There was considerable short took and the sale of the close of the market broke sharply on account of the reported failure in Philadelphia, which was officially denied after the close.

Charles W. Gillett to Peter J. Morgan at the close of the market:

Wheat—The money market conditions were again the principal feature of the grain markets. Notwithstanding that illustropiol was 4d up and Antwerp 5 up, placing our market in a position to do an enormous export business, foreign buyressent conditions. Some 30 loads were worked at the seaboard, but the pressure to sell futures continued during most of the seession. Prices may be said to have held remarket by well and the world's situation in wheat is strong, but it is hardly to be

Corn—Cables were %c to ½c up and, considering the condition surrounding the market, prices were remarkably, well maintained. Cash was ½c to lc lower, but husking returns from various states showed a deficient quantity and a very low quality. Receipts are falling off and as soon as the money market assumes a normal appearance, we look to see corn sell higher and purchases of May at 59c should involve only a moderate risk.

Oats—Market sympathized closely with other grains, but was without feature. Cash market about ½c to lc lower and dull.

An honest looking young man, about 23 years of age, giving the name of Charles Wilson, entered the office of Principal Warner of the local business college on Friday, and said he wanted to take a college course, and asked the principal to go to the bank and identify him. Together they went to the Canadian Bank of Commerce, where Mr. Warner introduced the stranger to Mr. Cowdry, accountant, who has been acting manager during it the absence of the local manager, Mr. Connolly.

Wilson produced a cheque for $300, and the absence of the local manager, Mr. Connolly.

Wilson produced a cheque for $300, and the National Bank. This he deposited to his credit in the bank, but at once drew out $175 for current expenses. Then he paid Mr. Warner $50 for tuition fee.

The young man then made his way to McLaren & Co.'s store, where he purchased a new outfit, which cost im $34. For this he tendered a cheque. The firm telephoned to the bank, asking if the cheque was all right, and received a favorable reply, and the stranger departed with the purchases. W. W. Tyrrill, jeweler, was next induced to part with a ward watch valued at $55, accepting a cheque to Buffslo for collection it was 62.

THE COMPANY will manufacture a full line of all kinds of wheel rigs, viz.: Baby Carriages, Go-Carts, Folding Go-Carts, Boys' Express Wagons, Rowing Wagons, Autopedes, Toy Carriages, Sleighs, and a line of Reed and Rattan Furniture.

There is to-day only one concern in Canada manufacturing this line of goods complete, and there are over one hundred in the United States. A very large percentage of the goods consumed in Canada are at present imported from the United States, against which we have a Protective Tariff of 35 per cent. The Canadian market for this product is, therefore, assured. The Company will also manufacture a high-class Patent Wheel which surpasses all others in style, finish, durability and price. This is not an experiment—these goods have had a thorough test for 13 years on the American market with remarkable success. The United States concern tripled its capacity in 1007.

$211,400 of this stock has already been subscribed. The balance, $38,600, we are offering for sale, being 386 shares. par value, $100 each. This is preferred, cumulative, participating 7 per cent. per annum dividend stock. Its earning power is therefore unlimited.

Both the Canadian and American manufacturers paid large dividends in 1907.
