the abolition of the liquor traffic. Generally speaking, he says that prohibition is popular in the Dominion and is already producing very striking effects. By direct and indirect means, Canada is saving the interest on her public debt. This, of course, is a hint to ourselves. Our expenditure on drink last year was upwards of 400,000,000 pounds so that prohibition in this country would at once and directly cover the interest on our debt, vast as it is. But it is in other directions that Mr. Larkin sees the most beneficial effects of prohibition. It is always the poorest and the weakest classes of the community which suffer most from the evils of drink, and it is therefore they who benefit most from the removal of those evils. Mr. Larkin notes especially that debts are paid more regularly in a "dry" Canada than they were in a "wet" one, and that employers find that their workpeople waste less time and do their work better. This is also the experience of America, and it has been one of the chief reasons why the great employers of labor in the States have throughout given their support to the prohibition movement.—From The British Weekly.

BOOST YOUR OWN TOWN

One of the evils of trading with mail houses (Yes, we are at it again, dear reader) is seen in the effects on the schools. That may seem a trifle far fetched at first but let us see how it works out. As you all know, the schools are dependent for their buildings, for their equipment, for their teaching staff, for every small outlay of money, upon the taxes paid by the community. The prosperity and fitness of the schools depend upon the size of those taxes. Now, as you all know, the amount of the taxes depend upon the wealth of the community and to a large extent, that wealth depends upon the amount of money that is spent in the community. After all, the town loafer has his purpose just as the drone serves a purpose in the hive. He shows up to a greater advantage the work that the others are doing and thus encourages them to keep on. Spend your money at home, the merchant puts it into merchandise that is taxable and that helps support the school, the laborer invests it in a home and in his turn is taxed. It is on the taxes that the school depends. Spend your money away from home and it is gone for good. Some merchant you do not know is benefitted; some other community's wealth is increased; some other high school can have new and better equipment. Where is the advantage in that?

DISRAELI FILM IS MASTERPIECE

The Victorian Era, rich as it was in great men, brilliant in its record of illustrious figures who trod the stage of history for a brief space, illuminating the pages of Britain's story with deeds that raised up empires and brought empires crumbling to the dust, produced no more remarkable man than Benjamin Disraeli. A statesman who graduated step by step from the humblest ranks, a man whose enemies cursed as an opportunist and whose friends were puzzled for a word to embrace him, Disraeli was brilliant in his achievements and never more scintillating than in his reverses. His whole character stands out in bold relief against that of his lifelong opponent, Gladstone. The former was subtle and rapier-like in thought and word, the latter ponderous, overwhelming and virtuously dignified. Disraeli did not hesitate to employ small men and small means to attempt the attainment of big things; his methods were un-English, revolting to the dignity of his party, but they were the methods of Disraeli. Their result was beneficial to England; they served England's purpose in a time when statesmanship was a combination of craft and cross-dealing. In the great picture of that name, Disraeli is made to live again. One is transported back to the reign of Queen Victoria and once again we see England as she was in the flood-tide of her greatness, England whose navies controlled the seven seas and whose armies stood guard at the outer doors of the far-flung empire. No more charming and educationally invaluable film has ever been thrown on the screen, and it would be a tribute to one's own grasp of "welt-politik" to see the masterpiece of George Arliss, at the Opera House next Monday afternoon and evening.

THE PROVERBS SOUND FAMILIAR

What is home without another? A fool and his honey are soon mated. Eat your steak or you'll have stew. Stays make waist. As you sew so must you rip. A lie in time saves nine. One touch of nature makes the whole world squirm. Matri-money is the root of all evil. Necessity is the mother of invention. Sweet are the uses of diversity. A word to the wise is resented. Where there's a will there's a lawsuit. Hell is paved with big pretensions. Pride will have a Fall bonnet. Pride goeth before and the bill cometh after. There is no soak without some fire water. Misery loves company, but company does not reciprocate. Look before you sleep. Many are called but few get up. It's a strong stomach that has no turning Saint heart ne'er won fair lady. Silence gives content. People who love in glass houses should pull down the blinds. Honor is without profit—in most countries. A church fair exchange is robbery. Fools rush in and win—where angels fear to tread. Consistency, thou art a mule! Economy is the thief of time. A bird on a bonnet is worth ten on a plate. Displays are dangerous. GREENWICH NOTES

Last Tuesday evening, Mrs. Lee Bishop, Misses Mary, Harvey, Esther Pearson and Annie Pearson, with Gil Rand of Wolfville acting as chauffeur, motored over to Canning, where they enjoyed the play, "The County Doctor", given at the Armories by the Canning Dramatic Club. The same play was put on at our hall a few years ago, by our "Greenwich Dramatic Club". It is a good play. Another splendid play, "Breezy Point", which was played by our club at our hall and other places a few years ago, was again the cause of renewed interest by many here during the past winter, as the Halifax papers stated at times "Breezy Point" being given in both Halifax and Dartmouth, by local Clubs.

We understand Mr. Burpee Bishop and boys, recently enjoyed a fishing trip thereby testing the fine new boat made by Mr. Bishop this Spring.

Mrs. Bryon Cox, entertained a good number of the married ladies on Wednesday evening last week. Dainty refreshments were served and a pleasant evening enjoyed by all present. Mrs. J. Robertson was guest of honour as she will soon be leaving us, with her husband, children and aged mother, Mrs. Lovett Bishop, to again make their home in the Canadian West.

"Arbour Day" was observed by the teacher and pupils of our school last Friday. They cleaned up the school ground etc.

The news of the marriage to take place in June, of Harry Morse of Kentville, to Miss Sealy of the same town, was received with interest by many in this place, as Harry was formerly one of our boys, being the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Morse, now of Kentville, but for many years highly respected residents of this place.

Miss Isabelle Hawley, whose home is in New Brunswick, was the guest of Mrs. George Bishop for the week-end and a few days this week.

Miss Ethel Fisher, our teacher, spent Sunday with friends in Kingston.

Mrs. T. Andrew Pearson spent the week-end in Middleton, having received word of the death on Friday of Mrs. Lewis Shaffner of that place. Mr. Pearson and daughter motored through to Middleton on Sunday to attend the funeral of Mrs. Shaffner.

NEW COAT-OF-ARMS REPLACES SHIELD

OTTAWA, April 28.—The Government has passed regulations whereby the new Canadian coat-of-arms replaces the shield at present in use on the Canadian red ensign and the blue ensign flown on the ships of the navy and those in the Canadian Government service. The change goes into effect as from April 26, but use of flags bearing the old shield is permitted up to March 31, 1924.

"What I did to cure a cough which was Racking my system to pieces."

"One very hot evening last summer, while in the mountains, a cool breeze suddenly came up, which left me thoroughly chilled. Next day I felt a slight cold in my head but thought nothing of it. The following day the cold had developed into a cough. This kept up for some weeks but instead of getting better the cough kept getting worse. A tickling sensation developed in my throat. I tried everything I could think of to get rid of it. It was worse when I went to bed. As soon as I laid down the tickling sensation started and the only relief I could get was to sit up in bed. Towards morning, I sometimes, from sheer exhaustion, managed to get a little sleep. During all this time my cough was getting worse. Sometimes in these severe fits of coughing spasms I was left weak and exhausted. Anything I tried only gave me temporary relief. I couldn't take anything but liquid foods. I couldn't sleep. I was losing weight every day. At times I suffered the most intense agony with headaches. A friend of mine told me about Carnol. After trying it for three weeks I noticed that my cough was beginning to soften, that my appetite was returning, that the headaches had left me, that I slept longer. After taking seven bottles of Carnol, I am perfectly well and enjoying better health than I have ever had before in my life."

Writes Mrs. J. of Montreal

Carnol is sold by your druggist and if you can conscientiously say, after you have tried it, that it hasn't done you any good, return the empty bottle to him and he will refund your money. 10-172

The Ideal Bathtub for Baby EDDY'S Indurated Fibreware Washbath is just the thing for baby's bath. Besides being light, easy to handle and unbreakable, it has a surface which cannot cause injury—no cracks, no joints, no nails or rivets. It is moulded in one piece and unlike wood, it cannot splinter or come apart. It is much superior to metal because it cannot dent or rust. Metal tubs quickly absorb heat and are liable to scald baby's skin, even after cold water is added. In a like manner, metal if cold will strike chill to the skin and also cause the water to cool quickly. Eddy's Indurated Fibreware does not radiate heat or cold and is quite safe. For the same reason it keeps the water warm longer. Ask Your Dealer to Show You One
