

le it even more
whom he called
r was appointed
uties of another
n and Children.
fully completed.

dical School was
was first entered Department of
ed a majority of
ented a Building
der the old name
this name" until Medical Faculty
of 1887. Very h in 1856, they Medicine," and from continuing
of the Court was
n Counsel), and
ol of Medicine"
have been made legally entered

ctor Rolph were
ph's School," as ical Department
ords, "Common-
ar to year, with favour—year by anada. Having
ar Doctor Rolph
a great Medical

Students of the ctor Rolph with his labours.

n such occasions
hat the generous prehend, though
ur too kind and

feelingly appre-
areer, and much
a of your future

to give a fresh sely done my
is inseparable,
orious progress,
arduous position
others who will

so ably contribute to your onward movement, for the consummation of your high reward.

I warmly participate in your feelings respecting our past labours and your meritorious predecessors; and it will be my future happiness and care to see you and your successors welcomed abroad with the same honourable emulation and trustworthy acquirements.

I again thank you, from the bottom of my heart, for this last token of your esteem as pupils; and I trust that the same feelings will continue to animate us in any future relations in the sphere of professional life.

At the conclusion of the presentation, addresses were given by Rev. George R. Sanderson, Rev. Enoch Wood, Mr. J. C. Geikie, Professors Doctors Taylor, and Geikie, and Mr. J. G. Hodgins.