

east side and in Rocky Mountains.—Sir Rodk. Murchison's opinion.—Vast beds of lignite coal extending along the base of the mountains.—Form and natural divisions by river systems, and their areas.—General features as to elevation.—Gradual ascent of plain to Rocky Mountains.—Character and elevation of them.—Glacier nucleus at sources of Saskatchewan, Athabasca and River Columbia.—Height of the interior.—Is an elevated basin, bounded on three sides by higher grounds.—Is a thousand feet lower than U. S. territory adjoining.—Prairie lands prevail over woods in south parts, and woods over prairie in north . . . . . 30

CHAPTER VIII.

CENTRAL PRAIRIE COUNTRY CONTINUED—LAKE AND RIVER WINNIPEG, LAKE OF THE WOODS, RED RIVER, AND COUNTRY BETWEEN THEM.

Lake Winnipeg, position, dimensions and elevation.—Divides Silurian and Laurentian formations.—Character of its navigation and navigable extent of tributaries connected with it.—River Winnipeg, extent.—Equal to the Rhine in volume.—Lake of the Woods.—Rough country below it on River Winnipeg.—Fertile patches.—Fort Alexander in large fertile tract at mouth.—Flat country between Lake of the Woods and Red River.—Extensive shallow marshes near the lake; are undrained prairies.—Descent to Red River.—Country generally marshy.—Wooded till near it.—Red River.—Length.—Navigation.—Rich alluvial prairie—far on each side.—Timber along its banks . . . . . 37

CHAPTER IX.

CENTRAL PRAIRIE COUNTRY CONTINUED—RIVER ASSINIBOINE—INFERTILE REGION ON ITS BRANCHES, THE SOURIS AND QU'APPELLE.

River Assiniboine—Description of its course.—Small volume of it and its tributaries, Souris and Qu'Appelle, and the cause. Great Infertile Region on Souris and Qu'Appelle, generally destitute of wood. Has apparently extensive, partly wooded, and fertile tracts in it.—Description of them. . . . 41

CHAPTER X.

CENTRAL PRAIRIE COUNTRY CONTINUED—FERTILE REGION ON THE ASSINIBOINE.

Rich alluvial prairie of Red River, extends 70 miles up the Assiniboine to Sand Hills.—Fertile land above them on right hand, and infertile on left, for 150 miles up.—Then rich and beautiful country on both sides of vast extent and partially wooded, reaching north to wooded country near Main Saskatchewan, and from Riding and Duck Mountains westward, to and over the Torchwood Hills, described in detail.—It joins great fertile region on Main and North Branch of Saskatchewan . . . . . 46

Wheat and In-ver Canada for
or cultivation,
.—Water com-
ritory.—Errors
..... 9

vegetation.—
..... 20

Coal and time.—South half
River McKen-
ies.—Sir Alex.
lignite coal.—
rts of Vologda
..... 22

y, but United
d other ranges
xtreme cold of
—Temperatures
ks with Mon-
tle inland and
ndian cultiva-
ld fields, and
..... 26

PEACE RIVER

ada.—Import-
f great central
imestone along