

June 5th, 1866.

Leader Extra.

1st EDITION

The Reported Landing of Fenians at Bayfield.

No crossing into Lower Canada.

NEWS FROM BUFFALO.

Threatened Raid by Water on Port Colborne.

Fessenden Goes to Intercept the Raiders.

All Quiet at Prescott.

The Queens Own goes to Stratford.

A Suspicious Vessel at Goderich.

BUFFALO, June 5.

Every thing is quiet here at present. There are rumors of an intended raid on Port Colborne by a gun boat. Fessenden, of the United States navy, has gone up the lake to prevent this attempt if it should be made.

A writ of habeas corpus has been issued on behalf of the Fenian officers.

The matter is now under judicial discussion in court house.

PRESOTT, June 5.

All is quiet there.

TORONTO, June 5.

Telegrams from Lower Canada deny that any crossing had been made in that section.

Two telegrams from the west report a landing of Fenians at Bayfield. One places the numbers at 6,000 and the other says there is a large body. A subsequent telegram denies this rumor, and there is every reason to believe that it is not correct, or that if any have been landed the number is insignificant.

A despatch from Goderich reports the appearance of a suspicious looking vessel off that town.

Three hundred and sixty stand of arms with ammunition, have been served out to the Grand Trunk railway volunteer regiment.

The Queens Own have been ordered to Stratford, and are already on the way.

Two men of the Uxbridge company of volunteers were injured near Newtonville by coming in contact with a railway bridge. It is very necessary that greater caution should be exercised by the volunteers on the train. They should know that it is dangerous to get on the tops of trains and to stand on the platforms.

WATERTOWN, June 5, 11:45 A. M.

Large bodies of Fenians are constantly passing through here on their way north by every train. Destination not known. United States troops are coming and any attempt of the Fenians to cross will be stopped.