Ir is said that Toronto Liberals will put three candidates in nomination at the con vention in Shaftesbury Hall on May 8.

THE Kincardine Review very properly objects to the Ontario Government being made responsible for the failure of the Dominion Administration to disallow the

An election for the Dominion Parliament takes place in Ottawa to-day. The city, owing to the large Dominion civil service vote, is largely Tory, but as there are three candidates running, it is hard to say how the contest will come out. The number of voters on the list is 9,253.

THE St. Marys Argus, in its last issue, "We had a call last week from Mr. Purdom, the Reform candidate for East Middlesex for the Local Legislature. He is a good live man, a good talker, and says he is going in to win. We shall be well pleased to learn of his election."

IT is now announced that one reason why so many Tory candidates are labeling themselves "independent" is because they ber the statement of leading organs of their party which have again and again asserted that "Mr. Meredith is a leader who does not lead."

ONCE in a while our Canadian Tory friends allege that Britain is going to the dogs because of her adherence to a low tax policy. This is a libel on the motherland. Though the population has doubled in the last 50 years, but 3 per cent. of the people are in receipt of poor relief. Before free trade became the policy of the country 12

THE Ontario elections will probably be held on a day not earlier than the 5th nor later than the 10th of May.—[Hamilton Spectator, April 25.

Try again. According to the law governing the election of a new Legislative Assembly, at least sixteen days must elapse between the date of the issue of the writs and the holding of the polls. Between 25th April and 10th May, how many days are there? Certainly not sixteen. And then we have not heard that the writs are dated yet. Perhaps the Spectator does not mean the month of May but some other month.

WHILE on all hands reasonable men are praising the temperance legislation recently passed by the Mowat Government, the Dominion Administration has decreed, and its servile supporters has indorsed the further encouragement of whisky-making in Canada, by giving the distillers what practically amounts to a bonus of 70 cents a gallon—about as much as the whisky costs them to produce. The Ontario Tory managers, of whom Mr. Meredith is the chief, are handn-glove with the bosses of the party at SIR CHARLES RUSSELL, the distinguished British Liberal, says the great principle which will have to be fought for in that country in the near future is "One man one Thanks to the progressive Governmens which has ruled Ontario for many years, we have the one man one vote principle, and we will have it in Dominion affairs as soon as the Liberals attain power there. By the way, the Tory majority in the House of Commons on Thursday night voted down the very fair proposition from the Liberal side that $250 should be the income earned to entitle a man to vote, and not $300, as now.

The intention of Provincial Treasurer Ross to retire from politics has been announced but two days, yet already there are enough supporters of the Government after the position to insure for Mowat a working majority if they are all successful in being returned.—[Toronto World.

papers which misrepresent the reasons for the retirement of the Provincial Treasurer, the retirement of the Provincial Treasurer, in order to make a political point. Mr. Ross will have a successor, and we do not doubt that he will be a good one.

THAT the Mowat Government has proved ton himself. That the Mowat Government has proved faithful to the principles of equal rights to all classes in the community is borne testi-mony to by every man who has studied the question from an unprejudiced point of view. Under these circumstances, we cannot see the necessity for the Tory Herald, of Walkerton, berating the president of but at all events the system is to have a the Equal Rights Association in Paisley for attending she Liberal Convention in Center Bruce and voting for the Liberal candidate.

He is no doubt fully considered that with oliver Mowat as Promise equal rights to all special privileges to case, will continue the rule. If a Tory Government were to obtain equivel of Ontario affairs, equal rights would only be granufized so long as the bosses at Ottawa were willing that they take charge a weak about is turn and buy passes.

and Clancy jump just as the strings are pulled by Macdonald.

THE Dominion Government persists in retaining the cumbrous, expensive and un-satisfactory Franchise Act on the statute book, but once more it has suspended the revision of the lists compiled under its provisions. This means that in the Interim elections which take place between now and all, the chief need of the average family is the next revision—probably it will not take place before 1892—many voters who have That cannot always be obtained even when place before 1892-many voters who have to their qualification will be entitled to good wages are paid to a domestic, for the vote, and hundreds of others in every constituency will be unable to go to the pay for work as a general servant is not polls because their names are not on the lists. How much better would it be to use the lists compiled every year by the municipal officers, as was do for nearly a quarter of a century after Confederation. Not one voice was raised against the municipal lists, and only when Sir John Macdonald thought he could use the lists, as he used his gerrymander of the constituencies to get an unrair advantage of his opponents, was the change made.

THE Chatham Banner points out that at the North Middlesex Tory Convention the orators were 'mute' as to separate schools, Jesuitism and French teaching, confining themselves to Mowat's exclusion regarding the tactics which the Tory bosses deem it expedient to pursue.

MR. CREIGHTON'S TWISTINGS. The managing editor of the Toronto Empire is a would-be Cabinet Minister, and of course all the powers of the journal he controls are directed towards strengthening controls are directed towards strengthening the his party in the country and weakening the scale would no doubt be put in charge of a Government. Mr. Creighton himself is a scale would no doubt be put in charge of a man of strength and experience, and that leading Orangeman, and much as he would like to use the clamors raised over the Jesuits' Estates Act to injure Mr. Mowat in the estimation of the Protestant electors of Ontario he dares not raise a voice openly in his journal against that act for fear of hurting the cause of Sir John Macdonald and the rest of his friends at Ottawa. Mr. Creighton knows very well that Sir John Macdonald could have disallowed the act if he saw fit to do so; he also knows that down to the time of that act coming up for consideration it was the settled policy of the Conservative Government at Ottawa to disallow any act they had a mind to, regardless of whether legislation upon the subject was within the competence of Provincial Legislatures or not. Mr. Mowat had no more to do with the Jesuits' Estates Act than the man in the moon; yet Mr. Creighton has a sneaking way of insinuating where he can-on the platform and through the journal he controls—that Mr. Mowat is unworthy of the confidence of the Protestant electors of Ontario because that act was passed and has not been disallowed. As far as he dares, Mr. Creighton is an Chieftain at Ottawa, nor hint that Sir John did anything else than a proper and consti-tutional thing in refusing to disallow the Jesuits' Estates Act at the bidding of Drangemen. Is it not notorious that Creighton attended the meeting of the Grand Lodge at Goderich last year, and there used all his art and cunning and perseverance to prevent the Grand Lodge from passing a vote of condemnation upon the Government at Ottawa because it had not disallowed the act? And is it not the fact that up to the present day the Empire has not dared to utter a word against Sir John Macdonald, or Sir John Thompson or Sir Hector Langevin for maintaining the constitutionality of the Jesuits Estates Act, nor even to speak a word in defense of Mr. Dalton McCarthy when attacked by the brave knights Langevin and Thompson? The Mail is absolutely correct in saying that the men who stand around Mr. Meredith, owe their first allegiance to Sir John Macdonald in this as well as in all other affairs, and that no well as in all other affairs, and that no matter what may happen in Ontario they will uphold the policy of Sir John. But will as friends of the Ministry concede this, while regretting that ill-health has compelled a capable, honored colleague of the Premier to retire from the public service. It is only disgruntled Tory newspapers which misrepresent the reasons for his connection with the "Facts for the Irish more to be depended on than Mr. Creigh

> KITCHEN REVOLUTION. Can it be that the domestic question is like many other knotty problems that bother modern households, to be solved by a system of co-operation? The ultimate outcome may or may not be satisfactory, should be. Messrs. Meredith, Creighton all the food, while a paid housekeeper attends to the details and service. satisfactory do these preliminaries appear to be that a similar establishment is already projected by residents in another portion of the city.

The working of the experiment will be watched with interest in many a tempest-tossed household, which has been compelled to wrestle with hired help difficulties. After necessarily a guarantee that she is able to do her work efficiently. In many cases, indeed, the general servant of to-day is poor cook, and it is a herculean task t undertake to teach her the business of mealpreparing. The trouble is that the average girl does not like the task of cookery. We may call it an art if we will, and we may manage to get and we may manage to get some girls to study it as a pastime, as a means of fitting them to oversee a house of their own; but the average young woman who is compelled by force of circu to become a help in a household rarely takes kindly to the kitchen. She does not like the details of the work, and where families are large and the serving of meals travagance and the denial of a surplus.

The reason is apparent. There are about 700 Catholic electors in the riding. In the adjoining constituency of West Middle-demestics through choice, but rather bedomestics through choice, but rather because it is the only employment immediately available, and they throw up their job at the earliest opportunity. Another sparate school racket is to be worked for the Tory policy all along the line. Don't you know that Sol. White is an "Independent" in Essex for the same reason as prompted the action of Mr. Creighton and his fellow-orators at Ailsa Craig. One has but to remember the silence of Mr. Meredith and all the Tory leaders during the dith and all the Tory leaders during the West Lambton campaign, so long as it was believed that the missionary work of Mr. Clancy would alone win the constituency, to reach a pretty sound constituency, to reach a pretty sound constituency to reach a pretty sound constituency. cannot be disguised that they have less liberty then their sisters in the world of ation of three or four meals a day. It would, in fact, transform the kitchen into a mere diswashing adjunct to the average residence, and leave the domestic nothing to do but keep the house tidy by sweeping and dusting, and incidentally to set the a pleasant outlook for the average servant of to-day. And in those houses where no servant is kept, either through choice, or through economy, the co-operative plan would prove equally welcome, because it would enable the hard-worked house-wife to give much more attention to her children and to the general details of house-management. Perhaps, too, the new system worked not as a co-operative boarding house but as a co-operative cooking estab-lishment, the requisite cooked meals being sent to each family, as ordered, would so far lighten the duties of the servant girl that she would be able, in most cases, to go to her own home every evening and return to her duties the following morning, as do workers in other employments. If that could be ac-complished one of the chief causes for the

Keep It Up, Gentlemen. It Does Us Good, Figures Won't Lie!

Notwithstanding the combined efforts of jealous rivals to put as under, we are out on top as usual. Look at the record for 1889. Policies issued for nearly $3,500,000. Not bad for a young company, you will say. True, it took some of the old fogies 10 years to write up the same amount. Why, we declined more applications last year than some of the other companies wrote up altogether. How do we account for it, you say. Well, we have plans to suit everybody. Our premium rates are as low as any other company. Our policy is the most liberal, being nearly unconditional; almost a simple promise to pay at death or maturity, as the case may be. The policy-holders are entirely free from all liability; but are, nevertheless, allowed to participate in the control of the Company's affairs and to monopolize nine-tenths (9-10) of the profits of the business. Each policy-holder has one vote for every $1.000 of insurance held by him in this Company. These privileges are secured by the act of incorporation.
