CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR. ATTHOUGH one of the latest societies to spring into existence, yet the reports from the convention of christian endeavorers at Montreal, this week, show that the society has taken the world in its grasp, and that Canada and the United States alone show one million members. From a standing of two societies in 1881, with a total membership of sixty-eight, the association has gone on by leaps and bounds till now in 1893 the number of societies | cil from coming to a decision about the is 23,565 with 1,413,900 adherents. The leases until it was settled. christian endeavor motto "For Christ and Ald. Farrel said Mr. Wiley had informed the Church," tells the whole aim and object of the movement. The essential features are: Pledged and constant atsettle between themselves. tendance upon the weekly prayer meetings; pledged and constant participation therein by every active member; pledged committees and in any way that may be Thirty evangelical denominations are represented in this grand army battling for the right. The Presbyterians - lead, and marshal 4,806 societies in the van. Crowding fast upon them are 4,494 Congregational societies. Then come the Baptist with 2,736. The Methodists still hold the fourth place notwithstanding the fact that they . have lost a large number of societies that have become Epworth Leagues; however, counting the 240 Epworth Leagues of Christian Endeavor there are still 2,335 societies in the Methodist Episcopal Church North and South, the Methodist Church of Canada and the African Methodist Episcopal Church. This figure does not include the Methodist Protestants, of which there are 422 that are recorded.

The movement is still young and is full of life and vigor. It has a glorious future

THE action of the county council in aplate meeting is to be commended. Why further discussion ald. Farrell's motion neck was a necklace of diamonds, with they did not follow the example of the carried, and the leases will be renewed upon pendant attached. Following the queen other counties and appoint boards when the old basis. the law came into effect can best be answered by themselves. They were fully low York street is $100 per lot; for those aware that such a means of defence against | above York street $32 per lot; for those on disease was necessary; they knew that in King street $20 per lot. all counties boards of health had been in appointment till perhaps compelled to make it. As to what compelled them they are also the best witnesses. If they knew that the board was necessary and refused to appoint one because a majority of the councillors were opposed to the felt was right because the local government desired it. If this is the view they took of the matter they must now feel relieved that they have got out of a very undignified position

THE county and city councils have each subscribed $500 to the Gibson fund for the relief of the sufferers by the late disastrous fire. Fredericton has extended a very liberal hand in this work of relief for the city clerk's office. and the action of the county council is also to be commended. St. John has not shown that liberality which was to be ex- the city wharf lying back of the Normal pected considering the amount which was subscribed in York and in Gibson when she was in extremity. It may be that the people of that city did not fully realize the situation of affairs at Gibson or there may have been other causes to account for the small amount sent. However, the people are gradually getting over the feelings of loss and despondency which seized them when they saw their possessisns swept away and with the help extended will be able in a short time to surmount their difficulties, and although it may be vears before Gibson is built up as it was yet the location is a good one and must ultimately become the site of a large and prosperous village.

THE marriage at St. James palace, London, on the 6th inst., of Prince George of Wales, the duke of York, to Princess Victoria May of Teck has been much discussed in all society papers. It is clearly a marriage with which the families on both sides were satisfied. Unlike many royal weddings this was allowed to have been a regular love match, and as a fitting result it is expected that all happiness will follow the contracting parties. Her majesty the queen graced the occasion by her presence, and all the leaders of court society in England were present with most of the notables of the continent. Despite all this glitter and show it must have been more gratifying to the bride and groom to receive such tremendous ovations from the common people, the bone and sinew of the empire, as met them at every turn of the streets as they attending his funeral. The elder Mr. Johndrove away from the chapel royal.

THE relief fund for the sufferers by the loss of the warship Victoria reaches at present writing, $125,000, and it is highly the proceeds divided equally among his probable that when all the smaller towns are heard from, that one quarter of a million will be subscribed. England has not shown that liberality to her sufferers by war and other calamities, that she should, but in the present case, her grief appears to be substantial, and surely it is a better way to expend the money than on many of the foolish pageants that take place, such as the lord mayor's procession, or the recent display of British war vessels at terms as the former ones. It was moved as an amendment by ald Duffie that the leases be renewed at one and one half times the former rentals. There was a great deal of very warm discussion upon these motions in which nearly every member of the board took part.

Ald. McPherson was in favor of doubling the old rentals; stating that the property standing upon the leased lots had increa in value nearly two fold since the former leases were granted; and that leases granted by private owners in the same sections brought very much higher rentals than the city lots.

Ald, Farrell said that the larger number of business men occupying the leased lots below York street were in the retail trade; that their business used to be very profitable, but of recent years had been almost entirely destroyed by the establishment of country stores throughout the surrounding country; that any increase in the rentals of these lots pointing a local board of health at the pense; and that the city is already getting her head a small diamond crown, from
