RUSSIA WORN OUT BY STRAIN OF

PETROGRAD, Nov. 2. Russia entered the war early and she is now worn out by the strain Premier Kerensky yesterday told the Associated Press. He said that Russia claims as her right that the other Allies now should shoulder the burden of the war. Premier Kerensky declared that Russian public opinion was agitated by the question, where is the British fleet now that the German fleet is out in the Baltic? Russia, the Premier declared, has been fighting eighteen months longer than Great Britain, and Russia has fought her battles alone, and is fighting alone. The world must not lose faith in the Russian revolution because it is an economic one. No one, the Premier said, has a right to feel disillusioned about it, as it takes years to develop a stable Government. America's most useful way of helping Russia is in sending boots, leather, iron and money. Premier Kerensky United States to send troops because the difficulties of transport would be reported from Italy. too great. Russia is not out of the war, the Premier said in answer to reports to the contrary. Russia has fought consistently since the beginning. She saved France and Great Britain from disaster early in the war: she is now worn out by the strain, and claims as her right that Russia's position to the correspondtion to the widely contradictory re- and a machine gun brought back. ports on Russian conditions and asked the Premier for a frank statement
