BRITISH PRESS PRAISE MINTO

For His Address Before the Chambers of Commerce.

CONGRESS HELPS CHAMBERLAIN

Westminster Gazette Says Many of the Speeches Were Frankly Protectionist.

London, Aug. 21.—In view of Lord Salisbury's critical condition it is noteworthy as an interesting coincidence that half a century ago tomorrow he was first elected to the House of Commons as member for Stamford. Lord Robert Cecil, as he was then, sat in the Commons until 1868, when he succeeded his father. He was three times Prime Minister of England. This morning's bulletin reports his condition unchanged.

The Congress of Chambers of Commerce of the Empire at Montreal has attracted very wide attention in commercial and political circles. Most of the large papers publish verbatim extracts from the debates, and all the press has devoted considerable space editorially to the transactions of the congress. Lord Minto's vigorous and eloquent speech at the banquet last night is quoted extensively, and mentioned complimentarily. Of the leading papers, the Times says that the compromise on trade resolutions was a frank admission of the existence of an imperial problem of a most vital importance. The declaration that it must be solved on the principle of mutual benefit to all parts of the empire shows that sectional interests have not marred the amity which should exist, and has existed at the meetings of the congress. Referring to Lord Minto's speech the Times says that it was an eloquent and emphatic utterance. His excellency showed that he is fully alive to imperial issues.

The Times today, speaking of the resolution dealing with the fiscal policy of the empire, prepared by the Congress of Chambers of Commerce of the Empire, at Montreal, says that it must be regarded as satisfactory by all who have at heart the promotion of an imperial fiscal policy. The Liverpool Post says: "The one definite feeling created is the earnest wish that the fiscal discussion may be got through in a more comprehensive and business-like manner at home than at Montreal." The St. James Gazette says that the language of the resolution undoubtedly gives valuable support to Mr. Chamberlain. The Globe says that Lord Minto's speech will rank as one of the most notable utterances of the fiscal controversy, and should be noted for careful persual by his brother, the financial secretary of the treasury. The Westminster Gazette says: "A great majority of the colonial speeches are frankly along protectionist lines." The Pall Mall Gazette thinks it is something to have gained the unanimous approval of such a gathering for a declaration which finally repudiates the theory of laissez-faire. The Daily Graphic regards these fiscal resolutions as opening of a way out of a difficult position for the Government, and says that there should be no difficulty in the way of a prompt acceptance of the terms of a resolution which should give satisfaction to all. The Graphic further expresses the hope that the Prime Minister will give an early decision in the matter of the royal commission. The Morning Post regards the compromise as a tribute to the influence of Lord Strathona as a peacemaker. It considers the resolution as a great step towards practical consideration of the greatest question that is now before the empire. It expresses the belief that the unanimous opinion of so representative a gathering will go forth to the whole empire and inaugurate a fiscal campaign.

Mr. Balfour's attitude on the question, it is anticipated, will take definite form at the conference of Conservative Associations, to be held on the 1st of October.

RAILWAYS AND THE RESTAURANT

The Upper House Discusses the Police Proceedings

AGAINST SENATE RESTAURANT

Senator Suggests a "District of Ottawa"—Exchequer Court and Railroad Debts.

Ottawa, Aug. 21.—In the Senate today Senator Lougheed drew attention to the reports of the police proceedings against the contractor for the Senate restaurant. It appeared to him inconsistent with the dignity of the Senate, and steps should be taken to regulate the conduct of the restaurant. Strangers should not be allowed to have access to the restaurant. He hoped steps would be taken to reform the matter.

Senator Scott entirely agreed with the expressions of Mr. Lougheed, and hoped that in future no strangers would be admitted.

Senator Bernier had no doubt that the magistrate was right in his decision. It was an anomaly that the provincial authorities could have authority over the Senate premises. There should be a district of Ottawa.

Senator Watson said there was a notice that only Senators should be admitted to the corridors.

Sir A. Pelletier said the committee had met and given notice of the strict enforcement of the rules. In this case a waiter who had been dismissed had obtained liquor on purpose to lay an information. The matter then dropped.

The bills respecting the certificates to masters and mates of ships and to incorporate the Alliance Bank of Canada were read a third time and passed.

The St. Chrysostome Railway bill and the bill for the relief of the Kelar Heater Company were read a second time and sent to committee. In regard to the latter, Senator Ferguson thought there should be explanations of these bills. It did not seem wise to pass special legislation to revive a patent which had died by legal process.

Senator Young said this was a case in which a patent was sold, but expired some few days before the purchasers were aware. The renewals should have been paid by the vendors. This was a case in which injustice would be done to the holders. Immediately on the discovery of the error steps were taken to secure legislation.

Senator Beique moved the second reading of the bill respecting the jurisdiction of the exchequer court as to railway debts. The object of the bill is to adopt such provisions as will provide for the appointment of receivers in cases of seizure and the management and sale of the railway in question.

Senator Casgrain (De Lanaudiere) drew attention to the very wide difference between this bill and the one it superseded. If it were to become law it should receive very close attention. Any railway which becomes a federal one came under the scope of this bill. The bill could be put in force if any part of a line were not operated for ten days. This was too short, as the collapse of a single bridge would effect a delay of that duration. It should be at least 30 days. He was informed that some special railway was aimed at by this bill. If so, it would be better to say so outright. He thought this special legislation ill-timed at a time when the General Railway Act was under consideration. According to this bill, the Winding Up Act would be made applicable to railways. The Railway Act protected bondholders, who would have an indefinable position under this act. The bill was self-condemnatory. Such legislation as this would render foreign bondholders very shy of investing in Canadian railways.

Senator Lougheed thought the bill did violence to an old-established principle, of priority of creditors. He also thought that financially it would militate against investments in railway bonds. There was not security enough to bondholders. The mischief that would be perpetrated by this legislation would be that creditors would oust the bondholders and get possession of the road.

Senator Beique pointed out that the bill came under the provisions of the railway act governing the issue of bonds. Under that act bondholders had to act conjointly through trustees. Whilst the interest of bondholders should be protected, those of the public should also be protected. This bill was intended to do this. There were several questions which should be considered in committee. The bill, though introduced by a private member in the Commons, had been adopted by the ministry.

Senator Ellis asked whether it was right to give a federal court jurisdiction in provinces which it had not at present.

Senator Scott said the railway committee would have that jurisdiction, anyhow.

Senator Ferguson called attention to an inaccuracy in the title. The bill was more than a bill respecting the jurisdiction of the exchequer court in railway debts, but in respect to railways generally.

The bill was read a second time.

The Senate went into committee on the bill to amend the act respecting the incorporation of boards of trade, which was reported, read a third time and passed.

The Senate then odjourned.

Distress After Eating

Nausea between meals, belching, vomiting, flatulence, fits of nervous headache, pain in the stomach, are all symptoms of dyspepsia, and the longer it is neglected the harder it is to cure it.

Hood's Sarsaparilla and Pills

Radically and permanently cure it—strengthen and tone the stomach and other digestive organs for the natural performance of their functions.

Accept no substitute for Hood's.

"My appetite was gone; nothing tempted me to eat, and what little I did eat felt annoying and unpleasant in my stomach. I tried many remedies without any benefit whatever. Finally, Hood's Sarsaparilla having been recommended, I began its use. After taking one bottle my stomach would retain food, and my appetite began to improve. After taking three bottles I was completely cured," WILLIAM ROSS, Wellington street, Sarnia, Ontario.

Hood's Sarsaparilla promises to cure and keeps the promise.

CANADIAN SKYSCRAPERS

American Trust to Start Operations in the Dominion.

Toronto, Aug. 22.—It was stated here yesterday that the George A. Fuller Construction Company of New York, one of the largest building contractors in the "Skyscraper Trust," have decided to enter the Canadian field as a competitor for the construction of buildings. Its first business in Canada will be the construction of an 11-story building in Winnipeg, for the Union Bank, the tenders for which were let to the Fuller Company at a recent meeting of the directors of the bank at the head office in Quebec. This building, which will be a steel structure, will be one of the finest of its kind in Canada. It is expected that the chief effect of the company in Canada will be that large buildings will be put up in less than half the time it now takes. This it is claimed will mean a big gain for the proprietors in rentals.

HORRORS AT KRUSHEVO

Atrocities Committed by the Conquering Turks.

Salonica, Aug. 22. — A correspondent at Monastir sends the following dispatch under Thursday's date: "When the Bulgarian bands entered Krushevo they occupied the Greek quarter, hoisting their flag over a Greek house. The Turkish troops arrived on Aug. 12. All the Komitajis have already come, except about 400 local men. Although no shot was fired from the town the Turks commenced a bombardment which was continued throughout Aug. 13. The shelling destroyed 350 houses, 215 shops and all the fine, large, Greek and Wallachian houses. The Greek Church and school were destroyed. The Bulgarian quarter escaped.

"The Turks entered the town Aug. 14, pillaged all the houses, assaulted many of the women, stripped many persons naked, and killed about three hundred local Bulgarians, and also 60 innocent Greeks and Vlachs. About 8,000 people are homeless and starving. The material damage done amounts to several million francs.

"The Turks on Aug. 19 massacred two hundred Bulgarians who surrendered at a village near Monastir."
