

TO-DAY'S MESSAGES.

WAGE AND TIME REDUCTION.

GARY, Ind., April 3. Twenty per cent. reduction of wages and an eight hour day will be put into effect by the United States Steel Corporation about the middle of this month, according to unofficial reports from the local offices of the corporation. About thirty thousand men are employed in the company's plants when they are running full time, but it is not known just how many men are at work now. The installation of an eight hour day would mean that ten thousand additional men would be required to run the plant at full speed.

VILLAGES WIPED OUT.

NAPLES, April 3. A landslide, five miles wide, caused by torrential rains, has destroyed the villages of Gorne and Frata, near Ferrazzano, Calabria. The slide moved so slowly, however, that the inhabitants were able to escape, but their homes, trees and vineyards were engulfed.

SUICIDED RATHER THAN RETURN HOME.

MORRISBURG, Ont., April 3. Daniel Donohue, aged 27, son of R. J. Donohue, President of the National Bank of Ogdensburg, N.Y., shot himself to-day in a room of the St. Lawrence Hotel here. The bullet entered his body just above the heart. His father and brother were sent for, and were at the young man's bedside when he died, a few hours after the affair had taken place. Donohue came to Morrisburg Thursday, with the Ogdensburg orchestra to attend a dance and had been about town since. He was awakened by the hotel clerk, and told that his father had telephoned to have him come home at once. Shortly after the delivery of the message a revolver shot was heard.

SETTLING DIFFERENCES.

HAVANA, April 3. Fernandez Quinones, National League candidate for Governor of Havana Province in the November elections, was shot and almost killed last evening by Ernesto Colledo, Liberal representative for Santa Clara Province. The shooting took place at the corner of Prado and Virtudes Streets. Political differences are said to have led to the tragedy.

U. S. AND GERMANY.

WASHINGTON, D.C., April 3. Senate proponents of an immediate peace with Germany by Congressional resolution, are understood to be standing firmly by their intention to present such resolution by the convening of an extra session of Congress a week from Monday. The information that members of the Senate, favoring peace by resolution, had not abandoned their previously announced intention, was obtained last night after a notable day of White House conferences, at which the advisability of the Congressional declaration of peace, together with other questions involved in the peace settlement, were understood to have been discussed.

FORCED MARCH BY TURKS.

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 3. Kiazim Kara Bekir, commander of the Turkish Nationalists in Armenia, with his army of salvation, is nearing Sivas. A despatch from Constantinople last week said Kiazim Kara Bekir, with 25,000 troops, was making a forced march from Armenia to air Mustapha Kemal Pasha.

TWO FLAGS.

WINNIPEG, April 4. The Union Jack headed a parade of four hundred unemployed here Saturday, while the red flag was also accorded a place.

UNEMPLOYED PROCESSION.

VANCOUVER, April 4. Fifteen thousand unemployed took part in a parade here yesterday, at the termination of which it was decided to appeal to the city for relief, although the civil authorities have notified unemployed that the city is at the end of its relief resources.

EX-EMPEROR ILL.

LONDON, April 4. Despatches from Vienna, via Berlin, to the Times, report that Emperor Charles is seriously ill. His throat is inflamed and a fever, caused by over-exertion, very high. A special train is waiting to convey Charles to Switzerland, but there is no sign of his starting yet.

FRENCH PLEASED.

PARIS, April 4. French official circles are extremely well pleased over United States Government's declaration concerning Germany's war responsibility. Such a declaration was anticipated, but the French felt the United States view could not have been more to their liking.

ALWAYS ENEMIES.

LONDON, April 4. Feeling is running high in Constantinople, and minor incidents are occurring daily between Turks and Greeks, according to the Constantinople correspondent of the London Times.

FROM A DISTANCE.

BRUSSELS, April 4. Many hundreds of Greek wounded are being brought here. It is not confirmed that Turks captured two Greek divisions.

STRANGLED TO DEATH.

NEW YORK, April 3. Two persons, husband and wife, were arrested to-day, charged with the murder of Mrs. Catherine Trotta, a widow, of Brooklyn, following the discovery last evening, of her body at the edge of a pond. Those arrested were Mrs. Caroline Volderos, seven years old, step-daughter of the dead woman and her husband Lucian, twenty-eight years old. Two boys found the body, which was richly clad, wrapped in an expensive shawl and with a piece of rope tied around the neck. Although a small amount of cash, and a number of rings were found on the body, detectives advanced robbery as the motive. The woman had been missing a month, and was last seen by neighbours at the home of the Volderos. Physicians said the woman had been strangled to death.

BRITAIN'S COAL STRIKE.

LONDON, April 3. The Board of Trade issued official orders to-day, rating and reducing coal for British Isles. Illuminated street signs are prohibited, the regulations being virtually identical with those issued during the strike in 1919. Sunday was given up to meetings of miners, railwaymen and transport workers throughout the country. Those meetings were called for the purpose of giving directions for a Triple Alliance conference on Wednesday. Judging by the resolutions adopted and speeches delivered, a strong feeling prevails in favor of a strike of railwaymen and transport workers to support the miners. Secretary-Cram of the National Union of Railwaymen at Birmingham, however, uttered the warning that such action must be absolutely united and wholehearted, otherwise it would be useless. Success would be impossible if one section of the Triple Alliance stood out. While the withdrawal of pump engines from Scotland and elsewhere in a critical condition, the first case of intimidation reported in connection with the coal miners strike, which began at midnight Thursday, was reported yesterday from the South Wales district.

G. T. R. DEFAULTED.

MONTREAL, April 3. At the offices of the Grand Trunk Railway, it was stated to-day that a report that the company had defaulted on certain bond payments in London was incorrect. The amount of this default is inconsiderable, it was stated.

HODGES MAKES STATEMENT.

LONDON, April 4. Frank Hodges, Secretary of the Miners' Federation, in a speech at Conisbrough, Yorkshire, yesterday, declared that the decision to withdraw pumping forces from the mines could only be taken in most desperate circumstances. "Who can think calmly of the destruction of mines that will never be re-opened," he said. "No one can do it, but a decision has been arrived at, and must command characteristic loyalty till it is altered, if it ever is altered. The Government I think, counted on starving the miners into submission. It is a question. We may go down, but if we do the nation is doomed. If it becomes the accepted view of the working classes the Government is prepared to starve a section of this community into accepting terms, which are beyond acceptance, and the least that keeps the working classes from revolutionary efforts will become loose."

GREEK PRINCE KILLED.

LONDON, April 4. Prince Andreas, of Greece, brother of Constantine, has died of wounds received in fighting near Brusa, says The Evening News, quoting a Turkish announcement. The Turks assert also that General Vlachopoulos, who was in command of the Greek attack on Brusa, has been killed.

RETURNS TO-DAY.

LONDON, April 4. A Vienna despatch to the Central News, states the Swiss Legation at the Austrian capital has announced that former Emperor Charles will return to Switzerland to-day.

CHOICE OF SPAIN.

BERNE, April 4. Switzerland will be only a way station on the return from Hungary of former Emperor Charles, it is said here. It is the general supposition that he will take his wife and family to Spain.

THREE ATTACKERS WOUNDED.

DUBLIN, April 4. A band of civilians bombed a military lorry here last evening. Three of them were wounded in the return fire.

Whitbourne Notes.

Mr. Gordon Ploghman, of Drover Bros., Green's Harbor, T.B., arrived here on Thursday morning last, en route to his home at Port Rexton, leaving by the west bound express the same afternoon.

Mr. Noel, of Harbor Grace, stopped off here on Easter Eve, after a visit to relatives at St. John's, content, remaining over until the afternoon's express on Easter Day. Mr. Noel is a Divinity student of Queen's College, and is taking up teaching temporarily at Alexander Bay, B.B., and later will continue his theological studies at McGill College, Montreal.

Miss J. Greenland, of Coley's Point, teacher in the C. E. school here, left by the morning's train on Good Friday, to spend her Easter vacation at home.

Miss A. Jeffery returned home on Tuesday, after a week's visit to the city.

Dr. Chisholm was here on Easter Day, coming from New Harbor, and after visiting his patients, left on the express going west, at 5 p.m.

Miss Sharpe, teacher, passed thro' to Blaketown on Thursday last, to spend her holidays with her parents.

The C.E.W.A. gave a tea on Easter Monday evening in the C. E. school room, which was well patronized by their friends and proved a great success, and a pleasant time was spent. The proceeds are, we believe, in aid of repairs to the C. E. Parsonage, and also to help the Queen College Fund. A tea and dance was held in the R. C. school building the same evening.

Miss Ada Sparkes, who is one of the resident girls at Spencer Lodge, is spending her Easter holidays at home with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Sparkes.

At the date of writing, we are experiencing another snow storm, with a northwest wind; after the spell of mild and sunny weather, it is a decided setback to our expectations that Spring was coming. The writer first heard Robin Red-breast on Easter Day, and on Easter Tuesday a chorus of robins. They have left the sunny south rather soon, it would appear to-day.

"Brer Rabbit" seems to be a dangerous topic; we will say nothing about that. Little animal this time. -COR.

This Week's Wisdom.

Nothing cools married love so quickly as hot words over a cold breakfast. When a couple are matched but not mated, they are as lonely and ineffectual as two left-hand gloves. A man laughs when he thinks his wife amusing; a woman laughs when she thinks that her husband thinks he is amusing.

Some women can discover enough grievances in half a married life to keep a man apologizing for the rest of his existence. In a man's mind, all women are divided into three classes: those he has kissed, those he can't kiss—and those who keep him wondering.

Somewhat, when you see a great big, stupid, noisy, blundering fellow, trying to babble baby talk to a little flitty flapper, it reminds you of a poor old circus elephant begging for buns.

Ten Hours of Peril.

A Sunderland miner had a terrible experience on April 4, 1911, while fishing from the extreme end of the South Pier. Warnings had been frequently given, for the sea washed over the jetty before reaching the round head of the structure, but in spite of these the man took up his position there. Apparently he failed to notice the incoming tide, and when, on a strong wind springing up, he attempted to return, he discovered his awkward plight. His escape was cut off, for the middle of the jetty was awash. Some fishermen, who noticed his predicament, put off in a boat in the hope of rendering him assistance, but the wind had increased to a gale, and owing to the high seas they dare not approach too near lest their boat should be dashed against the jetty. The man was urged to fasten himself to a rope which was thrown to him, and he pulled through the sea into the boat, but he declined to take the risk. Instead, he lashed himself to the structure with his long maul and his braces, but several times he was nearly swept into the sea. For ten hours, until the tide receded, he remained in his exposed and dangerous position, while the icy seas beat over him. When he was ultimately rescued by the dock officials the man was in a terrible state of exhaustion owing to the exposure, and collapsed as soon as he was in safety, but he recovered on artificial respiration being applied, and returned to his home a wiser man, and not likely to forget the lesson he had received.

Obituary.

WALTER E. HAYWARD.

When a new born male babe is put into its mother's arms little does she know the rough road he is destined to travel, or, perhaps, the bright career he might have; little does she think of separation; never of death. This world is full of vicissitudes. If he has the wanderlust he will travel to out of the way places of the earth, there live and when the times comes die, thousands of miles from his nativity. Such is the case of Walter Hayward. He had seen many different countries, but, at last, he was lured to California where he decided to reside thinking that the glorious climate would benefit him and eventually restore him to health. It is over a year since I met him and we talked over various things. I asked him to come and share my rented cottage up in the hills away from the bustle of the town where all is peace and quiet. He consented and we spent nearly a year together in that little cottage where we lived our own care-free lives. During those months we became attached to each other as perhaps brothers seldom do for we were bound together by bonds of sympathy and suffering. Then came the time to part, I back to the big town leaving him still up there in the mountains for by this time he had become fascinated and would not leave them. From time to time I went out to visit him. Two weeks ago I did not find him in good health but I did not become alarmed as he had been in poor health for a number of years. Alas, it was the beginning of the end. When I visited him at the hospital I knew he was doomed. I never saw him again, a few days later he was dead. And yesterday we laid him away; up there in the hills that he had loved so well. In a quiet cemetery, a tiny God's acre, under the shade of pepper trees and palms, is his grave, the lofty snow-capped peaks of the Sierra Madres protecting him from the chill north winds while all around him are the roses of California, and orchards in early blossom emitting sweet fragrance. After the minister had repeated in his deep sonorous voice: "Earth to earth, ashes to ashes," he was lowered into the grave. Just then a tiny bird warbled its lilting song from a neighbouring tree, a cool breeze from the ocean rustled the leaves of the trees, it was nature's requiem. Five Newfoundlanders attended the funeral, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Morrison, Robert Morrison, Hon. W. J. Ellis and W. H. Lynch.—W.H.L. Los Angeles, Cal., March 21, 1921.

For Education's Cause.

On last Tuesday night a public meeting, having for its object the cause of education, was held in the Orange Hall at Foster's Point, Smith's Sound, T.B. People along the shore gathered until nearly a capacity audience filled the building, thus showing their appreciation of the efforts put forth by Mr. Asahel Parsons, the newly appointed member of the School Board for this locality, who launched the project.

Mr. Edmund Frampton was appointed Chairman, and after singing, scripture reading and prayer, the Rev. Mr. Rowe, C. of E. clergyman for Random Mission, was introduced, and forcefully emphasized the process of education, beginning with the home, continuing with the church, and finishing with the school. This, of course, is the ideal process, but only too often it is the almost impossible task of the church and school to contest the lack of restraint, discipline, good influence and example of the home and social environment.

Rev. Mr. Moore of Shoal Hr. Mission, followed, and in a convincing manner dealt with Education in its highest and noblest aspects, using the words of the great example, "Grow in wisdom, knowledge and stature." Messrs. A. C. Pittman, of Clarendville, and A. Parsons, of Harcourt, the promoter, also addressed the meeting, dealing with the tragic history of ignorance, the mistake of first considering the personal and material advantages of education; the need of a practical and compulsory system, and sufficient remuneration to encourage teachers to follow the profession.

Misses Frampton and Adams, C. of E. and Methodist teachers, sandwiched in very nicely rendering a duet, which added variety to the programme, and was heartily applauded. The school children also elicited praise and applause by their execution of exercises and recitations. The meeting ended with the National Anthem.

Halifax 'Tec

ARRESTS BOGUS OPTICIAN. A Halifax detective, who had come down to St. John's after his man, arrested him at a city hotel on Saturday morning. The detective was Chief of Staff Kennedy of the Halifax Bureau, and the man he arrested George C. Farrell, Optician, who is wanted in Guysborough, N.S., on a charge of obtaining money under false pretences. Kennedy arrived in town on Saturday's express at 2.30 a.m. and an hour later he was in a room next to Farrell's in the hotel. After breakfast that morning the detective told Farrell he would like to have a private chat with him and he then arrested his man whom he later took to the police station. Farrell was detained there until yesterday's express was ready to leave, when he was taken as a prisoner to Halifax. So far as can be learned Farrell has been operating in the Province of Nova Scotia as an Optician pulling in money for spectacles, etc., and giving no return. He has also been engaged in the business here, and was recently at Carboner and Mr. Grace. Detective Kennedy, who was acting on a warrant issued by Judge DesBarres, of Guysborough, arrested Farrell, guided only by a photograph of the man.

From the Japanese Capital.

Rev. R. W. Andrews, Treasurer of the American Church Mission at Tokyo, Japan, writing under date of February 23, says that the unrest and disturbances of the world have reached the land of the Mikado, and that since the conclusion of the war a big slump has set in with labor troubles and strikes resultant therefrom. With a Government composed of constitutional monarchists and aristocrats the will of the people is scarcely likely to be heeded or carried out. The Japanese franchise is only partial and depends on the amount of taxes paid and property held in right, which means that only the wealthy classes and well-to-do have the right to vote, thousands of the educated and intelligent being ruled out. A demand for universal suffrage is being made, but under the present regime this is not likely to be granted. The students, however, are becoming increasingly aggressive, and more opposed to a system which allows them no voice in the Government of the country. A European tour is being planned for the Crown Prince, which will be unique in the history of Japan, this being the first time that an Imperial scion has been permitted to leave the country. Many are opposed to his going fearing that something may happen him while in foreign parts. The result of this tour may have the effect of bringing social benefits hitherto unknown.

Household Notes.

If when you have a handbag you make the lining a little shorter than the outside, the weight will rest on the lining, and the bag will last longer.

If your sewing machine thread tangles, cut a piece of cloth larger than the spool and put on the post under the spool. This keeps the spool steady.

Fold a small piece of flannel several times and fit it into a clothes pin. Trim, allowing half an inch on all sides. This makes a splendid griddle.
