

edge, seemed to me remarkable. Nearly always, when I went to see her, it was in her hands, or lying open near her on the table, and I cannot help feeling that the Prayer Book itself, without help from other devotional books, was, through the grace of Our Lord, the means of "bringing her peace at the last."

On the following Sunday, October 25th, Mr. Edward Price died at the very advanced age of 91 years. He was one of the early settlers of Little Gaspé, where most of his life had been spent, though of late years he lived with his married daughter in this neighbourhood. His constitution must have been most remarkable. Except in his limbs and hearing, there seemed to be no failing of health even up to the last; no sickness, no pain, sight good, mind clear and steady as ever, and his countenance the picture of health—I had almost said of youth: so he died, and no name could be given to the cause of his death. He was a good Churchman, had periodically received the Holy Communion from me, and, for the last time, a few days before his death.

WATERVILLE.

Extensive repairs and improvements have been made in St. John's Church, namely, two sides clapboarded over felt paper, four buttresses added on each side, chimney and steps raised and repaired, new floor laid, walls and ceiling sheathed over the old plastering in ash and basswood, new doors, new windows of gothic shape, filled with lead frames and Cathedral tinted glass with ornamental borders and central emblems of the Holy Spirit, of the four Evangelists and of the Episcopal and Pastoral offices. The chancel triplet has long had a beautiful picture of the Good Shepherd in memory of the builders of this Church in 1845, Reverend C. P. Reid being then the Missionary. The vestry has been moved to the corner on the right of the entrance, seats for the choir, prayer-desk and pulpit are put in their customary places. In the Church-yard and grave-yard grading has been done.

Much credit is due to all concerned in these most satisfactory changes for the better.
