ROSE DAY CANVASS RESPONSE IS GOOD, BUT RETURNS WILL NOT, IT IS EXPECTED, REACH 1914 MARK

Aid in Sale of Plague Defying Flowers.

Six o'clock by sun time, and 7 o'clock by daylight-saving time, scores of young matrons, fresh as the June orning in their white frocks, were out on the streets, looking for Rose Day business. Over the arm of each was slung an attractive dull green basket, filled to overflowing with deeptoned little pink roses. Before long, the roses were being transferred to lapels of coats and fronts of summer lapels of coats and fronts of summer frocks and blouses, and the coin was beginning to jingle in tin boxes. It was the beginning of the returns which will mean the continuance, for a considerable period, of the work of the Women's Sanatorium Aid of London for the tubercular poor of London. It was the beginning of the returns which mean visiting nurses, proper clothing, bedding and nourishing food, fuel for the winter, where necessary, and care for the whole family when the bread-winner is laid aside by the grim white

It is believed, owing to wa conditions, and the many calls upon the conditions and the many will fell conpublic, that the amount will fall cor siderably below that of four years ago, some $4,000. The last rose day was held in the early autumn of 1914, after only one patriotic tag day and before an appeal of any extent had been made to the public for the manifold forms of patriotic relief work that have since presented themselves. In the meantime the need goes on for the work of health, healing and relief for which the Women's Sanatorium Aid stands.

A DECORATED GUN

This gun won the Croix-de-Guerre. Isolated and camouflaged on a lonely hill this gun was planted to wait for German gothas. It waited its chance for weeks, and then one day, high in the air, came a solitary German scout about two miles off. Crash went the gun. It was a miracle—a direct hit! And the French were so pleased they gave the gun the Croix-de-Guerre for its feat.

How You Can Get More Money For Your WOOL

When I discovered many years ago the great difference between the amount of money the Farmer usually received from the peddler or small dealer for his wool, and the price at which the peddler or dealer sold the wool to us;

I was amazed, Of course nearly all the wool eventually comes to ourselves and a few large dealers-but the greater number of hands thro' which it has to travel the smaller the price the farmer receives as each one has to have a profit.

Consequently it seemed to me good business to deal directly with the farmer and pay him the much higher prices which we used to pay to the peddlers and middlemen-thus eliminating the peddler and middleman to a great degree.

By shipping direct to us the Farmer secures a very much higher price for his wool which in a good many cases means a profit instead of a loss to him.

The satisfaction expressed by the many Farmers who shipped their wool direct to us for many years is so great that I am en-couraged to continue the same policy to a greater extent this year.

For over 30 years I have been buying wool and know the market from A to Z. Before selling your wool this season don't fail to write me first for prices, stating the number and breed of sheep you have. The Farmers who ship to me receive their eash in full by return mail-at highest Toronto prices—with no deductions except transportation costs.

Dunlop and Auto History

Practically speaking the automobile has been in existence in Canada only since 1903.

¶ Years before that we made hundreds of thousands of tires for the bicycle.

And since that time we have made hundreds of thousands of tires for the automobile, until the manufacture of Dunlop Auto Tires-"Traction," "Special," "Plain"—has become a big industry in itself. To you it is as important that Dunlop preceded the automobile as it is that Dunlop grew with it-became an every-day factor in this new utility of the nation.

The automobile knows no better running matethan Dunlop Tires.
