

If the blood is poor and filled with the poisons from diseased kidneys or inactive liver, the heart is not only starved but poisoned as well. There are many conditions due to impure blood—such as dropsy, fainting spells, nervous debility or the many scrofulous conditions, ulcers, "fever-sores," white swellings, etc. All can be overcome and cured by

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery

This supplies pure blood—by aiding digestion, increasing assimilation and imparting tone to the whole circulatory system. Its a heart tonic and a great deal more, having an alternative action on the liver and kidneys, it helps to eliminate the poisons from the blood. To enrich the blood and increase the red blood corpuscles, thereby feeding the nerves on rich red blood and doing away with nervous irritability, take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and do not permit a dishonest dealer to insult your intelligence with the "just as good kind." The "Discovery" has 40 years of cases behind it and contains no alcohol or narcotics. Ingredients plainly printed on wrapper.

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of wrapping and mailing only. Send 50 one-cent stamps for the French cloth-bound book. Address: Dr. R.V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

THE AUTHENTIC LEE.

His Two Master Spirits Were Lofty Pride and Fierce Enthusiasm.

Under the habitually unruffled composure of that ocean of reserve and dominated, as I believe, by two master spirits, lies the authentic Lee. And what were those master spirits which, blind to facts and deaf to reason, drove him on from Farmville? Were they creations of his own? No, not at all. Nature herself had planted them. And what were they? One, an all pervading, unconscious pride, a pride not sordid or arrogant, but lofty; the other, diffused through his whole being and pulsing in every vein, a burning, even fierce, enthusiasm.

These, in my judgment, were the ingrained, controlling temperamental qualities in Robert E. Lee which determined his fate. The former could not stand the humiliation of being overthrown completely in a cause he believed right; the latter converted him at danger's first challenge, as was again and again displayed in the field, into a prompt and inveterate fighter.

As, for instance, at Antietam, although he had met and stood off McClellan, yet with such carnage that it was in effect a defeat, still for a day after the battle he held his ground among his dead, resolutely challenging his adversary to come on if he dared.

So, too, he stood for a day at Gettysburg after his frightful repulses, inviting Meade to attack, and when with his bleeding army he reached the flooded Potomac, with every bridge swept away, undismayed he turned his back on the raging stream and, planting his colors, defiantly bade the Army of the Potomac to strike.

Who can forget, too, how quickly he accepted Hooker's gaze of battle in the Wilderness and how a year later—the violets were just in bloom again for the first time on the blood stained ground of Gettysburg—he plunged at Grant?

No eagle that ever flew, no tiger that ever sprang, had more natural courage, and I will guarantee that every field he was on, if you ask it about him, will speak of the unquelling battle spirit of his men. Be not deceived—Lee, notwithstanding his poise, was naturally the most belligerent man at the head of any army in the war.—Morris Schaff in Atlantic.

A NAVAL REBUKE.

Two Admirals, a Captain and a Fool in Manila Bay.

When Dewey's fleet was at Manila the late Admiral Clichester was then a captain. On one occasion Admiral Diederichs, the German, sent out the Irene on an unrevealed errand and without the customary notification to the commander of the blockading fleet.

Admiral Dewey had suffered, he thought, sufficiently from that sort of thing, and so the admiral sent a vessel across the Irene's bows and notified her captain that she would not be permitted to depart without a statement as to her destination.

It was not Admiral Diederichs' mission to quarrel with both the American and the English fleets on this critical occasion, so he sought to find out Captain Clichester's purpose in case of a collision. Going on board Clichester's ship, he angrily exclaimed, "Did you see what Dewey did to my ship?"

"Yes," replied Clichester. "What would you have done if it had been an English ship?"

"Well," said Clichester, conventionally assuming that the Irene's captain had sailed without orders from Diederichs, "I'd have put my captain in arrest, and then I'd have gone on board the Olympia and apologized to Admiral Dewey for having such a fool in command of one of my ships."—Harper's Weekly.

Sweden Aids Its Athletes.

Sweden is the only country in which the practice of athletics among adults is state aided. The Swedish National Union of Athletes has since its foundation received an annual subsidy of 20,000 crowns ($5,400) from the government. The union bestows gold, silver and bronze badges on all who attain a certain standard in athletics. In order to encourage the continuance of training in later life these badges are bestowed according to age as well as proficiency. The gold badge can be secured only by men over thirty-two who can swim 200 meters, take a long jump of five meters, put the weight sixteen meters and run ten kilometers in fifty minutes. This performance has to be repeated annually in order to retain the badge.

Mother Was Right.

It was at the dinner table, and the hostess addressed her husband's brother thus: "Do have another piece of pie, William?" "Why, really, I've already had two. But it's so good I believe I will have another." "Ha, ha! Mother's a winner!" said little Frank excitedly. "She said she'd bet you'd make a pig of yourself."—Harper's Magazine.

His Little Scheme.

"Going to Wombat's dinner party?" "Guess so. Why is he announcing that reporters will be rigidly excluded?"

"That's his scheme to get the affair well written up."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

A Curious Canal.

Between Worsley and St. Helens, in the north of England, is the most remarkable canal in the world. It is underground from end to end and is sixteen miles long. In Lancashire the coal mines are very extensive, half the country being underlined, and many years ago the Duke of Bridgewater's managers thought they could save money by transporting the coal underground instead of on the surface. The canal was constructed and the mines connected and drained at the same time. Ordinary canalboats are used, but the power is furnished by men. On the roof of the tunnel arch are crosspieces, and the men do the work of propulsion by lying on their backs on the coal and pushing with their feet against the crossbars on the roof.

An Expensive Drop.

Mr. Hiram Jones had just returned from a personally conducted tour of Europe. "I suppose," commented a friend, "that when you were in England you did as the English do and dropped your H's?"

"No," moodily responded the returned traveler, "I didn't. I did as the Americans do. I dropped my V's and X's."

Then he slowly meandered down to the bank to see if he couldn't get the mortgage extended.—Lippincott's.

The Doubtful One.

Spurgeon was once asked if the man who learned to play a cornet on Sunday would go to heaven.

The great preacher's reply was characteristic. Said he, "I don't see why he should not, but"—after a pause—"I doubt whether the man next door will."—London Tit-Bits.

Today.

Live today as though it was the only day you had to live. This is the secret of the forceful life, the life of vitality and beauty, the only life that is worth while.

There is a great secret in knowing what to keep out of the mind as well as what to put in.—Emerson.

BILIOUSNESS BURDENS LIFE.—The bilious man is never a companionable man because his ailment renders him morose and gloomy. The complaint is not so dangerous as it is disagreeable. Yet no one need suffer from it who can procure Parmelee's Vegetable Pills. By regulating the liver and obviating the effects of bile in the stomach they restore men to cheerfulness and full vigor of action.

The name of the new municipality above Walkerville is Ford Park. It takes about five hundred acres of land in the Township of Sandwich East. Ford Park will immediately join Walkerville, extending along the river front for about one mile and a half. The new municipality receives its name from the plant of the Ford Motor Company. Village officers will be elected the first Monday in January. To provide for the election the county council will name a returning officer at a special session on Dec. 2nd, and the by-law incorporating the village will be passed at the regular county session in January. Following the incorporation steps will be taken to provide for police and fire protection and improved streets.
