The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

Ruth Cameron

Want a new recipe for a simple way to have a lot of fun?

Then listen while I tell you of the will of a wealthy Massachusetts woman who died recently.

Five thousand dollars to buy Christmas presents for the inmates of an incurable home.

One thousand dollars for car rides for the aged poor of Boston.

One thousand dollars for two Seamen's Aid Societies to buy clothing and medicine for shipwrecked sailors.

Five thousand dollars to buy the raised books for the children in a big institution for the blind.

You don't particularly want to make a will and you don't see any connection between that will and a recipe for having fun?

I am ashamed of you. I thought you were quicker witted than that.

Don't you imagine that Mrs. Spaulding had a lot of fun in imagining how much those old folks were going to delight in those unexpected car rides and how the poor, hopelessly sick folks were going to laugh and then maybe cry a bit for pleasure when they found her gifts in their stockings of a dark Christmas morning?

And although I don't know, never having heard of the lady before, I have a mighty good idea, from her will, that all her life she had a lot of that same kind of fun.

And that's the kind you can have. You probably can't have the pleasure of making a will bequeathing $5,000 to buy blind books for blind children, but if you have an automobile or carriage you may have the pleasure of taking some blind child on a drive.

And lest you think that there would be no pleasure in a ride to anyone who saw nothing of all the beauty that he passed through, let me tell you that, as a matter of fact, there is no keener pleasure to a blind person than a ride in a carriage or more especially an automobile.

Some years ago when I was doing newspaper work in the city of Boston I attended a scrubwomen's picnic.

I'll never forget it. A dozen scrubwomen were taken out into the beautiful country and for one day forgot their palls and sudy corridors and hands-and-knees existence, and romped and carried on like young girls.

I never saw any children enjoy a picnic as these women did that wonderful day.

I asked one of them when she had last been on a picnic. She thought for a moment and then told me half shamefacedly as if uncertain whether to be ashamed of her extravagance or proud of her daring.

"I went on a great bust last summer," she said. "One day it seemed to me as if I couldn't stand it no longer having any good time any longer and not seeing anything but dirty corridors and my kitchen, and so I up and took a nickel and went down to the Public Gardens and had a ride on the swan boat."

There are women like that right in your own neighbourhood. I don't know what that neighbourhood is, but know there must be, because they are everywhere. Perhaps your own washerwoman is one of them.

Do I need to tell you that the blues would yield to the reflected happiness you would be bathed in if you gave some of those people some sort of an outing?

You see my new recipe for having a lot of fun doesn't call for any expensive or rare ingredients.

On the contrary, it can always be made up out of any left-over blessings you happen to have on hand.

If you don't believe me, try it. No, I don't mean that. Try it any way.

Ruth Cameron

Patriotism

The stomach is a larger factor in "life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness" than most people are aware. Patriotism can withstand hunger but not dyspepsia. The confirmed dyspeptic "is fit for treason, stratagem and spoils." The man who goes to the front for his country with a weak stomach will be a weak soldier and a fault finder.

A sound stomach makes for good citizenship as well as for health and happiness.

Diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition are promptly and permanently cured by the use of DR. PIERCE'S GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY. It builds up the body with sound flesh and solid muscle.

The dealer who offers a substitute for the "Discovery" is only seeking to make the little more profit realized on the sale of less meritorious preparations.

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send 31 one-cent stamps for the paper covered book, or 50 stamps for the cloth bound. Address: World's Dispensary Medical Association, R. V. Pierce, M. D., President, Buffalo, N. Y.

Fads and Fashions.

Cluny and Irish lace are used to good advantage as inserts on dressy separate waists of the French battiste.

Cute little children's bonnets are of shirred cretonne, while others are a combination of straw and cretonne.

Among the handsome scarfs which the season has brought forth are some of crepe with hand-painted borders.

The newest thing in auto veils is a washable dustproof silk of a fine canvas-like mesh, but of a soft texture.

The scarf often develops into a deep point at the back, with a reminiscence of the shawl of the second empire.

Scarfs of broche, or Persian, as it is often called, are the sole trimming used on some of the modish turbans. It is very smart to have the hat, parasol, pumps and fan match in material and show similar touches of embroidery.

Gowns for dinner or the theatre are of various effects, with often harmonizing coloring of a Byzantine fresco. Pippings and cordings of Persian silk may be bought by the yard in the shops, ready to be used for trimming a gown.

Some of the new motor veils are of chiffon in the soft pastel shades, with a satin banding in harmonizing two-toned effect.

If the silk gloves do not match the costume with which they are worn, they should be of white, embroidered in the tone of one's gown.

The Proderie Angelais hat, wide sweeping, of butterfly appearance comes from Paris as if determined to sweep all before it.

Fashion has decreed that one's parasol and stockings must match the gown. The choice of the shoes is left to the wearer's own taste.

A point to remember is that the sleeve of a lingerie frock looks much more graceful if put into the arm's eye with a narrow banding.

Blouses of coarse fishnet in black or colors, with embroidered applications in varied cashmere coloring look well with almost any toilet.

Very smart are the "Co-ed" sweaters with white and blue collars; they fasten on the shoulder and under the arm with white or pearl buttons.

For a coat costume of linen, nothing is prettier than a simple shirt-waist of cotton voile, pinched with white and the color of the suit.

The new corset is a good deal lower in the bust than was the case last year. Its waist is still long, and its hips are narrow, straight and long.

For gifting, shirts are sufficiently wide for comfort, the material usually an unobtrusive plain or checked

RETURNED TO WORK IN A WEEK

Mr. P. M. Shannon Cured of Cataract by one Single Treatment of "Father Morrissey's" No. 26.

Dalhousie, N.B., Nov. 23, 1908.

FATHER MORRISSEY MEDICINE CO., LTD.

For three years I had suffered from cataract in the head until March, 1905, when I had to leave my work, then in shingle mills, after trying 4 different so-called cataract cures, and two doctors who claimed there was no cure. One single treatment of Father Morrissey's prescription cured me and I returned to work in a week after starting to take the treatment, and have never had so much as a cold in the head since.

P. M. SHANNON.

We have plenty of letters like this proving positively that "Father Morrissey's" No. 26 Combined Treatment has cured hundreds of cases of Cataract, generally after other treatments had failed. Why shouldn't it cure you? In justice to yourself give it a trial. Combined Treatment (Tablets and Salve) 75c. At your dealer's, or from Father Morrissey Medicine Co., Ltd., Chatham, N.B.

Scotch sulting, Irish frieze or homespun.

From Paris comes the cry of the tight skirts, pulled in around the feet by the wide bands of trimming, but this style has not yet been generally adopted.

Bagg, Capt. Kean, Mrs. Root, Mrs. Bartlett, Miss Emerson, Miss Flynn, Miss Andrews, Miss Dowd, E. Harris, F. Poote, Miss O'Reilly and 6 second class.

FOOD FACTS

What an M. D. Learned.

A prominent physician down in Georgia, went through a food experience which he makes public:

"It was my own experience that first led me to advocate Grape-Nuts food and I also know from having prescribed it to convalescents and other weak patients that the food is a wonderful restorer and restorer of nerve and brain tissue as well as muscle. It improves the digestion and sick patients always gain just as I did in strength and weight, very rapidly.

"I was in such a low state that I had to give up my work entirely and go to the mountains of this state, but two months there did not improve me; in fact I was not quite as well as when I left home. My food did not sustain me and it became plain that I must change, then I began to use Grape-Nuts and in two weeks I could walk a mile without the least fatigue and in five weeks returned to my home and practice, taking up hard work again. Since that time I have felt as well and strong as I ever did in my life.

"As a physician who seeks to help all sufferers I consider it a duty to make these facts public."

Trial 10 days on Grape-Nuts when the regular food does not seem to sustain the body will work miracles.

"There's a Reason."
