

HAD TO DO SOMETHING QUICK, SAYS REDMOND.

Had Barely Enough Strength Left To Stay On Job When He Began Taking Tanlac—Health Splendid Now.

"When I decided to try Tanlac I could not have done a better thing, for it has fixed me up so fine I feel as good as I could ask," recently declared James Redmond, who lives at Chatham, Nova Scotia.

"I had been going down hill for three years and was troubled in one way and another just about every day that came. I had a chronic case of indigestion and my stomach hurt so bad I could hardly stand for my clothes to touch me. What I ate caused gas to form and I would blow up so bad that I felt tight and drawn across the chest and stomach. I was bothered a lot with biliousness and often had sick headaches that lasted for several days at a time.

"I couldn't sleep to amount to anything and that pulled me down considerably in weight and strength. All day long I felt weak and tired out and just did have the strength to stick it out and stay on the job. Then last spring I had the flu and it nearly finished me. I was left in a worse condition than ever and I knew something had to be done and done right away.

"I had taken a good many medicines but I had never tried Tanlac; so I decided to see what it would do in my case. Well, sir, it was a lucky find and proved to be a friend in need. I took five bottles in all and to-day I'm a well man and haven't a sign of my old troubles. I can sit down and eat as big a meal as I ever could and enjoy every bite of it for my stomach never gives me any trouble at all now. The biliousness has all gone and those sick headaches have disappeared. I sleep like a log and have picked up ten pounds in weight. I feel strong and healthy and can do as big a day's work as I ever could."

Tanlac is sold in St. John's by M. Connors; by Reg. Sullivan, Pouch Cove; Sound Island Store, Sound Cove; Dennis Flynn, Avondale; J. J. O'Brien, Cape Broyle; J. W. Smith, Baine Harbor; W. A. Burdock, Belleoram; John Morey, Fermeuse; Mrs. Jos. Quinn, Renewa.—adv.

British Coal Strike May Be Averted.

Question Probably Submitted to Impartial Tribunal—Proposed Geneva Conference Postponed—Alex. Millerand New President of France—D'Annunzio Forms Cabinet—Wall Street Explosion Becomes an Incident.

LLOYD GEORGE'S REPLY.

LONDON, Sept. 22. No progress was made to-day towards settlement of the coal miners' dispute, although among the more optimistic, hope has been revived from the fact that a meeting of the "triple alliance" has been called for Thursday, to hear the reply of Premier Lloyd George to the committee of the alliance which visited him to-day. The reply of the Premier was a reiteration of the proposal made to the miners' executive committee the previous day, that there being a difference of opinion between the miners and the government as to facts and figures, the question of an increase of wages should be referred to an impartial tribunal, or alternately the miners should consent to work out with the colliery proprietors and the government some scheme whereby in return for increased production the miners could get increased wages. The Premier considered that by the alternative proposal the miners would get a greater increase than they demanded, while the country also would benefit. To this Mr. Robert Smiley, the miners' leader, replied: "We are as anxious as you to increase the output, but you can only get that if you have the good will and desire to increase it."

WILL MAKE ANOTHER EFFORT.

LONDON, Sept. 22. Another effort to induce the government to grant the demands of the coal miners of the country for an increase in wages, was decided upon to-day by the Triple Alliance, comprising the Miners, Railwaymen, and Transport Workers.

RETURNING TO BALBRIGGAN.

BALBRIGGAN, Sept. 22. Nearly one thousand persons, about half the population of this parish, gathered this morning, after having spent a second night of terror in outlying hay fields. WALL STREET EXPLOSION ONLY AN INCIDENT.

NEW YORK, Sept. 22. While the latest developments to-day into Wall Street's mysterious explosion last Thursday pointed to an incident rather than to a news despatches from other cities indicated that a "mild epidemic of bomb threats" had broken out throughout the country. Cleveland, Boston, New Bedford, Mass., Trenton, N.J., and New York were among the cities which reported anonymous messages of dire misfortunes. Although the authorities professed to regard these messages as the work of some practical joker or cranks, nevertheless in every instance extra precautions to prevent outrages were taken.

Stone, master of the Panhandle State, who had been New York declaring that he would land at Queenstown, Ireland, despite orders of the British Government, will get no help from the United States State Department if he comes to grief in an attempt to carry out his threat.

Remember the Orphans.

Editor Evening Telegram. Dear Sir:—In line with your correspondent in Tuesday's issue, might I also be permitted to add a word of congratulation to those self-sacrificing ladies of Belvedere Orphanage for the zealous manner in which they are caring for over a hundred little orphans without help of any kind, and to bespeak for them on next Sunday a record collection from my Catholic fellow-citizens.

When one stops to think how hard it is to live, for even a little family of five, with a man's earnings coming in all the while, how much more difficult must it be to maintain a household of helpless children, presided over by helpless women (helpless in the sense of not being wage-earners) when there are no regular earnings or income.

It ought to make every Catholic father decide this very minute—while you are reading this appeal—to dig down deep on Sunday next and to give not the price of a cigar, not something that you can do without—but make it a sacrifice for God's little ones. Let us think of the little darlings that God has left to us and try to visualize what it would mean to them to be deprived of their fathers, and in so thinking, let us all decide—every Catholic man of you who reads this paper—to make that collection next Sunday one that will remove all worry and trouble from those good Sisters for the next year at least.

All through this week put aside some little extra for Sunday. Let the slogan be "Remember the Orphans!"

Catholic fellow-men! It is NOT a courtesy; it is our solemn duty. Thank you, Mr. Editor, for the space given to ORPHANS' FRIEND.

Two Fire Alarms.

Yesterday afternoon the fire companies had to respond to two fire alarms, one at Fleming Street, and the other at Prince's Street. In both instances the services of the firemen were not needed, as the trouble was settled before their arrival. Soot igniting in the chimneys caused the alarms to be rung in.

Missing Accomplishment

(From the San Francisco Argonaut.) "It is a strange thing," said the professor. "I was shaved this morning by a man who really is, I suppose, a little above being a barber. I know of my own knowledge that he studied at Heidelberg and spent several years in other foreign educational centres. I know also that he has contributed scientific articles to our best magazines and has numbered among his intimate friends men of the highest social standing. And yet," soliloquized the professor, "he can't shave a man decently."

"By Jove!" exclaimed young Round in astonishment. "What is he a barber for, with all those accomplishments?" "Oh, he isn't a barber," said the professor, yawning. "You see, I shaved myself this morning."

In the Prize Ring.

CARPENTIER READY TO MEET LEVINSKY.

New York—Georges Carpentier, French heavyweight champion, is nettled by criticism of his failure to make a match on his previous visit, and determined, so he said, to prove he is neither a motion picture actor nor a "parlor boxer."

With jaw set and clenched teeth the French boxer showed plainly criticism had cut him to the quick. He denied he had come here for "easy money," and that he had no stomach for a match.

When told "Battling" Levinsky, whom he will meet October 12, may prove a "hard nut to crack," Carpentier said:

"So much the better. I prefer a tough match. I am confident I can beat him, and I want to show the people who have criticized me that I am a boxer and not an actor."

Carpentier added he could not meet Dempsey before December 31, when his contract with Cochran, the London promoter, expired.

JACK JOHNSON GETS A YEAR.

Chicago—Jack Johnson, former world's heavyweight champion, will not immediately start to serve his sentence of one year and a day in Leavenworth penitentiary, to which he was sentenced yesterday by Federal Judge George A. Carpentier, for violation of the Mann Act.

Johnson, nattily dressed in a blue suit, bright blue tie and patent leather Oxford, was smiling broadly when he entered the court room. When sentence was passed, however, he appeared much downcast, as he had hoped for greater leniency. Permission was granted his attorney to file a writ of error and a stay of execution of the sentence was given until Saturday.

Judge Carpentier, who had refused to hear a plea for bail since Johnson was returned to Illinois, again refused to release the prisoner, and ordered him returned to jail.

The sentence re-affirmed that passed on Johnson in 1913, when he was convicted of transporting a white girl from Pittsburgh to Chicago.

SAYS DEMPSEY WAS ON ROCKS.

Bat Masterson writes in the New York Morning Telegraph: "Jack Dempsey is reported to have received $55,000 for his share out of the Labor Day scrap at Benton Harbor with Billy Miske, while the latter pouched $25,000 for himself out of the fracas."

"So far as I am personally concerned, I wish they had received twice the amount they are credited with getting. Dempsey and his manager were both broke when they went to Benton Harbor. The Dempsey trial at San Francisco cleaned him and his manager out of every dollar they had. Who got their money or how it was spent nobody but Dempsey and Kearns know."

"It was a costly trial for the champ and his manager if what is being said about it is only half true. However the case had to be beaten, cost what it might. But at the rate Dempsey is starting off accumulating another bank roll it will not be long until he'll be ready for another plucking. Who will pluck him next is hard to tell, but so long as some one doesn't pluck him out of his title he'll be all right."

"As for Billy Miske, the $25,000 he is said to have garnered from the Labor Day shindy will no doubt come in quite handy just now. Miske's long spell of illness must have put quite a dent in his bank roll. Doctors and lawyers come high and the fact that Miske was a prizefighter didn't get him much sympathy from the medical fraternity."

"In any event, it is safe to say that he found plenty of use for the money he got at Benton Harbor. Hope Miske goes right on getting more and keeps up the good work until he gets enough. Miske was a good fighter in his day, and a fine fellow along with it. There are a lot of fighters in the game who do not deserve as well from the public as Billy Miske. And many of these Bohunks have pouched more money from their hanky-panky performances in the ring than Miske ever did. And the worst of it is they are going to grab a lot more along the same lines they have been pursuing.

"But be that as it may, no one will kick about anything Billy Miske gets out of the fighting game. His decisive defeat by Jack Dempsey will, of course, detract from his drawing abilities but he no doubt will rehabilitate himself somewhat in time if he has his health."

MINARD'S LINIMENT FOR BURNS, ETC.

Very Fishy.

Perhaps the most typical fish story comes from Norway. Henrik Dahl, of Alesund, was a follower of Darwin. Wishing to prove the theory of adaptability of a species to its environment, he caught a herring in the fjord and kept it in a tub at home. The water he reduced day by day until the herring was able to do without any at all.

The next move was to train it to live on dry ground. It flopped about very awkwardly at first, but gradually learned to move freely, and was able at last to follow its master on his walks.

One day Henrik had to cross a bridge, which was old and out of repair. His pet was hopping along, jumping at flies now and again, all heedless of danger. Unfortunately, on the bridge it slipped, missed its footing, fell through a hole into the harbor and was drowned.
