VOCATIONS TO THE PRIESTHOOD AND TO THE RELIGIOUS ORDERS.

“It is proved beyond doubt,” as Father Ramière, author of the Apostleship of Prayer, said many years since, that the triumph of the Church alone and the complete reintegration of her benign influence over the souls of men can rescue Europe, and with Europe the rest of the world, from a barbarism all the more to be dreaded as the material forces at its command are the more irresistible.” But while serious minds find weighty reasons for apprehending much evil for the cause of true civilization and the welfare of souls, it is not the less true, that from another point of view, the reasons which encourage hope, grounded as they are on the very laws of Divine Providence, seem to us so forcible, that we cannot but recall the Saviour’s consoling words: Alibi sunt regi-
