

the republic of letters. Of the eminent writers who have graced its pages, may be mentioned the following: Professor Wilson, better known as Christopher North, its renowned editor; Dr. Warren, the graphic and brilliant author of the "Diary of a late Physician," and of "Ten Thousand a year," works which have been so extensively popular in a republished form; R. P. Gillies, Anster, Lockhart, James, Lytton Bulwer, Dr. Maginn, Sydney Smith, and the author of "Tom Cringle's Log," "Cruise of the Midge," &c., works which have been the delight of thousands of readers.

It is at this time unusually attractive from the serial works of Bulwer and of other distinguished writers, which grace its pages as original contributions, appearing first in this Magazine, both in the British and American Editions. By an arrangement with the British Publishers early sheets of the Magazine are regularly forwarded to this country so as to enable the American Publishers to issue their reprint before the original edition arrives.
