

Government for their general policy, denouncing especially Sir John Macdonald and Chapleau as being the most bloodthirsty enemies of the French Canadian people; furthermore accusing Sir John Macdonald with being the great leader of the Orangemen &c., &c., and said that it was to the interest of the French Canadian farmers at once to do away with this Orange leader and to effect an alliance with Mr. Blake, the enemy of secret societies;

That in the course of his remarks he further stated: "That as for himself although employed by a Conservative Government he was not afraid of losing his salary of one thousand dollars for expressing his opinion and denouncing the evil conduct of the Conservatives, more especially in the Riel matter. Furthermore that he expected that Mr. Ives would call him to account for his conduct in this election, but that nothing would be done to him, it was his patriotism which would bring him safely through."

I make this solemn declaration solemnly believing the same to be true, under the Act passed in the 37th year of Her Majesty's reign, intituled "An Act for the suppression of Voluntary and Extra-judicial Oaths."

We, Joseph Tétu, blacksmith, and Ernest Gouin, farmer, both of the Township of St. Camille, solemnly declare as follows:—

That we know Mr. Rémi Tremblay of Stoke Centre, employed by the House of Commons at Ottawa as translator of the Hansard Debates.

That the said Rémi Tremblay took an active part in the last election for the House of Commons, especially in the Electoral Division of Richmond and Wolfe, supporting Mr. Greenshields the Liberal candidate.

That we met the said Rémi Tremblay in a public political meeting, which took place here in St. Camille, on or about the 13th February last, where from eighty to 100 electors were assembled. At that meeting there were also present Mr. Ives the Conservative candidate, Mr. Mulvena, advocate, of Sherbrooke, Mr. Patrick Brady, and J. Picard, M.P.P., from Wotton, all working in the interests of Mr. Ives.

At that meeting Mr. Tremblay, finding himself the only representative of his side, took occasion to make three speeches, by which he violently denounced the Conservative Government, attacking among others Sir John A. Macdonald and Chapleau as being the most bloodthirsty enemies that the French-Canadian race possessed. And that as for himself he was employed under the Government, but that he did not fear to risk his salary of one thousand dollars per annum, in order to express his sentiments and denounce the evil conduct of the Conservatives, especially in the Riel matter;

Further, that he expected that Mr. Ives would call him to account for his action in this election, but that nothing would be done to him, his patriotism would carry him safely through.

We make this solemn declaration conscientiously believing the same to be true, under the Act passed in the 37th year of Her Majesty's reign and intituled: "An Act for the suppression of Voluntary and Extra-judicial Oaths."
