Foreign goods exported to the United States, to be entitled to the same drawback of duty, and subject to the same regulations, as if exported to foreign parts.

30. And be it enacted, &c. That all goods of the growth, production, or manufacture of parts beyond the seas, which have been imported into Great Britain, whether entitled to draw back the whole, or any part of the duty paid on importation, or that have paid no duty inwards, or that the time allotted for drawing back the duty is elapsed, may be (except otherwise directed by this act) exported to the said United States, or the territories thereof, under the like regulations, and entitled to the same drawback of duty, as if the said goods were exported by British subjects to any foreign parts beyond the seas, otherwise than that all securities taken on the exportation thereof, and necessary to be discharged by certificate, shall be only done by certificate under the hand and seal of the British consul, vice-
