

Advertisements.

THE
NATURALISTS' JOURNAL:

A Magazine of Natural Science.

Edited by A. FORD and S. L. MOSLEY, F.E.S.,

Assisted by a Staff of Specialists.

“THE NATURALISTS' JOURNAL” is now the cheapest and most popular magazine of Natural Science in the world. The price is only 2d. monthly, and it comprises 36 pages well-printed on fine paper and adorned with many high-class illustrations. The Annual Subscription for all countries in the Postal Union is only 2/6 (60 cents U.S. currency).

Volume IV. commenced January, 1895. It contains articles on all branches of Natural History, Records and Observations, Notes and News, Correspondence, Reports of the principal Natural History Societies and Field Clubs, Book Reviews, Free Exchange Column, &c., &c.

ECONOMIC NATURAL HISTORY forms an especial feature. The name of Mr. MOSLEY, who is so well-known for his work in this direction, is a sufficient guarantee for the practical nature of this department.

All communications, subscriptions or advertisements should be sent to THE EDITORS OF “THE NATURALISTS' JOURNAL,” ECONOMIC MUSEUM, HUDDERSFIELD.

“THE NATURALISTS' JOURNAL” may be ordered through any Newsagent in the United Kingdom.

LONDON:

ELLIOT STOCK,

62, PATERNOSTER Row, E.C.