Splendid Season of Wild Beasts.

Norris & Rowe Have Two Menageries With Their Greater Circus This Year.

Season after season witnesses the addition of rare wild animals to the big double menageries of the Norris & Rowe circus, museum menagerie and hippodrome. Aside from the big Zoos, there is no collection of wild beasts in as great a number and variety as have Norris & Rowe. The collection is a costly one and if patrons of the show saw nothing else in the big show they would be well repaid for the natural history exhibit is of distinct educational value which parents can hardly afford to have their children miss. Norris & Rowe have special agents in Europe, Asia and Africa who have instructions to purchase on sight any animal, either wild or tamed, or trained they can secure, no matter the cost, for the clever young managers well know that any expenditures they are put to in adding to their collection will be more than repaid by the increased patronage of the public. To properly house their two menageries this season, Norris & Rowe have had made to their order immense new tents. In the menagerie will be found superb specimens of the Royal Bengal tigers; Asiatic elephants; great lions and lionesses; South American tapirs; Llamas from the Andes; Siberian bears, vicious wild cats and pumas; fierce hyenas; a large herd of camels and dromedaries; wolves, deer, elk, pelicans, monkeys, chimpanzees, apes, rattlesnakes, huge pythons, sea lions, boas, constrictors, etc. Many of these animals have been highly trained and go through difficult tricks. There is one group that seems amazing. It consists of leopards, tigers, lions and pumas who obey every word of command of their trainer. Norris & Rowe exhibit in St. John, Saturday afternoon and night, Sept. 14th.

MR. MANTELL RETURNS HERE.

The management of the Opera House announces the engagement of Mr. Robert Mantell, whose six performances of Shakespeare there a year ago are still fresh in the memory of all who love what is best in the theatre of to-day. St. John was one of five towns in the Maritime Provinces, included in Mr. Mantell's tour at that time. He returns to this part of Canada for three weeks, beginning on Sept. 2 in Sydney, C. B. Then on Sept. 9, in Halifax, N. S., and gets to St. John on the 16th for five appearances, which will be all night performances. He will be seen in at least one role he has not yet acted here—that of Shylock in The Merchant of Venice. This part has been added to his magnificent repertoire since he last appeared here, and is said to be among his most successful. Due notice will be given of the opening of the seat sale.

MEETING AT NEWCASTLE

A large audience greeted the conservative leaders in the Opera House, Newcastle, on Tuesday evening, Mr. W. A. Hickson presiding. On the platform, beside the speakers, were many leading men, including Mr. Jas. Robinson, formerly conservative M. P. for Northumberland, and once described by Hon. Mr. Blair as a "good enough liberal for him"; Mr. John McKane, the new owner of the Telegraph; Mr. R. A. Lawlor, Mr. D. Morrison, M. P. P., Ald. John Clark, Mr. J. D. Creaghan and others. The speakers were Dr. Daniel, M. P. for St. John; Senator Poirer, Mr. R. L. Borden, and Mr. J. G. H. Bergeron. The speeches were along lines fully reported in the papers. At the end Mr. McKane, in response to loud calls, spoke briefly and moved a vote of thanks to Mr. Borden and the other speakers. It was passed unanimously. Cheers were given for the King for the conservative party, its leader and Jas. Robinson.
