JUBILEE YEAR.

Preparations for Jubilee year are going forward in the Eternal City, The following are among the most prominent events which will take place during its course. The Holy Year commences on December 24th, with the solemn opening of the walled-up Porta Santa in St. Peter's, which ceremony will probably be per' formed by the Sovereign Pontiff in person with the golden trowel and hammer presented to him for the coccasion. A Consistory is also to be held, when various Cardinals now reserved in petto will be proclaimed Then the splendid ceremony of a canorisation will be four times repeated, for as many as four beati, or beatified, will be raised to the highest honors of the altar in remembrance of the Jubilee Year, and to inaugurate the new century. It can be seen from this short resume of only a few of the Papal ceremonies of 1900 that the pilgrims to Rome in the coming year will be more than rewarded for their journey to the City of Peter to gain the indulgences of the Jubilee Year. Pilgrimages without end are announced, and there are few countries throughout the Catholic world who will not send their representatives to the

She Tells Other Girls How They Can Be Healthy, and How a Fair Complexion Can Be Secured—An Interesting Account of Her Experience.

Men say that women are vain. Who can blame them? Men are vain, too. Everybody wants to be good-looking. Handsome features are due to good health. A strong, vigorous girl or woman must necessarily be free of female troubles. Diseases of girls and women rob them of their beauty. A pallid, nervous, pale, weak, thin girl or wo-man cannot be attractive. She cannot expect to have admirers. Men admire womanly women. They are attracted by fair complexions and graceful figures. A wise man selects a healthy woman as his bride. He knows there will be no happiness for either himself or his wife if the latter be weighed down with leucorrhoea, falling of the womb, nervousness, headache, backache and irregularities. He knows the children of such a union are apt to inherit the disposition and weaknesses of the mother.

Dr. Coderre's Red Pills are a really wonderful medicine. They are far bet-ter in their action and last longer than liquid medicines sold at $1, and still they cost only 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50. There are fifty pills in a box, and they are never sold by the dozen, or hundred, or at 25 cents a box. There are many imitations and counterfeits of which you should beware. They are all worthless and will not do you a bit of good, and are apt to do serious injury.
