

Sir Arthur Currie.

in addition to other English shipments, it will be impossible to store these books in the Library for the present, especially as the shipping room will be used as a passage during the moving of the contents of the Library. Will it be possible to have them at least temporarily placed elsewhere ?

Faithfully yours,

P. R. Lomer.

---

University Librarian.