Provincial Paper Mills, Ltd.
At the annual meeting the proposal to instal an additional machine at the new paper mill in Port Arthur was left to the discretion of the directors.

National Breweries, Ltd.

The annual general meeting of shareholders, held at the head office this week, was confined largely to routine matters. The retiring board of directors were re-elected for the current year without change.

Dominion Canners, Ltd.

This company has started reconstruction of their factory at St.
David's, Ont., which was destroyed by fire last fall, and is also considering erecting a plant at Niagara Falls, Ont., where it has purchased a site.

Montreal Tramways & Power Co., Ltd.

The board of directors are obtaining a special report from legal authorities regarding exact position of the company and its associated concerns. There have been a number of developments within the past 10 years as a result of the different deals carried out in connection with financing.
What directors are endeavoring to determine is just where the parent companies stand and whether all deals that have been carried through in connection with subsidiaries with legal requirements, or if there is chance of their being blocked owing to the fact that necessary procedure was not adhered to. According to report, Hon. C.
J. Doherty, former Minister of Justice, is at the head of an organization that is reviving the entire undertakings of the company from its inception to the present day.

Sergeants' Memorial

As I have wended my way to work this winter I have noticed on a number of mornings that the wreath of sprigged poppies which was placed at the base of the Sergeants' Memorial on the anniversary of Armistice Day, November 11th, last year, would be blown from the base and lying in the snow some distance away, or else disappeared by being covered in the snow which fell the previous night.

Coming home at 1 p.m. I have a large number of times noticed the "wreath" in position at the base of the "memorial." The thought has come to me, "perhaps a mother or father whose son paid the supreme sacrifice has with loving hands, hunted 'amidst the treasures of the snow' for that wreath which is the symbol of sacrifice."

Then, again, I have noticed a number of wreaths, which have adorned the caskets of some of our dead comrades on their funeral day, placed afterwards at the base of the memorial. Surely a lesson can be learned within the shadow of that cross, for it is the symbol of Nid's cross of sacrifice and it points the path of duty to the 6,000 ex-service men who are scattered throughout the length and breadth of our island home.

Ours is a noble heritage, sealed with the blood of our 2,000 comrades who sleep in Flanders Fields. Our greatest asset is our honour and let us hope that Newfoundland, the smallest link in that great imperial chain of Empire, shall be the test whereby our Empire's strength is measured.

Let us who live within the "shadow of that cross" try to measure up to the high ideals of citizenship which is demanded of us, especially at this period.

Cheaper Milk

Recently, through the columns of the Evening Telegram, complaints have been made of the high cost of milk, and figures have been given to show that a considerable reduction is justifiable. By reference to our advertising columns to-day it will be seen that at least one distributor has seen the justice of the claim for cheaper milk and accordingly is reducing prices. The person referred to is the owner of Clovelly Farm.

Long Bay Road, his example could be well followed by others.

George's Day, April 23rd, under the Club's auspices, and a Card Party,
